What store in its right mind would sell you carpet for this kid's room?

He's a terror, right?
 Put carpet in his room, and in a couple of months it would be a mess, right?
 Wrong!

We'll show you a new kind of Wearathon bonded fiber carpet by Armstrong. It's called Pageant™. And it's made with commercial-grade indoor/outdoor carpet fibers, so you know it can take all the punishment Junior can dish out. And then some.

Forget about the flat, dull, lifeless colors you've seen in ordinary indoor/outdoor carpets. Pageant is the first really high-style bonded fiber carpet, with fresh, new colors in an elegant tweed-like effect.

This new Armstrong carpet is available with a foam backing for indoor use or unbacked for use indoors or out. Both types are made with the exclusive Durabond™ process that packs more fiber above the backing for greater durability.

Pageant is one of the few carpets that really make sense for rough-and-tumble rooms like a kid's bedroom.

And it's your kind of price, too. Right!
