Youngsville Woman's Club Installs Officers In Hawaiian Setting

Youngsville - South Sea Island music and scenery provided a Hawaiian Luau setting for the annual Banquet of the Youngsville Woman's Club held at the Cardinal Cafeteria in Raleigh on Saturday night.

An Installation Service for club officers was conducted by NCFWC Second Vice President Mrs. J. W. Weathers, Jr. Adhering to the Hawaiian idea, Mrs. Weathers chose a theme brought to mind by expressive hula hands. Speaking on ways in which hands are used, she challenged officers and clubwomen to put their hand to productive service. As each of the following officers was installed, a lei was looped over her head: President Mrs. Ben Hudson, First Vice President Mrs. Richard Timberlake; Second Vice President Mrs. W. M. Roberts. Recording Secretary Miss Jeannette Bell; Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Claude Edwards; Treasurer Mrs. E. J. Pearce; and Chaplain Mrs. L. J. Phillips.

in their surfing and flower-child styles, gyrated in one area, a too realistic appearing monkey slipped in from the opposite direction to mingle with guests. "Gitar Zan" and The Monkey appeared to do their thing. Pandemonium really broke loose when "Jane" drifted in. The beautiful blonde clad in a polka dot bikini joined the entertainers for a hilarious hit.

Taking part in the humorous entertainment were E. J. Pearce, O. L. Woodlief, H. H. Reddick, Archie Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Phillips.

Transformed by tropical decorations, the banquet room lent atmosphere for the occasion. A hukilau replica on the head table included a sandy beach with hula girls, guitarists, seas shells, coral, sea-fan, orchids, and miniature palm and coconut trees; highlighted by floating candles in flower petals beneath a fountain. An aqua fishnet draped on the head table held catches of fish. Hurricane lamps and island arrangements were featured on other tables. Place cards and favors continued the chosen theme. Hawaiian paintings on programs were done in water colors by Carol Mitchell and Debbie Brown with some assistance by Kelly Corpening.

Mrs. Ben Hudson was presented a president's bracelet from the club.

Clubwomen recognized for perfect attendance during the past year were Mesdames J. T. Allen, W. T. Holden, W. F. Mitchell, Sr., B. H. Patterson, W. S. Preddy, W. O. Roberts, J. K. Tharrington, L. A. Woodlief, and E. J. Pearce.

President Mrs. Hudson presided at the Luau; and invocation was by Mrs. L. J. Phillips.

Guests recognized were husbands of clubwomen; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allen of Wake Forest; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Honeycutt of Raleigh; Mrs. Robert L. Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Chesson, Mrs. J. A. Green; C. L. Wrenn who won the Citizenship Award last year, and his date Miss Donna Collins.

On the banquet committee were chairman Mrs. B. H. Patterson and Mesdames J. T. Moss, A. N. Corpening, H. H. Redick and R. E. Cheatham.

There were seventy guests in attendance for the festive feast.

Young Hula Dancers in shimmering costumes did authentic native dances with meaningful arm movements. Swaying to the rhythm of "My Little Grass Shack" were Donna Sullivan and Lisa Bartholomew of Wake Forest; Susan Weatherford and Kelly Corpening of Youngsville. A personal Aloha was extended to each guest as dancers presented a lei to every one.

For contrasting entertainment, "The Monkeys" staged a great performance. As the wild wiggled Monkeys

Gold Sand Club Meets

Gold Sand Woman's Club met Monday night with Emile Nelms with twelve members present.

Roll call and minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Corine Murphy gave the devotional reading the 19th Psalm. Margaret Alston led in prayer.

Mrs. Ernie Raynor of Louisburg gave a very interesting demonstration on crystal, china and silver. She showed several different beautiful patterns in each. She described how some of the crystal was blown. Mrs. Raynor stressed the point of setting a pretty table each day in crystal, china and silver even though it did not have to be the most expensive on the market. It teaches the small children how to use it. The group enjoyed the demonstration.
