The Ezelles Honored At Going-Away Party

Youngsville--Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Walden and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sanders had a Going Away Party for Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ezelle and children Jeff and Linda Sunday afternoon, January the twenty seventh at the Walden home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezelle and family will soon be moving to Wilmington, N. C. where Mr. Ezelle is already at work at his new job.

Mrs. Ezelle was presented a white carnation corsage by the hostesses and a gift was given to the family.

After gifts from all guests were opened by the guests of honor, refreshments were served. Invited guests were the members of the Ellen Tabor Sunday School Class of the Baptist Church and their families. There were about fifty people in attendance.

A Valentine motif was used in decorating the home. The serving table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of red carnations, white snapdragons and mums, interspersed with fern. Candles in crystal holders flanked the centerpiece.

Refreshments included red fruit punch, party sandwiches, cookies, nuts and colorful candy hearts. Napkins and other accessories continued the chosen Valentine theme.

Misses Brenda Sanders and Tonia Walden assisted at the party.

Life has its disappointments but there is no reason to be one of them.

Hip-Hip - Hooray, EXAMS ARE OVER! How about that? Celebration time was certainly at hand Tuesday night! Was wondering what kind of celebration Linda Paschall and Vickie Rogers were planning for Wednesday night? Just staying home and studying, uh? Now about this U.S. History exam that so many Juniors are so very upset over, don't worry, you'll get what's coming to you! I know, that's what's worrying you, isn't it? Yes, Pam Gilliam, I knew you could make it. Ha!

I forgot to mention our college students who were home for semester break. Glad to see you could make it to a few of our games, Jancie. Was wondering how Jimmy Keith and Cathy Cash are enjoying college life now. Good Luck!

Want an exciting experience for your class? Ask for a "tour" of our library. Don't laugh! Mr. Ayscue is trying to teach everyone or at least let them be familiar with the correct usage of materials in the library. (O.K. Librarians, you're going to have to be on the ball for the next couple of weeks!)

That Elaine Holmes has done it again. She came in late! I think this time it was seven minutes, right?

Seems like the Algebra I students have been rather sad lately, can't figure out why! Well Seniors, this is our last semester in high school, (let's hope). Don't look behind ya, push on ahead and make this final round the best yet. Let's see if we can't have the entire Senior Class on Honor Roll one of these six weeks. That would really rock Youngsville off its foundations!
