

Franklinton Woman's Club Emphasizes Patriotism

(Frk. B.W.) Three members of the Public Affairs Department and Mrs. Bernie Edwards presented an informative program about Patriotism at the meeting of the Franklinton Woman's Club held at Mrs. Julia Carr's home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Edwards gave the background information about 400s, America, Yankee Doodle, Dixie and Battle Hymn of the Republic. The talented musician accompanied the clubwomen in singing the songs.

Mrs. R. C. Whitfield called attention to the fact that there were 53 famous documents that form the basis of our Freedom. She named a few such as Patrick Henry's Speech, The Declaration of Independence, The Constitution and the Bill of Rights, Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Charles Eliot Norton's True Patriotism and gave a brief explanation about each document.

Mrs. R. B. Gordon talked about the "Basis of Patriotism". She stressed the fact that parents should see that their children are exposed to Patriotism. Recalling experiences she had during World War II, Mrs. Gordon had a captive audience. The reading of "I Am An American" made each clubwoman proud of her native land.

Mrs. Gordon distributed sheets for the women to rate themselves regarding their loyalty to the principles of the Constitution and to the ideals of the American people as set forth in the Constitution. The speaker remarked that without the Constitution, we would not have the will to win.

Mrs. W. J. Sigmon spoke about Patriotism as the young people of today regard it. Stressing the fact that the servicemen are patriots, the speaker encouraged the people on the homefront to be more patriotic. Mrs. Sigmon concluded her part of the program by reading a letter from a parent who had lost a son in Vietnam.

Mrs. Edwards gave the background for the writing of the National Anthem. The program was concluded with the singing of the Anthem.

Mrs. Woodrow Haskins, club president, presided over the business session. Following the reading of the minutes, the president named committee chairmen for the District meeting to be held in Franklinton on October 24.

Mrs. W. J. Sigmon reported on proposed changes in the Constitution and By Laws of the local club.

The following department chairmen were elected to serve during 1970: Education, Mrs. Hoyt Edwards; Fine Arts, Mrs. Lynn Brewer; Home Life, Mrs. Courtney Heath; Public Affairs, Mrs. R. C. Whitfield.

Mrs. DeWitt Van Arsdale gave a report of the club's scholarship fund.

The clubwomen were reminded that the Claxton fruit cakes were at Mrs. Lamar Greene's home.

Mrs. Gordon recommended a Clothes Closet for the Community Improvement Project.

Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, membership chairman, recognized two new members, Mrs. Lynn Brewer and Mrs. Doug Carter. Mrs. Earl Richardson, Mrs. P. L. Cartledge, Mrs. Ann Saunter and Mrs. Diane Austin were welcomed as guests.

During the social hour, Mrs. W. F. Miller, Mrs. J. H. Housse and Mrs. Carr served coffee and cookies.

Winner With Women

A woman's place is in the home. Or is it? The age of micro-waves, push-buttons, dishwashers, freezers, and instant foods means fewer hours on kitchen duty. Today's woman has more time than her counterpart in the horse-and-buggy days for shopping, club and civic work, luncheons and meetings; and of course, even today many of her away-from-home activities are duty runs — chauffeuring the family, grocery shopping, picking up the cleaning and bakery goods.

In our nation of wheels, time away from home often means time behind the wheel. It's no wonder women in our style-mad world want to add a distinct attractive practical touch to the cars that have almost become second homes.

A set of new car mats from Rubbermaid called Patternique will give any car interior needed protection and a bright new look as well. They are in unusual combinations of striking flower-patterned carpet and vinyl. Patternique car mats are not only pretty — they're practical too. The rugged nylon Ozite carpet wears like iron and resists stains and moisture damage. Velcro hook fasteners on the vinyl backing hold the mats firmly to the floor of the car. Heels won't catch and Patternique mats won't creep up to block the accelerator and brake pedals.

Women on the go can pick the mats to fit their car from five contemporary colors at automotive stores everywhere.

Whether that new car needs a bright distinctive touch or the old runabout cries for a face-lifting — Patternique car mats do the trick in the pretty, practical, decorative way women love.

Improve Cooking Skills

Johnson County homemakers, participating in the Expanded Nutrition program, are learning that cooking can be fun and exciting.

One homemaker, Mrs. Bernice Cooper, told Mrs. Sylvia Brixhoff, assistant home economics extension agent, "I've learned a lot."

For example, she said, I didn't know you could make cream from nonfat dry milk. I make it at least twice a week now and like to serve it on fruit cocktail.

The agent explained that nonfat dry milk can not be turned into cream, but does make a good whipped topping.

In addition, Mrs. Cooper showed Mrs. Brixhoff her canned products and elaborated on the meat loaf and yeast rolls program aide Mrs. Tunie Whittington had taught her to make.

Funds for the Expanded Nutrition program are provided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture through the Federal Extension Service. Aides are assigned to counties with the approval of county commissioners.

Makes It Spacious

"I didn't dream this bathroom would look this spacious," Surry County homemaker, Mrs. Donald Couch, commented.

What was the secret? The selection of white as the main color, believes Mrs. Christine S. Greene, home economics Extension agent.

The family selected white fixtures, a cabinet top that featured a white background with a fleck of green, and wallpaper that had flowers of pink, yellow and blue on a white background.

To add interest to the room, Mrs. Couch can repeat one or more of the wallpaper colors in her towels and other accessories, the agent points out.

Why use white in a bathroom? Mrs. Greene points out that white fixtures cost less than colored ones. White also reflects more light than any other color. White doesn't affect the color of a woman's complexion when putting on make-up and white is a clean-looking color that combines well with most any other color.

Cheathams Entertains Bridge Club

Youngsville - Mrs. E. R. Tharrington entertained her bridge club with a party at her home Thursday night.

Mrs. L. A. Woodlief and Mrs. N. A. Brown won the two high score prizes for the evening. Other guests playing bridge were Mesdames J. T. Moss, H. H. Reddick, R. E. Cheatham, Ben Hudson, B. H. Patterson and B. G. Mitchell.

Boston cream pie, roasted nuts and coffee were served by Mrs. Tharrington between the second and third progressions of bridge. Sesami stix and potato snacks were served with beverages later in the evening. The hostess was assisted by Miss Susie Tharrington.

Japanese scenes on bridge tallies were in keeping with decorative oriental arrangements in the home.

Entertain Couples Club

Youngsville - The Couples Bridge Club of Youngsville met Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cheatham. Guests playing bridge were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neeb, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reddick, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Woodlief, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Underwood, Mrs. N. A. Brown and Mrs. A. N. Corpening, and the host and hostess.

A Harvest theme was used for the party. Included in a decorative center of interest was a Scarecrow, pumpkin, fruit, autumn leaves and a squirrel. Bridge tallies were pumpkin cut-outs.

Refreshments served between progressions of bridge were Swiss Fondue, meat balls, sausages, apple pie, and other party foods.

Winning high score prizes for the evening were Mr. H. H. Reddick and Mrs. J. T. Moss. As partners during one six-hand progression, the two winners bid and made two grand slams and totaled 4660 points in the one progression. Three progressions were played during the evening.

Mrs. Weston Entertains Bridge Club

(Frk. B.W.) Mrs. C. H. Weston entertained her bridge club Wednesday evening. Her home was decorated with marigolds and other autumn flowers.

Mrs. Fred Blount received high score prize for club while second high went to Mrs. Vance Estes.

Mrs. J. D. Mode was presented the guest prize. Assisted by Mrs. H. A. McGhee and Mrs. Blount, the hostess served a dessert course with coffee to the club members and Mrs. Mode.

Ladies Feted By Epsom Lions

In keeping with several years' tradition, members of the Epsom Lions club and their wives were guests for dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Kesler

Thursday night. The Keslers have entertained the group at such an occasion annually for a number of years. Entirely social in nature, the affair was informal, designed as a fun and fellowship period. No business was transacted and no program given. Bobby Moss, club president, welcomed the members and their ladies, also recognizing several guests: Mrs. T. C. Gill, Mrs. Emma Huff, Mrs. Mattie Grissom, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mayes, Mrs. B. M. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Burgess, Mrs. Julian Moss, Mrs. Olive Foster and Mrs. Ed Cottrell. A special welcome was given a new Lion, Roger Fuller, and his wife.

Following the invocation offered by Lion John C. Allen, III, a meal consisting of barbecue, brunswick stew, barbecued chicken, slaw and all the trimmings was served.

Tables arranged in the den were laid informally with all white and red and white checkered cloths.

During the evening, President Moss reminded the group of the upcoming pancake supper planned by the club October 16 at Liberty Vance United Church of Christ. The pancake event has been a major fund-raising effort of the organization for the past several years, with proceeds used for various worthwhile charitable projects.

Dr. Corpening Attends AAGP Scientific Assembly

Youngsville - Dr. A. N. Corpening of Youngsville returned home Thursday night, October second, after attending the four-day Scientific Assembly for the American Academy of General Practice, held at the Civic Center in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Dr. Corpening attended three-hour Clinical Seminars each morning, for which he received educational credit. Live clinical demonstrations related to wide areas of medicine, were conducted for effective instruction. During the afternoons, Dr. Corpening attended scientific lectures.

The Assembly Faculty was made up of outstanding physicians from five medical schools in the Philadelphia area.

Approximately one hundred and seventy exhibits, both Scientific and Technical, proved to be of educational benefit.

Dr. Corpening was impressed with the talking machines used as a method of teaching at the Assembly.

Recently elected as Chief of Staff at the Wake Forest

Hospital, Dr. Corpening resides in Youngsville where he has offices. He has lived and practiced here and in surrounding areas since 1958. Mrs. Corpening accompanied her husband to Philadelphia.

OES Meets

William B. Barrow Chapter No. 39, OES, will hold a regular meeting tonight, October 7th, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The District Deputies will make their official inspection at this time, and all members are urged to attend.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY

BY JANE ASHLEY

Hearty Autumn Dish

Plan for corn pudding to grace your autumn dinner tables often. Nutritious as well as good tasting, it is a lovely way to serve vegetable tables. A generous serving of this robust corn pudding is sure to please the heartiest of appetites.

Corn Pudding

- 2 tablespoons corn starch
- 1 (1 pound, 1-ounce) can cream style corn
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 cup margarine, melted
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 3 egg whites

Mix corn starch, sugar and salt. Gradually add milk. Mix in corn, margarine and egg yolks. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form when beater is raised; fold into corn mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Set into pan of hot water to depth of 1 1/2 inches. Bake in 350° F. (moderate) oven 1 hour and 10 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

FRAMED ART SETS THE SCENE FOR FALL DECORATING ADVENTURE

Pulling in the patio furniture and making the big move back indoors for fall?

You can soften these last goodbyes to summer weather by turning your sights to the indoor decorating scene, the Picture and Frame Institute advises. Now is the time to start plans for decorating and home brightening projects to be carried out in the colder months ahead.

One sure way to get the decorative wheels turning is to spend an afternoon looking at framed art, considering what you would like to add to your own at-home art collection. The best decorating schemes are closely tied to the framed art included in them, the Institute points out. If you are looking for artwork to fit into an existing decorating scheme be careful to consider furniture, colors, textures, and proportion in making a choice. Don't, however, feel you are strictly tied to artwork from a specific period because of the furniture style you have chosen, the Institute says. In this day of mixing and matching period and contemporary pieces, careful intermingling of framed art from various periods according to your own taste can be your best path toward personalized interiors.

Once you've made the choice in framed art for your home, you can move ahead into fall with decorating plans and a new look for any room in your home.

Swap Talents

A Cleveland County homemaker found a good way to get her family-living room floor refinished at low cost.

She decided to exchange skills with a neighbor. Mrs. Paul Rameur agreed to make draperies for a neighbor's house if he would refinish her floors.

Each family got the job done at quite a saving, Thelma E. McVea, home economics Extension agent, notes.

This is the look that is. The great scroll takeover moving up a high front flap for a tailored, but feminine effect. Definitely the greatest accent for the well put-together separates ensemble of a swingly pleated skirt, soft-shaped blazer and long, long scarf.
