

Youngsville Woman's Club Has Party

Youngsville - With Christmas decorations and candlelight providing a holiday setting, members of the Youngsville Woman's Club had their annual Christmas party at the community house Monday night the fifteenth. Entertainment was directed by Mesdames Clarence Conyers, Allen Stallings, W. T. Holden, B. F. Woodlief and J. J. Hart. Prizes were given to winners of games and contests.

Members wore Christmas Bell cut-outs which were pinned on upon arrival and used in relation to the fun and games.

Christmas Carols were sung by all under the leadership of Mrs. A. N. Corpening as Mrs. W. T. Holden accompanied at the piano.

With a "Ho-Ho-Ho" and Merry Christmas, Santa Claus arrived, extending greetings to all. He remained long enough to distribute gifts which members had brought to exchange.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mesdames Ray Pearce, James Smith, W. C. Timberlake, Claude Edwards, Bruce Strickland and Vernon Grissom. Refreshments included strawberry punch, Christmas cookies, mixed nuts, a variety of party sandwiches, cheese straws and Christmas tree mints. Candy canes were on each plate.

President Mrs. Ben Hudson presided at the club business session which opened with a devotional by Mrs. L. J. Phillips. The Clubwoman's Hymn was sung by members.

Mrs. Phillips, as chairman of the club nominating committee to secure officers for the new club year beginning in January, presented the following slate which was elected:

President, Mrs. A. N. Corpening; First Vice President, Miss Susie Tharrington; Second Vice President, Mrs. J. E. Underwood; Recording Secretary, Mrs. N. A. Brown; Corresponding, Mrs. B. G. Mitchell and Treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Pearce.

Help-A-Home Chairman J. H. Judson

TRICKS FOR HOLIDAY TABLE SETTINGS: The drama of these Christmas music, print napkins is heightened by folding them on the plates and using "Deck the Halls" lyrics on a linen print as runners—all on a pure linen tablecloth in solid red or green.

Mrs. A. Y. Allen received groceries brought by members to be given to selected families for Christmas.

Projects chairman Mrs. L. A. Woodlief announced that judging for the Christmas Home Exterior Decoration Contest will be Monday night, December twenty-second, between the hours of seven-thirty and eight-thirty. Everyone in the community is encouraged to have their home more attractive than ever. Three winners will be selected and given ribbons of honor.

Mrs. Woodlief reported that with contributions for John Umstead, she had bought a coffee urn and taken it to Louisburg for delivery.

Twenty-five bags of candy for veterans in the hospital during the holidays were taken to the Red Cross in Raleigh for distribution.

Mrs. Vernon Grissom was appointed by the President to serve as Chairman of the annual March of Dimes Drive to be sponsored locally by the club in January.

The Club's "Christmas Cheer" project is continuing, with several activities planned for the coming week.

Mesdames Langston, McGhee Have Dinner-Bridge Parties

(Frk. B.W.) Mrs. Barbara Langston entertained her bridge club and guests at dinner bridge at 6:30 Tuesday evening at her home. Mrs. T. J. McGhee was co-hostess.

The hostesses served chicken a la king in pastry shells, cranberry salad, string beans, hot rolls, coffee and fruit cocktail cake topped with whipped cream. Miniature Christmas trees adorned the dessert plates.

Mrs. W. F. Miller won high score prize for club while second high went to Mrs. Julia Carr.

Mrs. Harry Coulter was the recipient of guest high and Mrs. John Gonella, second high.

Special guests were Mesdames Coulter, Gonella, W. W. Cooke, J. A. Cox, George Cooke, Vance Estes, Gordon Patterson, S. C. Ford, John Green, W. H. M. Jenkins, Olive Jenkins, Hubert Utley and Crawford Kearney.

The tallies were decorated with bells and candles with holly and berries. The Langston home was decorated with berries and candles.

The Cherub choir, under the leadership of Mrs. A. N. Corpening, presented a selection of holiday songs, with Mrs. Al DePorter as piano accompanist. In the choir were Steve Phillips, Charlie Corpening, David Weatherford, Karen Sanders, Andi Lindsey and Cora Underwood. Besides singing as a group, the children had solo parts.

Kelly Corpening presented "Twas The Night Before Christmas". Dressed for the part in a long nightgown trimmed with ruffles and ribbon, she sat in a rocker by the fireplace, with the Cherub group and two smaller children. Camille Corpening and Leslie Phillips, gathered around her on a braided rug. The setting included a table holding a tray of apples and popcorn. An old fashioned corn popper was by the fireplace.

As a solo presentation, Mrs. Corpening sang, "White Christmas".

Guests participated in several contests. Two Christmas stockings were given as prizes; one to Mrs. Johnnie Edwards for having the smallest foot and one to Mr. A. C. Thomas for the largest. Mrs. G. E. Winston won a prize for having a birthday nearest the twenty-fifth.

Mr. C. H. Roberts and Rev. E. M. Carter tied for being the oldest present. They are both ninety-one. Mr. Roberts also won a prize for having the most children. Mrs. W. H. Hight and Blanche Mitchell won a candy guessing game, with Mrs. Roy Strickland as runner-up.

The program was concluded with all singing Christmas Carols.

Golden Glow Punch was served by Clubmember Mrs. G. E. Winston. Refreshments included red and green coconut bon-bons, strawberry confections, frosty white cookies decorated with holly wreaths, cheese straws, nuts and mints.

The serving table decorated by Mrs. Patterson, featured a plush table tree made of red velvet bows topped with tiny red balls. Chains of shining red beads extended from the tree top out to low silver candle sticks bearing lighted red tapers. The arrangement was on a green net cloth underlined with green tafetta, caught up at corners with red velvet bows and holly.

The table for favor, decorated by the hostess committee for the party, was covered with a cloth matching that of the serving table. An old fashioned lamp filled with scented red oil was lit at one end of the table by an open Bible and antique spectacles. At the other end was an arrangement of holly in a pair of spool-heeled high top shoes with buttoned up felt spats.

Red and white Christmas programs made by Mrs. Woodlief were given to each guest.

Lapel favors for guests were handmade. Knit boots for the men, holding tiny candy canes, were made by Mrs. N. A. Brown. Crochet wreaths decorated with sequins and glitter were made by Mrs. J. W. Weathers, Sr. and Mrs. L. R. Evans, with some help from other clubwomen.

Mrs. J. E. Underwood, Mrs. Marvin Roberts, Mrs. W. S. Preddy and Mrs. Patterson assisted with the serving. Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Ben

Senior Citizens Have Christmas Party

Youngsville - A Senior Citizens Party sponsored by the Youngsville Woman's Club was held at the community house Sunday afternoon, December 14, with hostesses for the club being Mesdames R. E. Cheatham, A. E. Hall, L. A. Woodlief and J. T. Moss. A number of other club members assisted with the party and Christmas program which was held amid festive holiday decorations.

The building was decorated December ninth for use throughout the Yuletide season. Each group using this community center has only to decorate their serving tables. Decorations were done as a service project of the Woman's Club, by Mrs. B. H. Patterson who was assisted by Mrs. Cheatham.

Poinsettia blooms banked on the mantel extend upward in the center creating a Christmas tree design. Candle cups placed in tiers around the arrangement, accent the tree. Poinsettia lamps at either side of the fireplace glow with a soft red light in the center of each flower. Holly garlands are entwined around lamp stems. Decorative stockings are hung by the fireplace.

A poinsettia tree arrangement decorates the piano top. Outside door wreaths and inside doorway garlands are of holly. Sprigs of mistletoe are an added interest. A glittering silver Christmas tree trimmed with crystal prisms, complimented with a revolving spotlight, has a sparkling silver tree skirt underneath.

The program for the Senior Citizens Party was centered around the lighted fireplace. At either side was a green rocker.

Club President Mrs. Ben Hudson welcomed guests; and Mrs. A. E. Hall presided. Club Chaplain Mrs. L. J. Phillips had the devotional. Miss Connie Woodlief presented "A Christmas Meditation".

Costumed as a fairy in show white robe and shining tinsel, young Cora Underwood waved her magic wand as she recited "The Christmas Fairy".

The Cherub choir, under the leadership of Mrs. A. N. Corpening, presented a selection of holiday songs, with Mrs. Al DePorter as piano accompanist.
