Bake Pineapple Oat Drops For Kiddie Party

Go ahead, be old fashioned and bake at least one batch of fat bumpy oatmeal drop cookies especially for the children during the holidays. Youngsters enjoy best hearty cookies that are filled with familiar food flavors. Pineapple Oatmeal Drops are ideal treats. As every mother knows, oatmeal cookies are good for children. Rolled oats, like other cereals, provide valuable nutrients. These taste good, are easy to make and truly wholesome. The cookies freeze well, too, for several weeks.

Let the children entertain their crowd with a platter of the cookies and nuts of hot chocolate. Simple table decorations such as felt ski-means, greens, and colorful candles are inexpensive and festive.

Pineapple Oatmeal Drops
 1 1/4 cups sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1/2 cup shortening
 1 cup brown sugar, packed
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind
 1 cup well-drained crushed pineapple
 1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
 1 cup chopped, mixed candied fruit
 1 1/2 cups rolled oats, uncooked, quick or regular

Combine flour, salt and soda; sift into bowl. Beat shortening and sugar together until creamy. Add egg, vanilla and orange rind; beat well. Stir in pineapple, mixing well. Add sifted dry ingredients, 1/2 at a time, mixing well after each addition. Stir in nuts, fruit and oats and mix well. Drop level tablespoons of dough onto lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) until lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: About 5 1/2 dozen.

In Fashion

Clogs are in again and heavy heels are seen on the new shoes.

Get out grandmother's old knitted shawl and drape it around the head and shoulder. Dye it a brilliant color and you will be in the mod set.

For people who bicycle a lot, a rain set of pants and cropped off rain cape is just the thing for rainy days.

Man Of Means

Barely had he paid off the mortgage on his house when he mortgaged it again to buy a new car. Then he went to a loan broker to borrow money on the car so that he could build a garage.

"If I do make this loan," asked the broker, "how will you buy gas for the car?"
 "It seems to me," the man replied indignantly, "that if a man owns his own house, car and garage she should be able to get credit for gas."

Any Spare Ribs?

"He was kicked out of school for cheating."
 "How come?"
 "He was caught counting his ribs in a physiology exam."

Testing

Guy: "Hey, I thought you were on a diet."
 Gal: "I am."
 Guy: "Then, why did you order a banana split?"
 Gal: "Just to test my will-power."

He Ought To Know

Mrs. Youngbride (tearfully) - By the way you treat me, anyone would think that I'm nothing but the cook in this family.
 Hubby - Not after the first meal, they wouldn't.

Mrs. H. C. Taylor Speaks To Louisburg Woman's Club

Editor's Note: Due to circumstances beyond our control, we were not able to use this article Tuesday:

The Louisburg Woman's Club met Wednesday night, November 19, at 6:45 at the home of Mrs. Janie Tippett. After a delicious dinner by candlelight, Mrs. Dot Clay introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Virginia Taylor. Mrs. Taylor, an outstanding member of the Louisburg Garden Club, spoke on Christmas decorations. She emphasized choosing a favorite color or colors and decorating one's entire home around this theme using live greens and personal touches. Mrs. Shirley Carter and Mrs. Louise Jeffreys reported that the fall dance was the most successful in the history of the club with 133 couples attending. Everyone was commended for their hard work and fine cooperation.

Mrs. Dorenda Stewart, chairman of the International Affairs Department, reported on the committee meetings and encouraged all members to stay "in the know" on world happenings and truly be "concerned women in action". Mrs. Stewart announced that her department would sponsor a "Penny a Meal" drive to collect a contribution at the end of the club year for Project Concern, National Federation's self-help program for underprivileged nations. Members were urged to fly their American flags on all proper occasions.

The president, Mrs. Barbara Alston, showed the group the beautiful silver tray award won by the group for the Gaynelle Denton award at the District XIV fall meeting. Mrs. Carol Johnson announced that the annual Christmas party will be held Saturday night, December 20. All members and their husbands were urged to attend.

Mrs. Joyce Holton, chairman of committee for the float for the parade, announced that plans for a spectacular float were well underway and asked that all members report to Ford's warehouse Tuesday and Wednesday night, Nov.

25 & 26 to help decorate the float.

Mrs. Dot Clay reported that several other local organizations were aware of the need in Franklin County for a Clothing Closet and would help support this project. Mrs. Alston appointed the following committee to organize a local Clothing Closet: Mrs. Martha Medlin, chairman; Mesdames Janie Tippett, Linda Griffin and Louise Jeffreys. Good used articles of clothing are being gathered now for distribution to those in need of these things. The public is invited and encouraged to help support this much needed project.

Window Dressing

"Could I try on that red dress in the window?" asked the bright young thing.

"There's no need to do that," the elderly shop assistant answered coldly: "we have several fitting rooms."
