While listening around school, I discovered that the main topics of conversations this week are basketball and report cards. Since report cards are such unpleasant things, let's not refer to them any more. The only thing we can do is to try harder next time!

Now to the subject of basketball. Our opening conference game brought two victories back home for the Phantoms. Everyone really liked the improvements of the Bunn gym--larger seating capacity, new floor, glass back-boards. All in all, it's a very nice gym. The dressing rooms may be kind-a cold but the action on the floor makes up for that--proving things to be rather hot at times!

Talk about problems, Linda Winston can't always figure out the referee's signals. So players - Beware - you may have a cheerleader playing ball with you!

What's this I heard about people with big feet forgetting their shoes? Hal!

The Glee Club Concert is to be held on December 14. I'm not sure about the time. Some of the songs heard around campus include - O Christmas Tree

Just to show how much we know about the past, what do you know of life and its ways in 1867?

Pamela Radford, Miss Franoca

CROWNED MISS FRANOCA

Miss Pamela Radford, Franklinton senior chosen "Miss Franoca of 1968" is shown above, right, about to be blessed by Miss Rachel Hedgepeth, retiring queen. The ceremonies took place at Franklinton last Friday night. Miss Radford was chosen following judging in three areas of competition.

(FRK. B.W.) Pamela Radford, a senior, was crowned "Miss Franoca of 1968" out of a line of twenty girls, Friday night, in the Franklinton High School Auditorium.

The new Miss Franoca was crowned by Rachel Hedgepeth, the 1967 Queen. Miss Radford was presented a crown, a bouquet of mums in the school colors and was robed in red velvet.

This year's contest, unlike past ones, had six runner-ups because of a tied tally for finalists.

Other contestants for the title were senior: Joyce Moss; juniors: Teresa Corn, Donna Holmes, Deborah Moore, and Donna Strother; sophomores: Len Carter, Diane Collins, Rose Eury, Bess Green, and Marie Nall; freshmen: Joan Blackley, and Debra Satterwhite.

The girls were judged on attractiveness, charm, poise, and personality in three phases of competition: church wear, school dress, and evening wear.

Scout News

Youngsville --- Youngsville Boy Scouts of Troop 588 went on a "Back-packing" overnight camp out Saturday night December second. The boys hiked out of town for several miles and pitched tents, which withstood the night's rain and cold wind.

Scoutmaster N.A. Brown and the following Scout participated in the outing--Glenn Evans, Randy Hailey, Billy Moss, Kenny Woodlief, Mike Hall, Mike Smith, Ricky Dent, Ricky Murphy, and Johnny Conyers.

Mr. J.T. Moss and assistant Scoutmaster W.R. Evans assisted with the campout arrangements. The scouts returned home Sunday morning.

Army Christmas Announced

HAMPTON, VIRGINIA----- "Home for the Holidays" might well be the title of the Christmas - New Years Eve policy announced this week by the United States Army Recruiting Command.

According to USAREC officials, enlistees who enter the Army between December 6-20 will be processed at the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Stations and transferred to Army reception stations. They will then be offered leave and may return home for the holidays. Those young men enlisting between December 21-29 will be offered leave at the examining and entrance stations and will return there for transfer to the reception station on January 3.

Under this program, new enlistees may join more than 200,000 Army trainees who will head for home when training pauses on December 16. Army school classes and training will resume January 2. Although commanders are required to maintain essential readiness, as many permanent party cadre, instructors, and support personnel as possible will be permitted to go on holiday leave. Some will have leave for Christmas; others will take leave during the New Year period. For those whom military duty requires that they stay on the job during the holidays, extensive programs of holiday activities will be provided.

The Army attempts to insure that all its personnel--the new recruit or the senior officer--have a happy holiday season.

Bake Christmas Cookies By The Carload!

Christmas is rounding that corner, so all aboard for Cookie-Ville.

Don't forget that Toll House Cookies are America's favorite and only native American cookie, so bake plenty. To please all. Another festive cookie made with semi-sweet chocolate morsels is Mince-meat Jumbles, a recipe just fresh from Mrs. Santa's kitchen. There's a real old-fashioned flavor in this drop cookie to bring homemade goodness to your Christmas.

Mince-meat Jumbles

- 1 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
3 eggs
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 12-ounce package (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 18 1/2-ounce jar (1 1/4 cups) mince-meat

Cream together sugar and shortening. Beat in eggs, one at a time, until light. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; stir into creamed mixture. Stir in semi-sweet chocolate morsels and mince-meat. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto greased and floured cookie sheet. Bake in 375 F. oven 10 to 12 minutes. YIELD: About 6 dozen.
