AAUW Hears Program On Success, A Basic Value

The topic "Success or Winning, a Basic Value," was discussed in the January Meeting in the home of meeting of the Louisburg Branch of the American Association of University Women | Monday evening, the branch by Miss Adelaide Johnson, membership continued the study of the year's theme, 'Testing Values in a Changing' Meeting in the home of Mrs. J. D. Mode on Chavis Society Beginning with the mean-ing of "success" and "win-Street in Franklinton on ning", the panelists, proceeded to consider the situations with which these values are associated, offering an outline to be used in the study of awards and rewards.

Miss Johnson's comments were of a general nature, with references also to success in the business world. Mrs. Dun-can spoke of success or winning in relation to school activities; and Mrs. Pruette developed the topic in the realms of work and leisure.

All members were partici-pants through display of newspaper articles and headlines, depicting actual state ments concerning, or implied references to awards, rewards, success, or winning. As the topic suggests, consideration was necessarily given to the plight of the loser, too, with emphasis upon the idea that in this culture we do not train people sufficiently to be good losers.

Mrs. Michael Palmer, president, presided and called for the previous minutes which were read by Mrs. John F. Matthews, secretary. Mrs. Richard Whitfield, legislative chairman, brought to attention pending legislations in the state and nation. Dr. Ann Blumenfeld reported on the Fellowship program.

Following the program, Mrs. Mode and Mrs. Julia Carr, hostesses, served cake squares iced with caramel and topped with whipped cream, nuts, coffee and hot tea.

Present were: Franklinton Mesdames Richard Whitfield, C. Ray Pruette, Betty Jean Timberlake, Mode, and Carr; Louisburg - Mesdames Wayne Burris, V. E. Duncan, John F. Matthews, Joe A. Pearce, Michael Palmer, I. D. Moon and Misses Ruth Merritt, Ann Blumenfeld, Adelaide Johnson, Elizabeth Johnson
