AN IMPENDING CRASH.

Said to Be Imminent in Financial Circles in England.

By Cable to the News and Observer. LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Land and Water today declares that the financial crisis, which first found serious expression in the Baring Collapse, is becoming more acute. The situation, it adds, is rendered worse by the artificial efforts made during the past two years to postpone the inevitable result. Within the past twenty-four hours seven clubs in the West End have been definitely closed. Several London journals are on the verge of disaster. Five of the largest and most important estates in England are shortly to be sold, and several commercial firms are distrusted.

HOUSES CONDEMNED.

One Hundred of Them to Be Razed in Minneapolis.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 17.—Over one hundred houses in different parts of the city have been condemned as unsanitary by the board of health and the owners have been notified to raze them to the ground within five days. A rigid quarantine will be established against cities infected with the cholera should the disease spread to places outside of New York.

Good News from Cumberland.

Special to the News and Observer. FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 17.—A big Democratic rally at Cottontide to day was a perfect love feast. The Third party fellows claimed it as a stronghold, but one of the Third party leaders took the stand and declared that he was done with Exum and would support Elias Carr and the whole ticket. At least twenty-five other Third partyites did the same to-day. A club was organized and seventy-five names enrolled in a few minutes, and other clubs will be formed in the neighborhood. At Brunts last night Cook and Troy spoke to a large gathering of enthusiastic Democrats and four Third party men came out and declared for Democracy. A change is taking place.

Fire in Brooklyn.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—There has been a disastrous fire at the navy yard in Brooklyn. It broke out at 3:15 o'clock this morning in a three-story wooden extension of the machine shops. In this extension was stored the machinery of the new cruiser Cincinnati. It was totally destroyed. The flames extended to a two-story brick machine shop, and caused much damage. The loss is roughly estimated at half a million.

Seven men were instantly killed, one fatally injured, and about twenty others more or less severely hurt. The cause of the explosion is not definitely known.

A Pest House Fired.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer. NASHVILLE, Sept. 17.—The county pest house was destroyed by fire this morning. The building was set on fire by parties living in the vicinity who feared if the cholera should break out the sick would be taken there. The loss is small.

GOV. FLOWER GETS A SCARE.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE SENT TO HIM IN A BOX.

He Receives it By Mail at His Hotel in New York—A Dangerous Quantity of Giant Powder Contained in It—The Matter in the Hands of the Police.

By Telegraph to the News and Observer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The life of Gov. Roswell P. Flower was threatened by an infernal machine sent to him at the Windsor Hotel, this city, a few days ago. The box which contained the machine is now in possession of Inspector Steers at police headquarters together with the infernal machine and its mechanical arrangements. A large number of detectives have been put on the case. Every effort is being made to suppress the fact that the mysterious box left at Windsor Hotel contained a deadly machine and enough Giant powder to have blown the Governor into eternity.

Police officials are very reticent over the affair, but notwithstanding this, it came out at police headquarters that Gov. Flower's life had been threatened and that the infernal machine was in Chief Inspector Steer's possession. Gov. Flower has been stopping at the Windsor Hotel since he came to the city to straighten out matters relative to the cholera cases aboard the steamships in the bay, and the trouble that had arisen between the quarantine officials and the ship board of health. The Governor has had his cholera headquarters at the Windsor. The infernal machine was left at the hotel Thursday afternoon. It came by mail. It was received at the hotel office and sent to the Governor's room by the clerk. Gov. Flower had gone away in the morning to inspect the State oyster beds along the sound.

Chief Inspector Steers this afternoon sent for the reporters at police headquarters and told them the box sent Gov. Flower was a veritable, unmistakable, infernal machine ingeniously contrived to kill the Governor or whoever might open it. The inspector added that the box was received on Wednesday night and before it was opened there was received an anonymous letter warning the Governor of its character. Adjutant General Porter sent to the police headquarters and detectives went to the Windsor hotel where the box was given them. The detectives brought it down to police headquarters and delivered it to the inspector who put in a pair of water and left it there to soak for twenty-four hours. In the box was found three-quarters of a pound of giant powder. A lever was connected with the cover of the box and when the latter would be raised, three parlor matches fastened to the lever would be rubbed against a piece of emery paper on the side of the box and ignited, thus causing the explosion of the powder. The inspector said if the box had been opened, as was intended, an explosion would certainly have followed. Twenty detectives are working on the case. In speaking of the matter, Governor Flower said: "This is the first time anything of the sort has happened to me. I am not at all upset, however. I suppose I have made some enemies by calling out the militia, but I must do my duty and peace must be kept. All the infernal machines in the world would not make the slightest difference to me."

A Bicycle Causes a Runaway.

Yesterday evening as County Superintendent of Public Instruction Chappel was passing near Judge Merrimon's, riding in a sulky, he was met by a young man riding a bicycle. Mr. Chappel's horse took fright at the machine and ran away, turning over the sulky and throwing Mr. Chappel violently out. One of the wheels ran over his head and he was for a while unconscious. Dr. Blackall, who was close at hand, helped to resuscitate him and he soon came back to himself. No bones were broken and no permanent injury was sustained, but he was painfully bruised and jarred.

An Interview With Mr. Hardy—Why He Left the Third Party.

In a conversation with Mr. D. M. Hardy, who put Dr. Exum in nomination in the Third Party Convention, and has since repudiated all connection with that party, he stated that he went into the Third party movement, because he knew that the people were suffering, and hoped that something could be done for their relief through the new party.

He said that he had no particular acquaintance with Dr. Exum, but knowing that his family stood well, thought that he would make a good candidate.

Before nominating him he asked Dr. Exum what he thought about this proposed change of county government, and the Doctor replied that he was opposed to any change and wanted things to stand as they were. He particularly stated "that he didn't want any nigger government."

A week after the nomination Dr. Exum stated in the presence of several persons at Goldsboro, and in Mr. Hardy's hearing, that he would rather have negro rule than the present State government.

Mr. Hardy, thinking that Dr. Exum had made that remark through anger and irritation, and being pained to hear it, later sought Dr. Exum and asked him about it, and Dr. Exum said yes, he did say it; and he meant it, and he had nothing to take back, and that he did prefer negro rule to continuing the present State administration. The Sunday after he was nominated, Mr. Hardy says that he and Mr. Wooten went to see Dr. Exum and Dr. Exum remarked to him that S. Otho Wilson had told him that the Republicans would give fifty thousand dollars to secure the electoral vote of this State for Harrison, and would elect the Third party State ticket if they could get the vote for Harrison. And Dr. Exum said that he would rather give it to the Republicans than to the Democrats.

Mr. Hardy said that having studied the financial matters, he ascertained that no law of which the people complained had been passed when the Democrats had control of either House of Congress, and he became thoroughly satisfied that they were not to blame for the condition of things; and becoming thoroughly satisfied that Dr. Exum was not a fit man to be Governor of the State, and further becoming satisfied that there was a movement to give the electoral vote of the State to the Republicans in pursuance of a corrupt bargain, he determined to leave the Third party and return to the Democratic party, and did so.

JUPITER'S NEW SATELLITE.

Professor Barnard Makes Public More Features of His Great Discovery.

Professor Barnard, of San Francisco, has made public more facts in regard to his great discovery of a new satellite of Jupiter. He found the new body at midnight on Friday last. Friday is the Professor's night with the big telescope. Although he had no reason whatever to suspect that there existed an inner satellite of such insignificant dimensions, he resolved to look specially for unknown moons of the giant planet, with the startling success already made known. Later investigations have shown that Barnard's Jovian satellite revolves in a period of 11 hours 59 minutes. The young astronomer made the micrometer investigation himself and then computed the resulting elements. From the amount of light reflected by this tiny moon he states that it is certainly not more than 100 miles in diameter and is probably less. It is so close to the primary that the greater possible distance from the edge of Jupiter at t which the satellite may be observed is 36 seconds of arc, or about two thirds the diameter of the planet itself. In speaking of his discovery Professor Barnard says that the new satellite is certainly as faint as the thirteen-star magnitude, and probably much less. In the great Lick refractor it appears as an exceedingly tiny star in very rapid motion. The movement was clearly exhibited in the successive micrometer measurements, so that there could be not the least doubt about the character of the discovery.

Professor Barnard spoke of one curious feature apparent in the study of this fifth Jovian moon. The period is so very nearly one half a solar day that for months at a time only one elongation is visible at any one place.

STEVENSON AT CHARLOTTE.

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION IN HIS HONOR.

The Queen City En-fete to Receive the Distinguished Guest—A Vast Crowd Listens to and Applauds His Speech in the Big Auditorium.

Special to the Charlotte Observer.

CHARLOTTE, Sept. 17.—Verily it was a Democratic wave that rolled over Charlotte today. It was the greatest daylight demonstration that has been known in this city since the war, and after seeing it no one can fear that the Democracy of Mecklenburg is in danger of being defeated. It was the day appointed for a speech by Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency, and the people fairly filed the town to overflowing. Mr. Stevenson's arrival in the city was heralded by the Naval Battalion howitzers stationed on Independence Square. Mr. Stevenson's party reached the city on a special train on the R. & D. R. R. at 8:30 o'clock. They were met at the depot by the Hornet's Nest Riflemen, Queen City Guard and the Naval Reserves, and escorted to the Buford Hotel, where arrangements for the reception of the party had been made. The party took breakfast at the Buford Hotel and at 10 o'clock joined in the parade, and it was the biggest line of Democrats ever seen in the State. Two horsemen abreast the procession reached, closely packed, from Morehead avenue to Independence square. There were five brass bands in line.

All along the line of march the streets were packed and the cheers were deafening. The procession led to the big auditorium where already a great crowd had assembled. The speakers' stand was beautifully decorated. The immense building was densely packed. Mr. C. W. Tillet, who was instrumental in getting General Stevenson to come South, welcomed the distinguished guests. When General Stevenson arose the big auditorium was filled with the ringing voices of the crowd and it was fully two minutes before the audience ceased cheering. General Stevenson began by saying that he was thankful that he was not a stranger in a strange land; that he felt like that he was one of North Carolina's sons, so close was the relationship that exists. He thanked the people present for the kind reception he had received at their hands, and none appreciated it more than he. He said that he had been to North Carolina that his welcome had been such as only North Carolinians could give, and that when he returned home nothing but pleasant memories would he carry back of his visit to North Carolina, the home of his forefathers and the State he was taught to love. Gen. Stevenson said that he appreciated the fact that he was in historic Charlotte, that he loved to speak of that historical event that transpired a short distance from where he now stood as much as anyone present, as his forefathers were among the North Carolinians that gave birth to the Mecklenburg Declaration. He spoke touchingly of those events, but said he came from his home in the great State of Illinois to talk of the fast approaching struggle—the struggle between the Democratic party and the Republican party, and he made plain the great principles that the Democratic party were fighting for. Mr. Stevenson was loudly applauded and his speech reclaimed many back-sliders from the Democratic faith.

GENERAL STEVENSON'S SPEECH.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 17.—Gen. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for Vice-President, was in Charlotte today. There was a great gathering of the Democrats. A horseback procession a mile long was a feature. The old residents say it was the greatest political demonstration ever known here. Gen. Stevenson spoke in the auditorium to over 6,000. Stevenson's ancestors were among the signers of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence and he referred to this in opening his remarks. His speech was mainly a defence of the Cleveland administration and a talk on tariff and the force bill. All admitted he said, that Cleveland's administration was an honest one. The bonds of the government were paid at maturity, and the only question was what should be done with the surplus. You never hear a question of that kind asked now. He spoke for an hour on the tariff alone, and in concluding said the Democratic party wages no warfare on American interests. It favors no legislation hostile to the live interest of any business enterprise. We believe that the burden of tax should be equally distributed. We oppose all legislation that enriches a few by taxing many.

He reviewed the carpet bag rule in North Carolina and said the force bill meant a return to the condition of affairs in the dark days of reconstruction. This was Stevenson's third speech in the State and his Bunn at Kittrell.

Cor. of the News and Observer.

KITTRILL, N. C., Sept. 17.—Yesterday was a memorable day at Kittrell. Hon. B. H. Bunn was booked to speak here. The hall filled at 2 o'clock, all parties being well represented, and a good many ladies present.

Then it transpired that the irrepresible John Williamson, self-nominated candidate for Congress, was on hand asking to be heard. John was given the go. Our darkeys had had no inkling of his scheme to pay for the slaves, of which you made recent mention. Their faces grew long as he told how, if he got there, $300 in gold with interest to date, was to be appropriated to pay for each and every slave. But when he went on to tell how the $300, &c., was to be equally divided between the ex-master and the ex-slaves—in short, that his rainbow had a bag of gold at each end, and that one bag was for the darkey—their faces broadened as suddenly as when one looks from the lengthening to the broadening looking-glass in the side show.

John is a smart darkey, and on yesterday certainly proved himself a funny one. His earnest, realistic presentation of his case translated for the nonce many a snowy pate—straight and kinky—into Utopia. While his drollery withal made as pretty a little comedy as one would find outside Pickwick Papers.

As Vance county was only put in Mr. Bunn's district by the last legislature, this was the first time that that distinguished gentleman has appeared before us. The impression that he made was most favorable. He impressed us as a strong man in the highest and fullest sense of the word; as one with a masterful grasp of the situation, in whose hands our Congressional interest will be safe, while the deep, strong eloquence unmoored many an adverse voter and swept him safe under the lee of Democracy.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 16, '92.

My DEAR SIR:—I gladly give you my opinion of the Electropoise. I consider it science's best gift to man. It has been of such wonderful benefit to me that I feel as if I could not say too much in its favor. A very severe attack of grippe in the winter of 1890, left me with a shattered nervous system and almost no digestive powers at all, and for eighteen months people in hades had as much fun and as good a time as I did. I tried Allopathic, Homeopathic and "jam of the fence" remedies all to no good. The Electropoise has made me almost myself again and I believe will eventually make me a better man than I have been.

It has been used on every member of my household of seven children, from the youngest up to their mother (who is also a convert) with marked beneficial results; so much so, that I have not paid one penny for drugs since it entered my house, the first of last month. I have recommended it to many who have taken my advice and I have never known of anyone to regret having done so. It is the most economical physician on earth. I would not be without one under any circumstances.

Yours truly,

JAS. D. McNEILL.

DEAR SIR:—You ask me about Electropoise. In reply I will say that I had rheumatism in both shoulders so bad that I could not put on my coat without help, and from the use of the Electropoise a short while I am glad to say that I am entirely well. I recommend it to all who suffer with rheumatism.

Respectfully,

R. F. KNOTT.

HENDERSON, N. C., July 29, '92.

DEAR SIR:—I have been suffering with grippe and by a short use of the Electropoise find that it has benefited me a great deal. I would recommend it for rheumatism as it has done me more good in the short time I have used it than all the other remedies I have ever used. My wife says it is the greatest remedy she ever tried for swollen ankles, and that it gives her a good appetite and makes her sleep well.
