By Telegraph to the News and Observer. OSKALOOSA, Iowa, July 0 .- Considerable excitement exists at Evans, five miles west of here, over the advent of colored miners to take the places of the white strikers. Yesterday a constable, also a striker, at-tempted to arrest a colored miner, Chas. Johnson, for disorderly conduct. Johnson picked up a car link and proceeded to resist the officer, inflicting serious wounds. He was arrested by the others, tried and bound over to the grand jury. Thereupon Johnson's friends took possession of the court, and held the officers until Johnson escaped. Twen:y five or thirty shots were fired, bat no one hurt. Johnson is still at large.

When the delegation from the old and important Fishmongers' Company was introduced, blushing and bowing, again did the German Emperor continuously stand fire of a long-winded address as if nothing in the world gratified him so much as to listen to the cut-and-dried sayings of the Fishmongers' Company, as recently drawn up for his especial benefit in Fishmongers' Hall. The Diplomatic Corps in full aniform was next received.

During the afternoon the Emperor made his second appearance in Rotten Row; this time he was dressed in the uniform of a Prussian General. The Emperor was mounted on one of his own horses, brought from Germany with a number of others, and was attended by his aide-decamps. Crowds of fashionable peop'e were present on the Row, and from there the Emperor received general salutations.

THE ELECTROCUTIONS

Pronounced a Complete Success in Every Particular.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9 .- Dr. Southwick and Dr. Daniels, both of whom witnessed the Kemmler execution, returned today from Sing Sing, where they witnessed the electrocution of the four murderers. "The electrocutions were a success in every way" said Dr. Southwick, "and there was not the slightest hitch. The electric execution has come to stay. These executions have demonstrated that the method is humane."

"Do you say that all the four died instantly ?"

"Yes, sir. They died the instant that the current reached them. It was absolutely a painless death." "Why was the second shock given." "To prevent the muscular exhibition that was notictd at Kemmler's execution."
