A Dangerous Assault and a Serious Result.
 Last night, just before nine o'clock, a colored man, unknown in the city, stepped into Curtis' barber shop (colored), on Wilmington street, and called for a shave and hair-cut. After he was accommodated he said he had no money with him, and asked Curtis to send some one out with him to bring it back. Curtis asked Jas. Pugh (colored) to go, and Pugh started off with the stranger. When at the corner of Johnson and Salisbury streets, Pugh asked the man where he was going to get the money. If he intended sending it back, the stranger made no reply. But suddenly turned and plunged a knife into Pugh's abdomen, gave it a terrific jerk and made it cut reaching nearly across the stomach. He then ran. Pugh fell in the street and was found a few moments later with his entrails protruding from the horrible cut. The police were notified by telephone and immediately went to the spot where they found the injured man nearly dead. He was taken to the station house, a physician was summoned and all possible relief was given. The protruding entrails were put back and the gash sewed up. While the wound is a ghastly and horrible one, it may not prove fatal. The range negro has not been seen since and his name was not learned last night. The police are making every effort to catch him. The amount of money sent after was 25 cents.

The Stock Farm.
 In the NEWS AND OBSERVER of yesterday casual mention was made of the fine stock just brought here by Capt. Williamson. We regard the enterprise as of so much value to the State, however, that we desire to refer to the matter again, giving in detail the pedigree of the several animals.

First on the list is Honeyucke, a bay mare, bred by Henry Meryon, and of great length. Honeyucke is by Harry Medium, the sire of Mary Cobb, the fastest stallion by the record that ever lived, and of more horses with records of 2:30, and better than any other horse now living. Two of the get of Harry Medium have entered the charmed circle this year. The dam of Honeyucke is Susan Brady, by Cassius M. Clay, Jr., sire of Harry Clay, 2:23, and her second dam was by Alexander's Abdallah, sire of Goldsmith Maid. Honeyucke has a head of great beauty and a strong jaw. Her dam, Mrs. Wilkes, was one of the great horses of the Grant Army of the Republic. Why shouldn't it? They are concerned to a cause which to those who gathered around them was as holy as honor and truth. I would have no faith in home and liberty if those men did not love their old flags. So too we loved ours. Let us get out of the universe when hatred of the South is called loyalty to the north. I am going to show you that our children should love their flags. I am going to show you that the man is better who has the nerve to do justice, whatever it costs. Was there any honor in carrying these old flags? They too were worn by the patriotic hands of Southern women. They were delivered to husbands and brothers, consecrated by tears and prayers. Some were rent with bullets, blackened with gunpowder and reddened with the blood of brave men. Don't we build monuments to the Confederate dead? Why? General Grant, the greatest general of the Union army, said he was willing to share in the dedication of a monument to the Confederate dead. There is no good sense in it, and the man who tries to stir your passions does not deserve your votes. You see in some of your papers column after column about the rebel flags. This is the truth. I was there. There were in all that great central city of Macon, Ga., a dozen Confederate flags and 50,000 of the Stars and Stripes and yet some people are so color-blind that they could not see anything but rebel flags, and yet the very same that bore Jeff Davis, and the horses that drew him were literally covered with Union flags. The very horse that he was in was covered with them so as almost blind him. Some speeches were made. A leader was chosen to present a memento of affection to his wife and the great climax of it was that the Union was rehabilitated on a firmer basis than ever."

The Theobald Case.
 WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 29.—Today J. Hale Sypher, attorney for George H. Theobald, contestant, vs. John G. Carlisle, for a seat in the Fifth Congress, filed copies of his brief with the clerk of the House, as required by law. The brief asserts that Theobald was elected by six hundred majority. This result is found by rejecting about 1,000 votes cast for Mr. Carlisle and about 200 votes cast for Theobald, which were polled at precincts where it is claimed that the laws of Kentucky were not observed. The brief cites a Congressional precedent from 1791 to prove that Congress maintained this view of the law of elections. It also quotes the admissions by Carlisle in his answer to the contested notice, which are held to be fatal to his title to the seat.

Total Visible Supply of Cotton.
 New York, Oct. 29.—The total visible supply of cotton for the week ending Oct. 29, 1887, is 2,239,947 bales, of which 1,718,317 bales are American, against 1,861,349 bales and 1,486,040 bales respectively last year. Receipts of cotton for the week from all interior towns, 192,019 bales; receipts from plantations, 343,987 bales. Crop in sight, 2,068,956.

Los Angeles' Greatest Fire.
 LOS ANGELES, CAL., Oct. 29.—The most extensive fire in the history of Los Angeles broke out at the California Central Railroad freight depot last evening. It started in an oil car on the track near the depot. The origin is not known. In a few minutes the whole freight depot, covering hundred feet long, was in flames. The building was consumed with all its contents. It was full of freight. About twenty freight cars loaded with various classes of goods were burned.

GORDON

SPEAKING IN CINCINNATI, OHIO.
 HIS FINE DEFENSE OF THE SOUTHERNS' REVERENCE FOR JEFFERSON DAVIS—OTHER NEWS BY WIRE.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 29.—In his speech last night, Gov. Gordon of Georgia, called to the attention of Jeff Davis at Macon as follows: "It is charged that we plotted Jefferson Davis. Does that mean going to war against? Let us reason. Suppose we didn't. Suppose we turned our back on this peace-faced, broken down old man. What did he do that I haven't done? I don't think I shot anybody, but I tried pretty hard. You might ask me to turn a cold shoulder on the wife of my personal friend. She went with me to the front. She followed up to camp, shared my dangers, and to the picket line and was at times in danger of the bullet, and nudged Providence to let her tender nursing that my life was spared. Why should I hate her? If we should turn our backs on that man, refuse him our sympathies, we should merit the scorn of every brave man in this audience, and you would feel an absolute contempt for us. When Jeff Davis left the United States Senate he left it with respect and full of political honors. For weeks he became poor and abandoned forever from political honors in his own country. He lingers today with broken health and scarcely a piece to lay his head, dragging after him wounded limbs, with the increasing suffering that followed him from Darca Vista. What would you think of me if I said, 'Go home, I have no more use for you?'"

A Railroad Strike.
 HENRYSVILLE, ALA., Oct. 29.—Through conductor John McElroy of American, No. 22, and J. W. W. No. 4 of New York, W. H. Wood, Leopold Sigmond and Abraham Friedberg, of New York, have filed a bill in the Circuit Court here against the Memphis, Charleston and East Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia & Florida Railroad Company, to prevent the company from performing its duties. A bill in the Circuit Court here against the Memphis, Charleston and East Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia & Florida Railroad Company, to prevent the company from performing its duties. A bill in the Circuit Court here against the Memphis, Charleston and East Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia & Florida Railroad Company, to prevent the company from performing its duties.

President Daily to Resign.
 PARIS, October 30.—La Justice reports that President Grevy has agreed to postpone tendering his resignation in consequence of an interview with M. de Selves, Secretary of State, who declared that many members of the Council of Ministers would revoke their first vote on the motion for the appointment of a committee to inquire into the Cavaignac scandal when it became evident that their vote might be susceptible of an ambiguous interpretation. Other papers assert that there is a possibility of President Grevy's resignation.

Weekly Bank Statement.
 NEW YORK, October 23.—The following is the weekly statement of the associated banks: Reserve in excess, $2,598,540; total decrease, $833,500; specie increase, $1,993,900; legal tender increase, $824,200; deposits increase, $876,600; circulation increase, $101,100. The banks now hold $11,962,175 in excess of the 25 per cent rule.

Cholera at New York.
 NEW YORK, October 29.—The health officer to-day reports with reference to the cholera cases in quarantine that the alien passengers are all well and that the two passengers from the Britannia are improving. One child, one year old, died last evening and two persons were sent to the hospital.

CONFLICT

BETWEEN STATE AND FEDERAL AUTHORITY.

Colonel Wadwell, of North Carolina, the Orator.
 General Taliferro, in fitting phrase, introduced the orator of the evening.

Colonel Wadwell was warmly received by the association and the crowd, and was loudly applauded. With graceful and eloquent allusion to the memories of the occasion and some very fine satire on the changes in the opinions held by certain reputed statesmen of the present, Colonel Wadwell quoted from Col. Charles Marshall's speech before the Association some years ago as to the very great difficulty of giving accurately historic facts. Among other illustrations of this Colonel Wadwell cited the mistake that had been made in the accounts of Pettigrew's division at Gettysburg. He eloquently insisted, amid the loud applause of the audience, that while he would not detract from the honor that justly belongs to Pickett's division, yet it was due to Pettigrew's division of North Carolinians and Archer's Tennessee brigade to say that on that last day at Gettysburg they went so far and stayed so long as any other troops, and are entitled to equal honor with Pickett's men. He approvingly introduced his theme "The Last Year of the War in North Carolina." He gave a very vivid account of the capture of Plymouth which seemed to be of great interest to the audience. He then alluded to an account of the formation and final capture of Pickett's division. He also gave a very amusing account of Butler's powdermill and the explosion, and told an anecdote given him by Arthur Potter, which brought down the house in rapturous applause. His description of the final assault and capture of Fort Fisher and the gallant defense of the heroic garrison was very fine. Colonel Wadwell next spoke of the assuming of command by General J. E. Johnston, and the ability with which he conducted his operations, and this was loudly applauded. He also paid a tribute to General Hampton's operations, which elicited loud applause. His contrast between the conduct of Cornwallis' army in their march through North Carolina and the infamous conduct of Sherman's hordes was very striking. Colonel Wadwell complimented General Taliferro on his splendid fight at Averasboro, and then gave a very interesting account of the Confederate victory at Bentonville. He described the retreat, which was loudly applauded. He then alluded to the late Col. Wadwell, and his speech which with humor and wit told anecdotes, which brought down the house in applause. The whole speech was an admirable one.

Presbyterian Synod.
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Synod at Fayetteville met Wednesday at 9:30 a. m.

Mr. J. H. Houston addressed the Synod on the Foreign Mission work. He pointed out many matters of encouragement, made many practical suggestions, and closed with an eloquent appeal. On his suggestion a committee was appointed to make arrangements for simultaneous meetings in February next, in the interest of mission work.

An overture against the action of Mecklenburg Presbytery in regard to the liquor traffic, and a complaint against Wilmington Presbytery in regard to the licensure of a candidate for the ministry, were referred to the Judicial Committee.

An overture from Orange Presbytery asking if it be lawful to license and ordain a candidate at the same meeting of Presbytery was referred to the committee on bills and overtures, which reported today that it was unadvisable. The report was adopted by a large majority.

"What is that mother?" "The risk, my child." "The year it was built all the people went wild." "They crowded its walls and to music's glad sound." "On furniture castors they slid themselves round." "But the fool-kicker came with his two-handed club." "And he smote all the sliders from gray." "I vowed to eub." "And the building's silent is used, as you see." "By the Mother's gamboling and Shroud Company." "Burdette." "Helen—Mamma, what is a casus belli?" "Mother—My child, never speak of anything so judicious. Is is the Latin for stomach-ache." —Life.

stimulate the blood. Brand's Pills are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body. —they may be called the purgative and antidote of disease. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cure disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

KNOXVILLE VOTES A SUBSCRIPTION.

BUT FORTY-FIVE VOTES AGAINST THE PROPOSITION—THE ROAD TO BE COMPLETED IN EIGHTEEN MONTHS.
 OTHER NEWS BY WIRE.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 29.—Knoxville today voted on the proposition to subscribe $100,000 for the Carolina, Knoxville & Western railroad. The subscription was carried by an overwhelming majority. In a population of nearly 40,000 but 44 votes were polled against the proposition. The new road will run from Knoxville to Augusta and Port Royal. All the counties in East Tennessee and North Carolina through which the road is to run have voted liberal subscriptions. The road is to be completed in eighteen months. The road is now in progress on the South Carolina side of the line. Surveys are now being made to extend the road from Knoxville westward to the Cincinnati Southern Railroad. Only two months ago the city of Knoxville subscribed half a million dollars to the Powell Valley Railroad and the Knoxville Southern Railroad, both of which are in rapid process of construction.

The Daring and Daring Riders With Barrett's Big Circus.
 The array of eminent equestrians with the Barrett show, which exhibits in Raleigh Saturday, November 12th is unusually imposing. Manager Barrett has always had a penchant for equestrianism and this season he has carried out his pet idea by securing the greatest number of riders that ever appeared in one establishment. From among the lady riders is the dashing and bewitching Viola Rivers, an American production, but who has dazzled Raleigh with her matchless riding during the last few years. Some of the other equestrian stars are M'LeRen, a German importation, and the most fearless somersault thrower of her sex; Miss Pauline Diamond, the brilliant and statuesque quinge equestrian; Madame Howell, the world-eminent six-horse rider, and the Misses Daisy Ramsdell, Mollie Stokes, Josie Richards and Susie Wilson. The list of male riders includes James Leon, the recognized champion of Virginia, in his greatest living handicapper, Mons. Eugene Jerome, the renowned equestrian juggler; Bob Whitaker, the unmatched character and trick rider, and Messrs. George Showers, Billy Davenport, Charley Lawrence and John McGraw. This is a remarkable gathering, truly. All of the riders, both male and female, ride bareback horses; pad acts are conspicuous by their absence. Lovers of artistic horsemanship have a rich treat in store.

The Burke, Ellis and Bell Combination.
 This novelty company closed a three nights engagement in Metropolitan hall last night, including a matinee yesterday evening. The weather has been very bad, it has played to good houses and has given a great satisfaction as any company ever appeared here. The matinee was greeted by the largest audience that ever assembled in this city in the afternoon. The company is heartily and earnestly commended to the public with the assurance that it will leave no cause for complaint.
