

Quill And Scroll Honors Principal

Friday afternoon, February 3, 1967, marked the occasion of the second annual Quill and Scroll initiation ceremony for Louisburg High School's chapter of the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. The service, at a high-school assembly, was conducted by Mrs. Rena C. Bland, faculty advisor, assisted by Mr. Al Fox, principal, and Tucker Meyer, Chapter president.

The fifteen students installed included five seniors: Anne Avent, Curt Dunn, George Ann Ford, Fran McFarland, and Phyllis Shearin; and ten juniors: James Berger, Judy Duke, Vell Freeman, Billy (W. R.) Fuller, Frances Griffin, Beth McDonald, Josephine Medlin, Anne Merritt, Patsy Murphy, and Betty Sue Radford. Each received a membership card and a gold pin.

Honored also was Mr. Al Fox, to whom Mrs. Bland presented the Society's testimonial scroll, in recognition of his outstanding service in the cause of journalism at Louisburg High School. Prepared by the staff of the International Executive Council, for presentation by the local Chapter, the citation recognized Mr. Fox's "devoted interests in the creative work of young people in journalism and the writing arts."

TUCKER MEYER, MRS. BLAND, PRIN. FOX

To qualify for Quill and Scroll membership, a student must (1) be of junior or senior classification; (2) be scholastically in the upper third of his high school class; (3) have done distinctive work in some phase of high school journalism (either on School Daze, the newspaper; or The Circle, the yearbook); (4) be approved by the principal as worthy of membership; and (5) be approved by the International Executive Committee. Following such approval, an initiate's name is placed on the international membership roster.

March Of Dimes Success

Youngsville -- Mrs. H. R. Reddick, chairman of the Youngsville Woman's Club, has announced that a successful campaign is being concluded in the local area. The annual Mother's March was conducted on the evening of January the thirtieth within the town limits.

Contributions from the March and from other donations amounts to approximately one hundred and twenty dollars. There may be more to come in.

Those who assisted Mrs. Reddick in the drive were Mesdames J. A. Green, Claudia G. Evans, J. T. Moss, E. J. Pearce, W. O. Roberts, J. K. Tharrington, W. T. Holden, R. E. Cheatham, and Miss Janet Pearce and Miss Harriet Pearce.

Garden Club Will Sponsor Charm School

On Thursday, in the Meeting Room of the First Citizens Bank Building, members of the Louisburg Garden Club made plans for a Charm School to be held Monday and Tuesday nights, March 6 and 7. This course will be taught by Miss Alice Bell, the South's foremost authority on beauty, charm and fashion. Mrs. Herman Spencer told members of Miss Bell's many accomplishments and said, "we are very fortunate to get her to come to Louisburg." The course will be taught at the Louisburg College Cafeteria and tickets will be on sale by members of the Garden Club.

Mrs. John Mills presided over the meeting and announced that the Flower Show School for judges will be held in Winston Salem on February 21-23. Mrs. Max Brown announced a $5.00 prize from the Sears Center in Raleigh for the display of Flemish arrangements placed there in January. Mrs. Lou Oxnevad showed slides of the Elizabethan Garden, Brunswick Town Nature Trail, and Daniel Boone Native Gardens at Boone, N.C. Mrs. Clifford Joyner narrated the show. Mrs. I. D. Moon, treasurer, announced that the club contributes $50.00 each year to these worthy projects.

Hostesses for the meeting were: Mrs. L. A. Wheelless, Mrs. E. F. Griffin and Mrs. C. M. Howard.

Teenage Chat

By Bettie Lavender

Friday afternoon at Louisburg High School fifteen Juniors and Seniors were inducted into the honor society of Quill and Scroll. Those who received gold pins and citations for excellent work in journalism were Anne Avent, Curt Dunn, George Anne Ford, Fran McFarland, Phyllis Shearin, James Berger, Judy Duke, Vell Freeman, W. R. (Billy) Fuller, Frances Griffin, Beth McDonald, Josephine Medlin, Ann Merritt, Patsy Murphy and Betty Sue Radford.

Also honored was our principal, Mr. A. D. Fox, for his interest and participation in journalism.

Congratulations, teens, for your excellent work and a special thanks to your advisor Mrs. R. C. Bland for her leadership.

Also, Friday, a talent show was held at Gold Sand. Those performing were: Stella Neal, who did a pantomime to "Mountain Dew." Musical arrangements were played on the piano by Donna Wood, and Joan Wood. The "Little Monkeys", Linda Parrish, Betty Leonard, Connie Gilliam, Sharon Ayscue and Rose Johnson sang "I Want To Be Free". Phyllis Radford and Anne Lovin sang various folk songs while accompanying themselves on the guitar. Betty Bowers did a dance routine and to top the whole show off, John Joyner, Kenny West, Tommy Speed, Wallace Edwards, and Joe Radford did hilarious commercials. All in all the show was great.

This past weekend was filled with many favorable activities. Ballgames highlighted Friday night. Also Friday, after games, many teens headed for the swinging Keys Club. Believe me teens, this is a great place to go for fun. Sunday night many teens headed for Raleigh to see the "Supremes." Those who went were Blake York, Bill Riggap, Frances Murphy, Mark Warren, Ann Merritt, Tommy Ball, Tony Brown, Susan Pleasants, Marilyn Stewart, Beth Johnson, Betty Jo Tippett, Vickie Wrenn, Rita Patterson, Steve Hight, Betsy May, Judy Spann, Abe Kemp, Rita McCurry, Brian Rogers, Cliff Edwards, Margo Raynor, Charles Toney, Anita Tillotson, Parker Lumpkin, Craig Sledge, George Fleming, Jimmy Geddie, Michael Edwards, Jane Johnson, Rickey Edwards, and Toni Gupton.

Those home for the weekend were Phyllis Jefferys, Pete Joyner, Randy Bowers, Terry Brown, Betsy Green, Jimmy Wilson, Becky Wilson, Lin Green, Nancy Brown, Bo Allen, Jean Allen, and Wiley Brown. Nice to see y'all.

Ballgames scheduled for Tuesday night are Louisburg with Gold Sand, Franklinton with Edward Best, Epsom with Youngsville and Bunn with South Granville.

Mrs. Wynne Hosts ALA

"The Meaning of America", an article by Rabbi Robert A. Rothman of New Orleans published in Liberty, was read by Mrs. Florence Wells Friday evening at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. W. M. Wynne on Allen Lane.

The rabbi spoke in defense of diversity even in this age of unity. "The American Creed", he said, "is the blueprint for perspective and action on the part of all thinking Americans. The inspiration for life and thought. Unity coupled with individuality. Equality joined to uniqueness. Union recognizing personality. Nation dedicated to citizenry. Thus we shall build an America strong in its own soul, and able to face the world's tyranny in the combined strength of its minorities."

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, president, presided over the meeting during which the opening formalities were led by Mrs. Hugh W. Perry and Chaplain, Mrs. John Stovall. Following the reports of the various chairmen, the hostesses served delicious banana-coconut cake, nuts and coffee to the members.

Life will be sweeter when you stop trying to remake your husband or wife.
