

Mr. Edwards Speaks At 4-H Council Meet

Mr. Talmadge Edwards, Director of the Franklin County Family Counseling and Education Center, was speaker for the 4-H County Council meeting on Tuesday night. He spoke to the 4-Hers on mental health and showed a film, "Mental Health Careers." Mr. Edwards discussed the career opportunities for young people in this area.

Hershey Carroll, vice-president, presided with Jacqueline Driver and Myra Harris leading the American and 4-H pledges. Devotion was led by Sandra Harris, Richie Whitfield, Linda Baldwin, and Mary Jo Denton. Frances Driver, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

Miss Kathryn Millsaps, new Asst. Home Econ. Agent, announced and discussed plans for National 4-H Week.

Mr. Neal Thomas, new Asst. Agriculture Agent, told the group about the County Fair, Achievement Day, and the individual club Christmas parties.

Mr. L. D. Baldwin, Agriculture Agent, talked to the 4-Hers about Leadership Conference in Washington, D. C.

and 4-H Congress. The meeting adjourned with the 4-H motto.

H.E. Asso. To Have Region Meet

The East Central Regional Meeting of the North Carolina Home Economics Association will meet Saturday, September 20, 1969, at 10:00 A.M. It will be at the Public Service Gas Company, 1720 Hillsborough Street, Raleigh, North Carolina.

The speaker will be Deputy Attorney General, Jean A. Beney. He will discuss "Consumer Interests in North Carolina."

All members are urged to attend. Home Economists who are not members are invited to come and join the Association.

Mrs. Laleen Mode, Home Economics Teacher from Franklinton, is Chairman of the Region.

Fall Seeding Of Cover Improves Quality Of Rural Environment

Fall seedings of cover, like many other conservation practices carried out by farmers at various other times of the year, not only help protect the land against erosion, but also improve the quality of the rural environment, says E. G. Brewer, County Chairman of the ASC Committee.

Such seedings, Brewer reminds farmers, cover what would otherwise be bare land with a blanket of green, improving the general appearance of the countryside. And the fall seeding period, he points out, is a good time to survey the many benefits of soil, water, woodland, and wildlife conservation. Protecting the soil against erosion with cover crops such as: barley, oats, rye, wheat, crimson clover, hairy vetch, annual ryegrass and fescue preserves the land. The government will pay $2.00 per acre for each of the above cover crops.

Mr. Brewer encourages all producers who are not signed up in the 1969 ASC Program to come to the County Office at once and file their request.

Mrs. White Is Hostess To U.D.C.

The Joseph J. Davis Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met September 16, at the home of Mrs. Sidney White at Justice. Nine members were present.

Mrs. Woodrow Jones gave an interesting talk on the founding of the organization, the emblem, and the objectives. The organization was founded on September 10, 1894, in Nashville, Tennessee by Mrs. Caroline Meriwether Goodlett. This is a national organization of 35,000 members; also, there are chapters in England, France, and South America.

The emblem is a lone star centered with the flower of the South, an open boll of cotton. On the points of the star are the words - Love, Dare, Think, Pray, and Live.

The objectives of the organization are Historical, Educational, Benevolent, Memorial, and Patriotic.

Not many workers overlook the approach of a holiday.

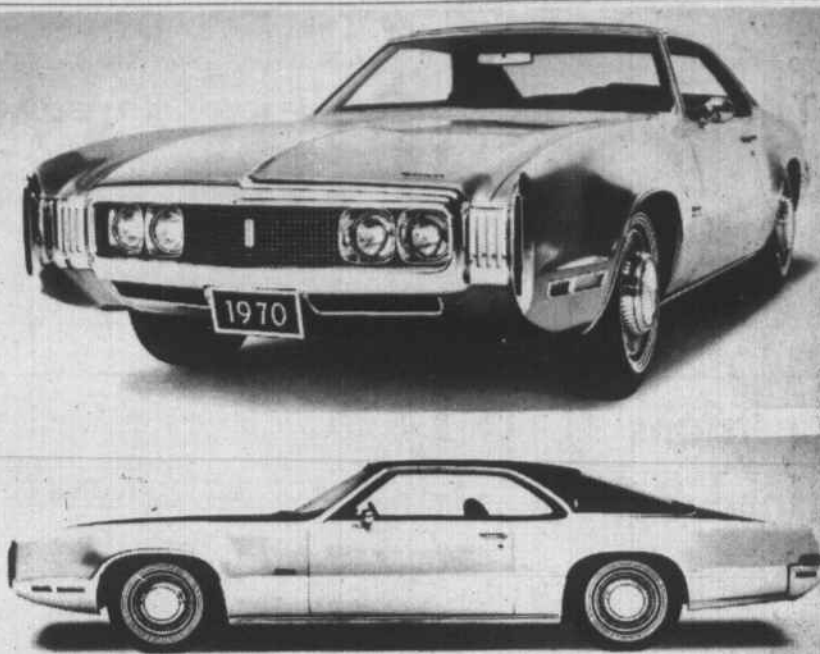

OPULENT — Eastern-inspired at home pajamas by Cleopatra Broumand are cut from plushy cotton velvet dipped in a rich chocolate brown. Luxuriously ornamented in gold braid and jewels, the sophisticated design features a deep decolletage and carefully marked waist.

Locusts cannot fly until their body temperature reaches about 70 degrees F., National Geographic says. The cool of night stiffens their muscles, and they must bask in the sun before taking wing.

Oldsmobile's front wheel drive Toronado, for 1970, reflects the most extensive change in appearance since the car was introduced in the fall of 1965. It is sleeker looking, with a distinctive new shape to the wheel openings, a new front end, including a new grille and exposed headlamps, and a more elegant than ever interior decor.
