

Matthews, Finch Wed Here

Miss Brenda Carol Finch of Rolesville, N. C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Finch, Sr. of Louisburg, N. C., became the bride of Gerald Edward Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Matthews of Angier, N. C., Saturday, November 8 at 4:00 o'clock P.M. at Louisburg Baptist Church. The Reverend Aubrey S. Tomlinson officiated.

Mr. Finch gave his daughter in marriage. Matron of honor was Mrs. James Bracknell, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Matthews of Angier, sister of the groom, Miss Phyllis Giddens of Durham, Miss Betty Jo Darden of Raleigh, and Mrs. Freddy Duncan of Garner.

Mrs. J. T. Finch, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the register.

Mr. Matthews served as his son's best man. Ushers were Butch Wilson of Burlington, Gerald Eubanks of Trenton, Earl Young of Raleigh, Robin Dedrick of Raleigh, Kenneth Jackson of Angier, and Anthony Mills of Henderson.

Organist was Robert Lackey of Hopewell, Virginia and soloist was Miss Sandra Vick of Hopewell, Virginia, niece of the bride. Mrs. T. H. Pearce directed the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Louisburg High School and attended Hardbarger Business College. She is employed at North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles in Raleigh.

The groom is a graduate of Angier High School. He attended Chowan College and Campbell College. He is employed at Universal CIT Credit Corporation in Raleigh.

After a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, the couple will make their home at 2222 Bernard Street, Raleigh, North Carolina.

MRS. GERALD E. MATTHEWS

Lingerie Shower

A lingerie shower was given the bride on Friday night, October 24, 1969 at the home of Mrs. James Bracknell in Rolesville, N. C. Approximately 10 guests attended.

Dinner Party

The prospective bride and groom were given a dinner party Friday night, November 7, 1969 at the Murphy House. Honoring the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Matthews of Angier and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Crabtree of Durham. Members of the wedding party and special guests attended. Dinner was followed by a cake cutting. Approximately 35 guests attended.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gupton of Route 2, Louisburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann Gupton, to William B. Tippitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Tippett of Epsom, North Carolina.

The marriage will be solemnized on November 23, 1969 at Wood Baptist Church at 4:00 p.m.

All friends and relatives of the families are cordially invited to attend.

Entertains Bridge Club

Miss Gertrude Winston was hostess Friday evening to her bridge club at her home on Church Street.

Fall flowers decorated the living room.

Mrs. Joe A. Pearce received high score prize for the members, Miss Lucy Burt high for the guests, and Bingo prize was captured by Mrs. N. F. Freeman.

The hostess served delicious Ambrosia and fruitcake to the following: members, Mesdames N. F. Freeman, Joe A. Pearce, J. F. Matthews, Aubrey Bailey and guests, Lucy P. Burt, Mrs. Frances Tharrington and Mrs. Jessie Wilson.

Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us and expressions of sympathy extended to us at the recent death of our father. Each one will be long remembered.

The Family of C. Felton Cash

Engagement Announced

BETTY RUTH FREEMAN

Mrs. Louise Freeman of Route 1, Youngsville, North Carolina and the late Harold Freeman, announce the engagement of her daughter, Betty Ruth, to Mr. Freddie Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Hopkins of Eden, North Carolina. The wedding is planned for December 21, 1969 at 3 P.M. in the Youngsville Baptist Church. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Louisburg Gardeners Visit Jugtown Potters

On Thursday, November 6, The Louisburg Garden Club motored to Jugtown to visit and observe the demonstrations by the potters in this section.

Club members learned that a number of potters from Staffordshire, England settled in or near Moore County, around 1750, because of the availability of good surface clays. The potters made all kinds of jugs and jars to preserve and serve food, candlesticks for light and even jugs for grave headstones that can still be seen.

The making of pottery increased with the growth of the whiskey business but when prohibition became law in 1908 most of the potteries went out of business.

The story of Jugtown Pottery began in 1915 when two talented people from Raleigh, N. C., Jacques and Juliana Busbee became interested in the handicrafts of North Carolina which were on the wane early in this century.

When Mrs. Busbee was a judge at a county fair in Lexington she saw a "brilliant orange glaze pie plate." The Busbees' enthusiasm for the pie plate led them to Moore County in search for potters. They found only five or six continuing to make the crocks and jars needed by the neighborhood. The Busbees set themselves a challenge to revive the dying industry. They collected the ware and opened a tea room in New York to sell the pottery. It was a great success but there was not enough ware to supply the shop. In 1921 they decided to build and operate a pottery themselves naming it "Jugtown." They established rigorous standards for the ware and an exceptional pottery was created here and remained in great demand.

Jugtown continues today as a demonstration of the early life-style of American potters. The buildings are long cabins, the pug mill is drawn by horse, and the ware is turned by hand and fired in ward and oil burning kilns.

Other potteries visited by the club members were the Ben Owens' Pottery, Coles' Pottery and Seagrove Pottery. At Seagrove, a tour of the Potters Museum was conducted by Mr. Tom Presnell, historian for the museum.

The story of Jugtown and surrounding potters area should be of interest to all North Carolinians as it is part of their cultural and historical heritage.

creased with the growth of the whiskey business but when prohibition became law in 1908 most of the potteries went out of business.

The story of Jugtown Pottery began in 1915 when two talented people from Raleigh, N. C., Jacques and Juliana Busbee became interested in the handicrafts of North Carolina which were on the wane early in this century.

When Mrs. Busbee was a judge at a county fair in Lexington she saw a "brilliant orange glaze pie plate." The Busbees' enthusiasm for the pie plate led them to Moore County in search for potters. They found only five or six continuing to make the crocks and jars needed by the neighborhood. The Busbees set themselves a challenge to revive the dying industry. They collected the ware and opened a tea room in New York to sell the pottery. It was a great success but there was not enough ware to supply the shop. In 1921 they decided to build and operate a pottery themselves naming it "Jugtown." They established rigorous standards for the ware and an exceptional pottery was created here and remained in great demand.

Jugtown continues today as a demonstration of the early life-style of American potters. The buildings are long cabins, the pug mill is drawn by horse, and the ware is turned by hand and fired in ward and oil burning kilns.

Other potteries visited by the club members were the Ben Owens' Pottery, Coles' Pottery and Seagrove Pottery. At Seagrove, a tour of the Potters Museum was conducted by Mr. Tom Presnell, historian for the museum.

The story of Jugtown and surrounding potters area should be of interest to all North Carolinians as it is part of their cultural and historical heritage.

Parties Honor Bride-elect

On November 4 at the home of Kay Snipes on Lexington Ave. in Raleigh, Miss Jenny Wiggins was honored with a Miscellaneous shower. The hostesses, Miss Teresa Davis, Miss Cathy Perkins, and Miss Kay Snipes, presented Miss Wiggins with a yellow mum corsage.

After playing bridal games, the bride received many useful gifts. The gift table was covered with a cut-work cloth and was accented by a bride doll.

Approximately twenty guests were served lime sherbert, open-faced chicken salad sandwiches, nuts, mints, and diamond bridal cakes decorated with white wedding bells. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth.

The Social hall of the Education Building at Flat Rock Baptist Church was the scene of a surprise party for the leader of the Youth Choir, Miss Jenny Wiggins on November 6, 1969.

The group gave Miss Wiggins a white mum corsage. Mrs. Douglas Holmes presented Miss Wiggins a silver serving tray from the Youth Choir.

From a serving table covered with a gold cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow mums, refreshments of fruit punch, assorted cookies, and potato chips were served. Approximately fifty people were in attendance.

The Youngsville Community House was the setting for a Floating Miscellaneous Shower honoring Miss Jenny Wiggins on November 7 from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. The Community House was decorated with arrangements of yellow miniature pompons. The piano was adorned with bridal dolls on each end with ivory entwined between the two. The beauty of the room was enhanced by burning gas logs in the fireplace. The mantle was centered by an arrangement of yellow miniature pompons with ivory and greenery trailing to its sides.

The serving table was covered with a white satin tablecloth which was overlaid with green net. Wedding bells and ribbons flowed from each of the corners. The centerpiece was composed of an arrangement of yellow miniature pompons in a silver candelabra with yellow ribbons gently falling to the table below.

Guests were served White Wedding punch, and an assortment of cookies, mints, and nuts. Punch was served alternately by Mrs. Hayward Wiggins, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. George Lloyd.

mother of the groom-elect. The hostesses for the occasion were aunts of the bride-elect. Miss Wiggins was presented a yellow mum corsage by the hostesses. Those assisting with the serving were Mesdames: Howard Perry, H. B. Perry, Millard Perry, Fred Wheeler, Brooks Young, and Howard Mangum. Approximately fifty guests called during the evening.

Miss Wiggins will marry Tommy Lloyd on December 6 at Flat Rock Baptist Church.

Decorations Made By Gardeners

The November meeting of the Gay Gardeners Junior Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. John Mills, club counselor, Friday afternoon.

Upon arriving, Miss Rhonda Grady, hostess for the afternoon, served the members light refreshments.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Cindy Wilder, vice-president. The roll call and minutes of previous meeting were read by Miss Cathy McDonald, secretary. Miss Becky White, conservation chairman, reported that the club won a blue ribbon and fifteen dollars on their fair booth. Miss Gaynell Harris, finance chairman, reported that the club would sell note paper as a money making project. Miss Cindy Debnam told the club about the Christmas Display that the club would have with the Louisburg Garden Club, December 9th and 10th at the First Citizen Bank. Miss Cindy Wilder, program chairman, announced that the club's program for December would be a tour of the Governor's Mansion to see Christmas Decorations.

The workshop for the afternoon was making Christmas tree decorations. Mrs. Marvin Pleasants, counselor supervised the workshop.

Juvenile Paradise

Missionary: Now, in Africa, there are miles and miles without a single school. Why ought we to save our pennies? Jackie: To pay our fare to Africa.

Pals

"Girls, my pal over there is going to surprise everyone at the party tonight by singing, so I guess I'll accompany him."

"On the piano?"

"No, to the hospital."

It is astonishing how little you miss the news that you do not hear about.

50th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. C.A. BATTON

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie A. Batton were honored by their children on their golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday, November 8, at their home in Bunn. Hosts were Mrs. Avon W. Bryant of Spring Hope, Mrs. Cyrus M. Johnson of Greensboro, Mrs. Tom Green of Red Oak, Donald E. Batton Jackson, Charles F. Batton of Goldsboro and David G. Batton of Bunn.

Franklinton

Mrs. Royster Speaks To Woman's Club

(Frk. B.W.) The Franklinton Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. C. Ray Pruette Thursday evening with Mrs. Woodrow Haskins presiding. Devotionals were presented by Mrs. Julia Carr, club chaplain.

The guest speaker was Mrs. J. M. Royster of Oxford, who is Education Chairman for the Fourteenth District and also for the State Federation of Women's Club. Introduced by Mrs. Pruette, the speaker gave an informative talk about the Education Department.

Mrs. Royster gave facts about the five divisions of the department. First, she named the Library Services Division because so many clubs indicate strong support for libraries. Over $10,000 was given in cash gifts to libraries in North Carolina by Federated Women's Clubs last year.

In the Public Education

Division, she stressed the fact that many clubs provide scholarships and loan funds. Mrs. Royster urged the local club to participate in the Shell Oil Award which covers work done in Education. Communications Division reports indicated the use of club bulletins, newspapers, telephones, radios and TV to let the public know about club projects.

Continuing Education and ESO Division was stressed by Mrs. Royster. She urged the women to further their education and to participate in the ESO Reading Program.

Lastly, the speaker talked about the Leadership Development Division.

Mrs. Haskins presented a corsage and Mrs. Pruette presented a gift to Mrs. Royster as tokens of appreciation.

Mrs. Haskins congratulated the club members for their cooperation in making the district meeting a success. She announced that the club's yearbook won a blue ribbon and that the club was an Honor Roll Club.

A letter, from Mrs. A. W. King, was read in which she thanked the club members for the clothes contributed to the Clothes Closet. The club members voted to participate in Operation Santa Claus.

New place mats were displayed by the club president. She urged the members to sell the fruit cakes.

Mrs. Lynn Brewer reported that she had had a meeting of the 1970 Fine Arts Department. She announced that a trip to the State Art Museum would be scheduled for March.

Mrs. Pruette announced that American Education Week would be observed November 9-15 and that Open House would be observed Wednesday, November 12, at the local high school.

Mrs. Richard Whitfield took the chair and then recognized Mrs. Haskins, a member of the Constitution and By Laws Committee. Revisions were read, discussed and approved with one change.

Special guests were Mrs. Mildred Duncan of Oxford and Mrs. Barbara Hobson. Mrs. Jack Austin was welcomed as a new member by Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, membership chairman.

Members of the Education Department served coffee, nuts, pizza sticks, and marshmallow treats during the social hour. Serving as hostess were Misses Edith Jackson, Frances Wortham and Mesdames Julia Carr, Gordon Patterson, DeWitt VanArsdale, W. A. Shearon and Mrs. Pruette.

Celebrate Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. C.O. RENN

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Renn were honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary, November 2nd, with a reception at the educational building at Maple Springs Church. Hosts were their children and grandchildren. Their children are: Mrs. Jane Pearce, Raleigh; Mrs. Syble Woodard, Spring Hope; Mrs. Mary Bailey, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Peggy Pinnell, Castalia; Mrs. Faye Shearin and Mrs. Jeanette Rowe, Louisburg; Macon Renn, Henderson; Wilson Renn, Raleigh; Alvin Renn, Hampton, Va.; and Lewis Renn, Jacksonville, N. C.

To Have Crafts Workshop

Youngsville - A Crafts Workshop featuring holiday ideas will be conducted at the Youngsville Woman's Club meeting to be held on Monday night, November seventeenth.

Presenting the program will be the Crafts Division of the Fine Arts Department which included Chairman

Mrs. N. A. Brown, and Mesdames J. W. Weathers, Sr., R. E. Timberlake, L. R. Evans, A. E. Hall and J. E. Underwood.

We know of nothing more futile than to argue with an emotional man about his religion.

Youngsville

Dr. and Mrs. Grover Lee Moore of Portsmouth, Virginia were here during the past week for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Patterson.

Mr. Jones Winston was away on a business trip in California this week. He left with a group of business people on a chartered plane Monday morning at the Raleigh-Durham airport, to return home Tuesday night of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pearce returned home Sunday night after a trip to Tennessee to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Oxendine.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Wilkinson of Raleigh visited with relatives here Sunday.

IT'S COMING

Bridal Stationery
Wedding Announcements
AND Invitations

Above all, your wedding reflects you, down to the smallest detail. When choosing the bridal stationery for your wedding needs, let our services guide you.

The Franklin Times