In College Recital

SUSAN WEBB

The Louisburg College Department of Music will present SUSAN WEBB, classical pianist and harpsichordist, in a guest recital Monday, April 21, at 8 p.m. in the College Auditorium.

Mrs. Webb received her B.A. degree from the University of Rochester, and her M.A. degree in performance of early music from Stanford University. In addition, she has studied piano at the Eastman School of Music, at the Conservatoire Nationale de Musique, Paris, France on a Rotary Fellowship, and at the Royal Academy of Music in Stockholm, Sweden. She has pursued a full career as a professional accompanist and chamber musician, appearing as soloist with a number of nationally known orchestras.

Her concert will feature selections on the harpsichord, and a joint selection with her husband, Bunyan Webb, who is a classical guitarist. The public is invited without charge.

F. C. Farm Bureau Honors M. T. Lamm

The Board of Directors of the Franklin County Farm Bureau met at the Murphy House Monday night. President John H. Ihrie, III, reported that a good delegation from Franklin County was represented in Raleigh at the Tobacco Tax Hearing.

The Farm Bureau is now forming a Hog Marketing Association as another of its many services to the farmers. Any interested persons can obtain information at the Farm Bureau office.

Among other business, the Directors voted to invite the Farm women to a meeting in hopes of forming a County Farm Bureau Women's Organization.

The Directors honored as their guest Mr. M. T. Lamm, with special recognition on his great achievements. He was entered in the Hall of Fame at N. C. State University for his work in Swine production. Mr. Lamm held various offices in the Spotted Swine Association. He served as president and helped to organize the Franklin County Swine Association. Mr. Lamm taught and was Principal of Bunn High School for a number of years.

Thanks

To each and every one who sent cards, letters, and flowers or said a prayer for me while I was hospitalized in Naples Community Hospital, Naples, Fla. and to those who visited me, sent cards, letters, flowers, and prayed for my recovery while I was a patient in Wake Memorial Hospital. Please accept my thanks. Special thanks to Rev. T. N. Daughtry for his daily visits and prayers.

Just knowing so many people were concerned about me was a great help in my recovery I'm sure, and I'll always remember you.

Estelle J. Joyner

It's about time for the baseball fans to resume their arguments about the possible pennant winners.

Platter Pie, Hawaiian Style

The popular pizza, with crisp crust and succulent topping, becomes a dessert when it is made Island style. Sweet golden nuggets of pineapple and crunchy chopped nuts are blended in flavor by brown sugar butter. Great eating out-of-hand, or "fancied up" with a scoop of ice cream and served on a plate.

- 1/3 cup milk
- 1 cup biscuit mix
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 3 tablespoons sugar

- 1/4 cup drained crushed pineapple (8 1/2 or 8 3/4 oz. can)
- 1/3 cup chopped nuts
- Cinnamon

Add milk to biscuit mix and shape into soft ball. Roll thin, about 1/4 inch, on lightly floured board, working a little flour into dough surface to prevent sticking. Place on cookie sheet and spread with melted butter. Sprinkle half of sugar over surface. Spread pineapple over the pastry. Top with the remaining sugar and nuts. Sprinkle generously with cinnamon. Bake in a preheated 450 deg. oven for 15 minutes. Cut into 6 wedges and serve hot. Note: This recipe may be doubled to serve twelve.

About Your Home

Main dishes that are quick, easy and inexpensive, are a boon to the woman who must rush home from the office or a hot bridge game and prepare dinner.

Steak and chops are the obvious answer, but even the finest of meats can become monotonous. Also the cost may be a little too high for some of us with several growing children.

Life can be made much easier for the homemaker if in her bag of tricks there are several quick-to-prepare dishes that give variety to weekly menus. Take advantage of quick-cooking rice or instant mashed potatoes to accompany your main dish. Add a package of frozen green vegetables, and you have a dinner you can be proud of.

In your weekly trip to the grocery store, don't neglect the frozen food sections. In this department can be found, already prepared, individual pot pies in a variety of meats - chicken, turkey, and meat combinations. These just need to be popped in the oven for a few minutes and you have a main dish around which you can build with infinite variety.

And, if you are really rushed, or just want to be lazy, there are, of course, the "TV Snack" suppers. These include a selection of hamburger steaks, chicken, turkey, with dressing, etc. all nicely bottled.

Engagement Announced

VICKI CAROLYN DISHER

Mr. and Mrs. George Eugene Disher of Winston-Salem announce the engagement of their daughter, Vicki Carolyn, to Mr. Jon Daniel Radford, son of Mrs. William Henry Radford and the late Mr. Radford of Route 2, Louisburg. The wedding is planned for July 19, 1969 at Centenary Methodist Church, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Marriage Announced

Mrs. Elsiephine Howell of Butner and Mr. Royce H. Suitt of Durham were married in a ceremony held in Butner Baptist Church in Butner. The Rev. Warren Bush officiated at the 8 p.m. service on April sixteenth.

The evening ceremony was attended by friends and relatives of the couple.

The bride is the former Elsiephine Fuller of Franklin County.

Entertains Bridge Club

Youngsville - Miss Susie Tharrington entertained her bridge club with a party Friday night, April eleventh. Guests attending were Mesdames B. G. Mitchell, E. J. Pearce, E. R. Tharrington, N. A. Brown, P. D. Croom, J. H. Parrish, B. H. Patterson and G. E. Winston.

The hostess served refreshments after the second progression of bridge, which included Broken Glass Torte with whipped cream, and coffee. Nuts, mints and Cocolas were served later.

Mrs. Parrish and Mrs. Patterson won the two high score prizes for the evening.

stered with a variety of vegetables, and they just need warming.

Too, in this department can be found many attractively packaged frozen desserts that require little or no cooking, so pies and cakes can make an almost magical appearance on your table as a delightful end to an appetizing meal.

Mrs. Bass Hostess To U. D. C.

The Joseph J. Davis Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met April 15 with Mrs. Howell Bass.

The meeting began with the pledge and salutes to the flags and a prayer. Mrs. J. W. Mann, Mrs. Elmer Mercer, and Mrs. Woodrow Jones represented the chapter at the district meeting held in Raleigh on March 26. The district meeting will be held in Louisburg in 1970.

The chapter will send a donation to the House of Memory, a Confederate museum in Raleigh.

Plans were made for a program to observe Confederate Memorial Day, May 10, in Louisburg.

Mrs. J. W. Mann presented an interesting program on "Education in the South Before the War." She discussed establishment of academies, colleges, and universities in Southern States from 1618 to 1860.
