

YWA Meets

The Nora C. Layton Y.W.A.'s of Flat Rock Baptist Church met Monday night at the home of Darlyne Cash. President Jenny Wiggins called the meeting to order. Darlyne Cash led in the opening prayer.

Study-course chairman Darlyne Cash and counselor Carlyle Hill introduced Mrs. Margaret Hill as the teacher of the study-course, "So Sure of Tomorrow."

Mrs. Hill is the daughter of Mrs. Layton for whom the Y.W.A.'s were named. She told of how Africans have hope in tomorrow because of social, economical, educational, religious, and political changes in their country.

Other members who enjoyed the study-course were Linda Paschall, Jo Ann Fraizer, Pam Hart, and Vickie Wheeler. Special guest was Miss Ann Hill. Refreshments consisted of white and orange cake squares, orange punch, orange slices, candy corn, and cheese chips.

Mr. Stebbins Speaks At Fellowship Dinner

YOUNGVILLE -- Mr. Arnold W. Stebbins was guest speaker at the annual Fellowship Dinner of the Youngsville Baptist Church which was held at the Seminary Cafeteria in Wake Forest on Wednesday night November the fifteenth. This dinner was a highlight of the Forward Program of Church Finance being conducted by the church. Introduced by Church Minister Rev. L. Jervais Phillips, Mr. Stebbins presented a Stewardship message relating to giving of Time, Talents and Tithes. His closing quote was "A person makes a living by what he earns; he makes a life by what he gives."

Mr. Stebbins also presented a program of songs in keeping with the occasion. Prior to entering the Ministry, Mr. Stebbins was a commercial Airline pilot and a professional singer. A father, and grandfather, Mr. Stebbins and his family now live in Wake Forest where he is a Senior at the Seminary.

Pre-dinner music was by pianist Mrs. Francis Wragge of Wake Forest.

There were one hundred and one persons in attendance for the dinner. Printed programs emphasized the Fellowship and Tithing theme carried out. Tables were decorated with arrangements of harvest fruit.

Rev. Phillips recognized the various chairmen and committees of the church who have taken a leading part in this Stewardship promotion.

A Children's Party was held simultaneously at the Baptist Church with entertainment and refreshments provided for about fifteen small children. Mrs. J. E. Preddy, Mrs. N.A. Brown and Sandra Cash of other churches in the community gave their services in this capacity. Mrs. Cherie Lindsey assisted them.

It has been a busy weekend. Basketball around the county provided excitement galore Friday night. I heard that those games were tough anec. Sorry but I don't have any of the scores yet. If your teams won, let me know and I'll put your school in the teen spotlight.

Thanks to all the people who bought tickets to our Senior Supper; it was a big success. We're sorry we ran out of food, but many people waited to get tickets at the door. We had not counted on them, but we are glad they came. Thanks again.

Seen at the Embers Club Saturday night are Margo Raynor, Cliff Edwards, Beth Bullard, George Fleming, Linda Jones, Larry Rowe, Patsy Murphy, Joe Leonard, Betty Radford and Bob Garner. Larry was celebrating his birthday. How did you like it, Larry?

As the Phantoms traveled to Middleburg Friday night, the boys picked up another win and the girls dropped another loss. They play Middleburg again tonight at home. Congratulations to the seniors who were chosen as co-captains (really there's four of them), Larry Paschall, C.L. Wrenn, E.J. Wilder and Jesse Preddy of the boys' team.

Seems as if Vicky Rogers really got "worked over" Friday night.

What's this I hear about Elaine Murphy's plans for Thanksgiving Day?

Basketball players and cheerleaders, don't forget to bring your uniforms Wednesday. Pictures will be taken for the annual.

At the Thanksgiving assembly, "Miss Phantom" will be crowned. Good luck girls!

Everyone really seemed to enjoy the study course taught at the home of Darlyne Cash. Y.W.A. members, our next meeting is December 6 at Flat Rock Church. Be sure to come.

Belated birthday wishes are extended to Stewart Woodard Carol Gilliam, Betty Bailey and Kenneth Lye. Happy birthday goes to Linda Ann Hill as she celebrates today! To those of you who read and support this column and who have given me quite a few encouraging words - I thank you. No one but me will ever know how much it means.

The person who always has had luck may be specializing in it.

Two and two still make four, in spite of progress in other fields.
