

Att.-Gen. Morgan Urges; Guard Against Door-to-door Sellers

Raleigh -- Attorney General Robert Morgan urged North Carolina citizens today to be on guard against door-to-door and telephone "strives", "public relations" and "advertising" programs which are book-selling schemes in disguise.

"The summer book salesman has become a familiar figure in North Carolina and many have treated our people fairly in the past," said Morgan. However, each summer in recent years the State has been plagued with book-selling programs dressed up to fool the consumers into thinking they are getting special prices on encyclopedias, dictionaries or Bibles through public relations or advertising programs," said Morgan.

"The buyer is led to believe that is getting a special deal as part of the company's public relations or advertising program," Morgan said, "when the truth is that the companies sell all their wares through such sales schemes and no one gets any special deal."

These selling schemes are most likely to be used during the summer months when there is a plentiful supply of cheap-but effective-salesmen in the form of students "working their way through college."

"Unfortunately," said Morgan, "the students themselves are often duped as well as their customers. The students are led to believe that they are getting jobs in the public relations and advert-

Postal Changes Asked

The President has asked Congress to scrap the historic Post Office Department and establish a government-owned, self-supporting corporation to handle the mail. The President suggested a nine-member board of directors for the corporation.

Farm Payments

The House has made another effort to make $20,000 a top federal farm benefit payment to any individual or corporate farm operator on 1970 crops. Last July the House made a similar provision but the Senate refused to accept it.

ising fields. By the time they realize that the job is nothing other than door-to-door selling through deceptive sales techniques, it's too late for them to look for another job for the summer."

Morgan said use of such sales techniques constitutes an unfair and deceptive practice in the conduct of commerce and that such techniques were declared unlawful by the North Carolina Consumer Protection Act of 1969.

He urged citizens who come into contact with such deceptive sales techniques to contact him or Jean Benoy, Deputy Attorney General, who heads the Consumer Protection Division, so that appropriate action may be taken.

Largest Rose's Contribution Made Since Sharing Plan Inception

Manager S. M. Cupp of the local Rose's Store announced that some 2,200 employees of Rose's in seven Southern states shared in the 1968 Company contribution to the Employees' Profit Sharing Trust. The contribution, $1,749,000.00 was the largest of the twenty-five consecutive annual payments made by Rose's since the Profit Sharing Plan was started in 1944.

Manager Cupp handed statements of their personal accounts to 10 local participants, showing how each shared in the Company's 1968 profits and what each had accumulated. He pointed out that a typical participant in the Plan (a saleslady in one of the stores) who had shared in every one of the twenty-five Company contributions now has a balance in her account equal to more than three times her 1968 earnings.

Manager Cupp advised that Central Carolina Bank & Trust Company, Trustee of the Rose's Profit Sharing Trust, reports that the fund now totals over $12,395,000.00 and holds $1,817,000.00 of U. S. Government Bonds, $3,370,000.00 of Corporate Bonds, $5,069,000.00 of Common Stocks, $611,000.00 of Notes & Mortgages, and $1,528,000.00 of other assets.

North Carolina Recipe Of The Week

Thanks

Many thanks to the friends and relatives who were so thoughtful of me during my long stay in Franklin Memorial Hospital. Thanks also to the doctors and nurses for their kind constant care.

Mrs. Pattie K. Boone

Thanks

We would like to express our appreciation to the many friends who expressed their sympathy and thoughtfulness to us while mourning the death of our son and brother, Thaddeus, Jr. You will always be remembered.

The Clements Family

Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to Dr. Patterson and to the nurses on 2nd floor for being so nice to me while I was a patient in Franklin Memorial Hospital.

Also I want to thank my friends and neighbors for the many visits, cards and gifts I received. May God bless each of you.

Mrs. Lona G. Denton

The North Carolina Poultry Federation is pleased to furnish this week to the housewives in North Carolina and good cooks everywhere a very delicious barbecue chicken recipe. The Hawaiian barbecue sauce contained in the recipe is appropriately named for the state of Hawaii, where barbecue chicken is a favorite, just as it is throughout all America.

Certainly, summer is cook-out time, and what could be better than barbecued chicken? Golden brown barbecue chicken is an all-time, all-American favorite, a sure fire success for outdoor cooking, and of course for any outdoor party.

Hawaiian barbecue sauce makes enough to baste 3 to 4 chickens.

BARBECUE CHICKEN RECIPE WITH HAWAIIAN BARBECUE SAUCE

1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup salad oil
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1 tablespoon sugar

Combine ingredients well. Brush on broiler-fryer halves or quarters and keep brushing frequently as the bird is barbecued.

Place broiler-fryer chicken halves or quarters skin side up on grate set 3 to 6 inches from heat. Brush chicken with Hawaiian Barbecue Sauce from time to time while cooking. Cook until tender. Allow 45 minutes to 1 1/2 hours total cooking time, depending on weight of chicken and distance from heat. To test for doneness, leg should feel tender when probed by a fork.

STUFFED CURRIED EGGS

(Mrs. Dan K. Moore)

6 eggs, 1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons vinegar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder

Hard cook eggs, cool, cut in half, remove yolk and mash. Add mustard, vinegar, sauce, mayonnaise. Mix well and stuff into egg whites. Place in a shallow baking dish. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, curry powder, and salt. Cook 1 minute and stir in milk slowly. Continue cooking until thick and pour over stuffed eggs. Place in oven at 300 degrees for 20 minutes.

Death

STANLEY PORTER

Stanley Porter, 10, died Wednesday. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday from the White Level Baptist Church. Services will be conducted by Rev. John Woody and Rev. A. C. Amos. Burial will follow in the church cemetery.

C.; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. P. J. Hines of Greer, S. C.; his maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Lawrence Kenemore of Easley, S. C.

Shake Up A Frosty Party

Make a party for the sandbox set in just a shake... with a frosted shake. Serve "as is" or fancy up in various shapes.

For the beverages, put out icy-cold cans of the frothy, vitamin-rich shakes. The quintet of flavors — vanilla, strawberry, chocolate, chocolate fudge and coffee—comes in pull-tab cans. Just pop and pour.

If the mother of the house has just a bit more time, she might adventure with these two simple suggestions for freezing and shaping the shakes. One's an idea for a snowman or other favorite cookie shapes; the second is a tri-color pop from a cup. Here's the how-to-do:

SHAKY, THE FROSTY SNOWMAN: Four three cans of frosted shake (any flavor) into a jelly roll pan lined with waxed paper. Freeze until very firm; then turn onto a chilled cookie sheet. With a cookie cutter quickly cut out shapes; then decorate with chocolate chips or shot, coconut or raisins to make gingerbread men or snowmen. Return to freezer. To serve, transfer from cookie sheet to plate with a pancake turner.

TRICOLOR POP (makes six): You'll need three different flavored cans of frosted shake — chocolate, vanilla and strawberry are the most colorful — six wooden skewers and six 5-ounce paper cups. Fill one-third of each cup with a layer of chocolate. Freeze just firm enough to hold a skewer. Insert skewers into this first layer, pour in vanilla shake to fill another third of the cup. Freeze until firm and pour in a layer of strawberry. Freeze until very firm. To serve, simply peel off the paper cup.
