Avowed And/Or Practiced Values Are Assessed

Mrs. Mamie Clayton was hostess Monday evening to the Louisville Chapter of the A.A.U.W. at her home on Williamson Street.

Introduced by Mrs. Betty Jean Timberlake, Program Implementation chairman, Miss Elizabeth Johnson and Mrs. Michael Palmer made an "Assessment of Values Avowed and/or Practiced", the last in the year's series of programs on "Testing Values in a Changing World."

Miss Johnson set the stage for the assessment by briefly reviewing the values that were tested, namely - truth, freedom, individuality, success, and religion. The five values were tested in the home, at work, at play, in politics, in fact in all walks of life. In the end she asked, "Are the Modern and Traditional values basically the same to you now?"

Mrs. Palmer, first, established the certainty that the group did profess the values tested and moved quickly then to whether we, as a group, were going to leave them "in the attic" so to speak or were we going to openly put them into practice. This latter might cause some discomfort or a great deal of effort, she said. Yet, as AAUW members, we do render "voluntary public service." From this presentation several projects were discussed which will be the basis for study-action for the fall.

For a beginning public service, while refreshments were being prepared, the members assisted Mrs. Ernest Bolick in alphabetizing library cards for the Gold Sand Library.

Mrs. Clayton, assisted by Mrs. Timberlake and Marie Bolick, served Strawberry shortcake and coffee to eighteen members and guests.

About Your Home

A happy home life can do more towards making your husband a success than anything. In fact, some doctors tell us that it is absolutely necessary for most men to have the backing of a happy home to be a success in business and that it is necessary for all to be adjusted to each other's needs in order to succeed as an individual.

Most corporations nowadays refuse to hire a man for an important position until they have interviewed his wife to find whether she is likely to be a help or a hindrance. Many a wife has pulled her husband through difficulties by her tactful loyalty. Other wives have broken up partnerships or run their husbands into bankruptcy.

There are a number of things you can do to help your husband succeed apart from the obvious things, such as looking out for his diet, exercise, rest, grooming and the like.

Here are a few points that it would pay a wife to watch:

1. Make some sacrifices of your own interests or inclinations when he has homework.

2. Be willing to live on a lower salary if justified by prospects for the future.

3. Don't try to keep up with the Joneses.

4. Do your bit in handling the family income.

5. Help him to get the right kind of recreation in the right amount. Keep away from extravagance and especially from alcoholic beverages.

6. Praise his accomplishments and show interest in his work.

7. Avoid conflict in the home at any time, especially in the morning.

8. Show him lots of affection and trust.

An expert is a man who writes for a newspaper published in a town in which he is not known.

Youngsville Women Attend Coffee Hour

Youngsville -- Nineteen members of the Youngsville Woman's Club were in Raleigh Wednesday, May 28, in observance of Federation Citizenship Day. Guests of Mrs. Robert Scott at the Governor's Mansion for coffee at 10:30, clubwomen left from there for the State House. While visiting Senate and House galleries, courtesies were extended to the Youngsville guests upon requests of Senator Edward F. Griffin and Representatives James Speed. Both legislators met with the Franklin County women for a personal welcome.

Further interest in Citizenship Day was expressed by clubwomen as they provided their local legislators with written opinions on legislation which they had prepared beforehand. Vocal opinions were also expressed during the visit.

According to a report from NCFWC Vice President, Mrs. J. W. Weathers, Jr., one thousand and three hundred clubwomen registered in the guest book at the Governor's Mansion where Mrs. Weathers and other state officers stood in the receiving line with Mrs. Robert Scott. Women came from all over the state, from the coast to the mountains, for a powerful display of interest in Citizenship. Nine hundred of the women visited at the State House.

Youngsville women in attendance for the day were Mesdames Tobie Holden, Bland Mitchell, W. S. Preddy, B. F. Woodlief, W. S. Pearce, N. A. Brown, G. W. Barnes, W. M. Roberts, J. W. Weathers, Sr., W. O. Roberts, S. E. Tharrington, A. N. Corpening, B. H. Patterson, J. A. Green, L. R. Evans, Richard Timberlake, Evelyn Freeman and Mrs. Weathers, Jr.

In Fashion

Ringlets around the face seems to be the new look in hair-dos. Some of the newest creations have the effect of the woman having been on a windy walk. But the effect is most attractive and is designed to be that way.

What with the buns on top of the head—the frilly blouses and the chains about the neckline, one is reminded of grandmother's wedding pictures.
