The Brillonte Junior Music Club met Tuesday, October 21, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Scoggin. The members of this newly organized club are students of Mrs. Scoggin.

Elected officers are: Rachel Harris, President; Ellen Pernell, Vice President; Nancy Carr, Secretary; Cathy McDonald, Treasurer.

The program consisted of piano selections by Nancy Carr, Neal Kimball, Cathy McDonald, Rachel Harris, Glen Medders, Elizabeth House, Sandra Stott, and Mrs. Scoggin.

Mrs. Walter McDonald and Mrs. Russell Stott served refreshments.

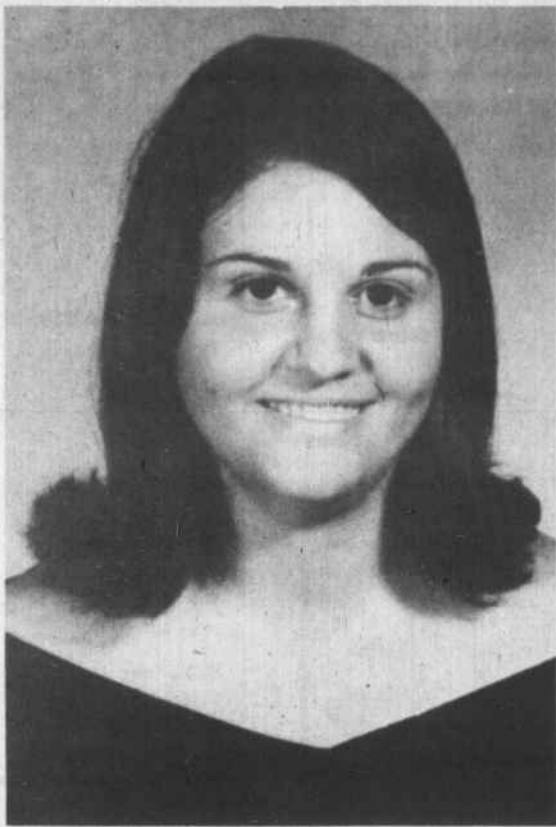

In Fashion

One of the top designers has featured very long coats in his fall collection and elegant evening dresses. Beaded chiffon pleated and a shine with jewels are used for a long dress while other frocks have skirts which are fourteen inches from the floor. His daytime suits have skirts just above the knees.

Scarves are the thing. The favorite way of wearing these is tied around the throat with ends hanging down. Others are worn beneath the collar and lapped over in front.

Some of the younger men perk up their outfits with a colorful scarf around the neck.

Luncheon Honors Miss Wiggins

Mrs. Elsie Mangum and daughter, Marilyn, honored Miss Jenny Wiggins, bride-elect of December 6, with a luncheon at their home in Wake Forest Saturday morning, October 25. The Mangum home was decorated with fresh-cut red roses. About fifteen guests attended the "get acquainted" luncheon for members of the wedding party and family.

Upon entering the dining room Miss Wiggins was presented a rose corsage. Each guest also received a single rose bud. The guests were served pear salad, ham, deviled eggs, creamed potatoes with garden peas, string beans, pickles, biscuits, and a variety of pie. At the conclusion of the meal, the hostesses presented the honored guest with a setting in her chosen china.

Miss Wiggins will marry Tommy Lloyd on December 6 at Flat Rock Baptist Church.

Teenage Club Celebrates Halloween

Youngsville - Members of the Youngsville Teenage Club had a Halloween costume party Saturday night at the Community house. Assorted characters were there for the festive event. Halloween decorations provided the setting and games and contest were played. Dancing was also enjoyed.

Chaperones for the evening were Mrs. Clarence Conyers and Mrs. Claude Edwards. To help celebrate her son Johnny's sixteenth birthday, Mrs. Conyers provided the teenagers with a birthday cake iced in chocolate and decorated with orange candy pumpkins. This was served with Coca-Colas, cookies, and nuts.

Men of wealth seem to just naturally think they are inclined to genius, even if they inherited the cash.

Baker, Carden Wed Sunday

Miss Jo Anne Carden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carden of Louisburg became the bride of Kenneth Lee Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Baker of Carolina Beach Sunday, October 26th at three o'clock. The Reverend T. Harold Steen of Red Oak, a former pastor of the bride officiated at the double ring ceremony at the Duke Memorial Baptist Church.

The church was decorated with floor standards of mountain emerald, a pair of matching brass urns holding massive arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, pompons and yellow roses. Illuminating the setting was soft candlelight from burning gold tapers in pyramid candelabra with tree candelabra on either side. Marking every other pew was a burning gold taper and satin ribbons with a cascade of white gladioli, pompons and yellow roses. A white aisle was laid which formed a walkway for the wedding party to the altar. A brass predieu placed at the altar entwined with bakers fern, white pompons, white gladioli and yellow roses completed the decorations.

Mrs. Carl McGregor, organist, and Mr. Carl McGregor, soloist and a cousin of the bride, presented a program of nuptial music before and during the ceremony. Mr. McGregor sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and the "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of Chantilly lace and chiffon, empire styled. The hi-rise bodice of lace had a Sabrina neckline and long Kahuki sleeves, the full skirt of chiffon fell into a chapel train.

The three-tiered veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a half-hat of lace petals outlined in pearls and pearlized orange blossoms. The bride carried a cascade of orchids, stephanotis and miniature carnations.

The bridesmaids and maid-of-honor were attired in identical gowns except for color; maid-of-honor in gold and bridesmaids in moss green. The floor length gowns, empire styled had rounded necklines in front and square in the back. The back featured a self-bow from which fell a train. The elbow sleeves had a wide white lace ruffle at sleeve length. The headpieces were pill-boxes of cloth and lace, each matching their particular color. The maid-of-honor carried a nosegay of yellow roses with olive net puffs and green brocade velvet ribbon. The bridesmaids flowers were nosegays of bronze and yellow pompons and yellow roses, gold brocade velvet ribbon with green net puffs.

Miss Rebecca Pearce of Louisburg was maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were: Miss Lou Roberson, Miss Phyllis Best and Miss Martha Pearce of Louisburg and Miss Donna Perry, cousin of the bride from Raleigh, Jr. bridesmaid.

Mr. Howard Congleton of Carolina Beach and Fort Benning, Georgia, was best man. Ushers were Rodney Everhart, Gary Doetsch and Mike Purvis, friends of the groom from Carolina Beach.

Mrs. Carden chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve silk shantung dress with matching accessories and her corsage was an off-white cymbidium orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore an off-white knit dress trimmed in silver with turquoise accessories and her corsage was an
