Rams Open Season Friday At Helena

The Franklin Rams open the 1966 football season Friday night as they meet the Helena Hornets at Timberlake. Franklin High School Principal D. M. Sowers reported this morning that a special request had been made to the N. C. High School Athletic Association for permission to play the game even though Franklin school opening has been delayed.

Sowers said he felt certain the game would be played as scheduled. Coach Stan Bowles reported that likely starters for Friday's opener will be: Dennis Carter HB; David Secor QB; Jim Hefner HB; Charles Goswick FB; Mike Collins E; Gordon Wilder G; Wayne Forsythe T; Freddie Coats E; Brooks Bennett C; Andrew Frazier G; and one tackle position was unannounced.

The Rams lost to the Hornets last year 8-0 on a blocked kick and a sustained Helena drive of sixty yards for the TD. The two teams have met every year since 1959. Franklin has won three of the games and the Hornets have won five. The worst shelling the Rams have given the Hornets came in 1960 when Franklin gained a 46-6 win. In 1964 the Hornets downed the Rams 21-0 for their largest edge.

Coach Dave Hodge of the Hornets reports his squad has 33 members in an early season report and the Hornets have made improvements on their playing field. The Hornet Club, headed by Floyd Hicks, has installed new bleachers and a chain fence. The visitor side will seat 400 to 500 people.

McGhee's car tangled with one driven by Jack Jones of Franklin coming out of the final turn of the race. McGhee straightened out and held onto his second place, but the car driven by Jones rolled several times. He escaped serious injury despite the fact that his safety belt pulled loose in the crash.

Davis Takes Win At Franklinton

Franklinton - Benny Davis of Haw River took his fifth feature win of the year here Wednesday night, beating out David Massey of Burlington in the feature race for late model Sportsman cars. Third place went to Glenn Simpkins of Raleigh, fourth to Roy Murphy of Durham, and fifth to David Trawick of Raleigh.

The first Hobby heat race was won by Fogleman with Ernie McBroom of Hillsborough second and Dease third. In the second heat McGhee was the winner with Lloyd second, and C. D. Nichols of Durham third.

Allen Person, left, who did much of the work on No. 21 shown in the background, and Fouts Arnold, driver who finished seventh in the Sportsman Division race at Franklinton Wednesday night, are shown above. Both men are from Louisburg and have recently joined the growing number of Franklin County racers participating in the Speedway events.

store around 10 a.m. Monday. An argument resulted and the Negroes were ordered to leave. Foster reportedly told the three boys that he was going to return and kill Shearon. He and the three youths returned to the Shearon store around 2 p.m. and Shearon, according to Foster's story, again ordered Foster to leave. He reportedly said that he was pushed by Shearon.

At that time, and standing near an open drink box, Foster reportedly said he hit the 63-year-old groceryman with a cleaver-type knife which Foster had tucked under his shirt. The blow struck Shearon on the forehead. Foster continued the assault, according to the report, until Shearon was downed.

Board held back the final decision. It was announced Saturday and again Monday that school opening would not be delayed. However, at the special meeting on Tuesday, with five members of the nine-member Board in attendance, the vote was unanimous for delaying the opening of schools.

Dement, who had gone without sleep for most of the time since the crime occurred, expressed his appreciation to the Franklin County Sheriff's Department, the State Bureau of Investigation, the State Highway Patrol, the Louisburg Rescue Service, private citizens who aided, to all who called in information and to his own department, including auxiliary policemen for their assistance in the investigation. Mayor V. A. Peoples expressed the appreciation of the town to "all concerned."

The suspect in one of the worst crimes in the area in many years reportedly told officers there was only $5.00 in the cash registers and no money at all in the two billfolds taken from Shearon's body. The billfolds and a cash box were found earlier by officers and Foster told where he had hidden them.

The controversy began last week when a four-man team from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare visited Franklinton to "aid the Board complying to the HEW guidelines." Several meetings between the Board and the Washington officials ended with a watered down request that the two seventh grades be moved from the Negro school to the predominantly white Franklinton High School. A petition bearing 584 names was presented to the Board Saturday afternoon urging that the Board not agree to the transfer of the classes which would have resulted in the addition of about 75 more Negro students in the white school.

and entering the M and O-Dinette on South Main Street here. He reportedly stole $4.00. On March 31, 1966, he was charged with entering the home of Maxine Moore, a Negro neighbor, and taking an undisclosed amount of money. He was placed in the custody of his mother by Knott, "subject to further orders of the court."

His principal's prediction apparently had come true. His return was indeed a tragedy.

County Solicitor W. H. (Jack) Taylor said the youth may be tried for first degree murder, that the law allows this when only age is involved in such cases.

The youth reportedly has an I. Q. of 63 and spent three years in the first, three years in the second grade and failed to pass the third grade. He was sent to The O'Berry Center, a mental hospital at Goldsboro, in 1965 and was returned home against the recommendations of local Welfare officials, School Principal C. A. Harris and Juvenile Judge Ralph Knott. He has previously been charged in three breakins, and was expelled from Riverside School at least once for threatening a teacher.

Foster was born August 17, 1951 and is the oldest of four children. He lived with his mother, Sophia Foster Kearney at 1006 South Main Street.
