

Miss Patricia Hofmann Weds

Lancaster, Penn. -- The marriage of Miss Patricia Hofmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brunner Hofmann, 1010 Janet Avenue, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and Edgar William Meiser, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Edgar William Meiser, 638 State Street, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, was solemnized Saturday, August 16, 1969 at two o'clock in the afternoon in St. Mark's Lutheran Church. The Reverend John W. Kammerer, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The church sanctuary was decorated with urns of white asters, carnations and stock flanked by brass candlesticks containing white tapers.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Leonard Mauer, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. For the processional, Mrs. Mauer played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner and for the recessional "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza with a portrait neckline designed with an empire bodice and elbow length sleeves of Alencon lace embellished with seed pearls. The A-line skirt was trimmed with a double border of Alencon lace. A Watteau chapel train fell from the back of the gown. Her silk illusion veil was held by a Dior bow. She carried a Colonial bouquet of rubrum lilies, stephanotis and English ivy.

Mrs. Charles David Binkley, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a full length, yellow silk dress with a portrait neckline featuring an empire bodice and short sleeves of white ruffles. Her head piece was a white bow. She carried a bouquet of daisies and English ivy.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sally Meiser of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Barry Markley of Portsmouth, New Hampshire; Miss Rosemary Bianchini of Bristol, Pennsylvania and Miss Susan Delaney of Wilmington, Delaware. They wore gowns identical in style and color to that of the matron of honor and they too carried bouquets of daisies and English ivy.

Dr. Edgar William Meiser served as his son's best man.

MRS. EDGAR W. MEISER, JR.

Ushers were Bruce William Hofmann, brother of the bride, Michael Burroughs Mann, David Lichty Martin and Nicholas Bowen, all of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hofmann wore a mint green peau de soie dress with matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a turquoise silk and lace gown with matching accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride graduated from West Chester State College in June. She was elected to the 1969 edition of Who's Who in Colleges and Universities of America. She was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma sorority and now has a graduate assistantship in physical education at The Pennsylvania State University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College where he was a member of Lambda Chi fraternity. He now has a graduate assistantship in geology at The Pennsylvania State University.

The bride's parents honored the couple at a reception at the Conestoga Country Club. Music was by George Singer and his orchestra.

After a wedding trip to Andros Island in the Bahamas, the couple will reside at University Park, Pennsylvania.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stegall Ford of Louisburg.

About Your Home

Refreshing cottage cheese is one dish that is as much at home in a cabin or a castle. It is high in protein and low in calorie count. This makes it the dieter's best friend. Good cooks tell us it is a wonderful mixer.

For warm-weather salads and desserts, cottage cheese is tops.

Cottage cheese is made from skim-milk. Usually some cream is mixed with the cheese curd. Dieters will be interested to learn that if the cheese contains four per cent, or more of fat, it is called creamed cottage cheese.

Cottage cheese can be used as a base of a salad mixture, for stuffing celery.

hearsal dinner party at the Host Town on Friday evening.
