A Circus Party—Fun For All

Why not give a Circus Party as a special treat for the teenage set, an evening of gaiety for grown-ups, or for the not-too-small fry. Good fun anytime of the year!

This is a circus you make, from the parade of funny little bean bag clowns to the rings which house their acts. Even the animals may be fashioned of foods. Dried fruits are turned into ferocious leopards and lions; oranges become plump elephants; animal crackers fill little cages. It's a circus for even the maker!

When your church or club group needs gifts for the Annual Bazaar, get out your scrap bag of fabrics and trimmings and a bag of dry beans to whip up little bean-filled clowns. This is a perfect time to plan on a pot of beans to slow-bake, unattended, while you stitch. Plan a Circus Party before you make your contribution.

For your Circus Party Buffet Supper, here's your basic menu, to be varied according to age group and their tastes. It is easy to do, as everything is ready beforehand. Plan on hot Mulled Cider with bags of Buttered Popcorn, Pinto Baked Beans and bacon wrapped, cheese-stuffed "Hot Dogs" in toasted buns, with a make-your-own Salad Lazy Susan for grown-ups. For dessert, have orange sherbet, frosted cup cakes. Add cold bottled beverages and coffee.

Pinto Baked Beans

2 pounds (4 and 2/3 cups) Idaho Pinto Beans, cooked
2 medium onions, chopped (1 cup)
1/4 pound salt pork
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 cup molasses

Cook beans until tender but firm, following package directions. Using a slotted spoon, place beans in heavy pot or casserole of about 4-quart capacity. Stir in chopped onion; scrape and wash salt off the salt pork. Cut nearly through the skin in 1-inch squares. Bury salt pork, cut side up, in center of beans. Mix together remaining ingredients with 2 cups of the bean liquid. Pour over beans, adding enough of the boiling liquid to cover. Put on tight-fitting lid or foil and lid. Bake in a 250-degree F. (slow) oven for 6 to 8 hours, adding some boiling liquid if beans are not quite covered. Just before serving, remove lid. With a wooden spoon, gently bring pork to surface. Raise oven heat to brown pork. Makes 12 hearty servings.

Yours for the asking: If you would like a pattern for the Clown Bean Bag, sent with a bean recipe booklet, mail a postcard to Idaho Bean Commission Kitchen; P. O. Box 177, Ontario, Oregon 97914.

MRS. PARRISH

Robbins Library of Louisburg College where she is involved in cataloging the expanding audiovisual collection of Louisburg College.

Catch Up On Clean-Up Jobs

These blustery winter days are the ideal time to catch up on the little inside jobs that are often neglected once spring's outside clean-up begins.

Doorknobs that have long lost their luster can be rehabilitated with a few moments' polishing. Metal lamps return to "like-new" condition with a little loving care.

A spree of glass cleaning could well include the china cabinet's glass doors, the glass case that houses the Japanese geisha doll, the small glass paperweight that "snows" when turned, and a host of crystal figurines.

Dusting out drawers throughout the house and re-lining them with splashy new coverings, patching up nicked paint, restoring attic finds and polishing overhead light fixtures and chandeliers are also on the pre-spring list of inside jobs.

The little inside jobs used to require a vast supply of cleaning aids—a spray for dusting plus a dust cloth, a can or bottle of window fluid, and a separate jar of polish each for silver, copper, brass and gold pieces. All these items had to be stored between jobs.

Today, thanks to Kleen-Ups there's a disposable answer to almost every inside cleaning job. For all those metals, there are disposable metal polishers. A lemon-scented disposable duster is treated to trap dust, and disposable window cleaners need only be dampened to make glass cleaning a snap. Try your hand at these inside jobs with disposables. It's easier when your cleaning aids can be disposed of and forgotten once the job's complete.
