THE REAPER TAKES A FLOWER.

Eugene, the six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Dennis, of Roanoke, Va., died in that city last Thursday, and the little body was brought to Charlotte for burial, arriving Saturday. A short but touching funeral service, conducted by Dr. H. L. McCrorey, was held at 2 o'clock Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Davis, parents of Mrs. Dennis, at Johnson C. Smith University. The home was crowded with friends of the family who, by word and deed, showed their sympathy for the grief-stricken parents. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Eugene was a bright, winsome child, the light and joy of the home, and although his days were few, the memory of him will live in loving hearts.

CHURCH STREET CHURCH NOTES.

By Mrs. T. J. Van Lindingham

On last Sunday morning, our pastor, Rev. W. S. Plair, delivered an excellent sermon from Genesis 3:9, "And the Lord called unto Adam and said, where art thou?" At the close of the sermon the Communion of the Lord's Supper was administered, and Cleveland Goodwin, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goodwin, was baptized.

Sunday evening Rev. Plair spoke to us from Hebrews 12: 1. This was the beginning of a series of meetings which will be held at our church this week.

ST. JAMES CHURCH GREENSBORO

By Mrs. S. W. Carter

Sunday morning Rev. H. C. Miller spoke from Isaiah 64:6, "For we all do fade as the leaf." "Lessons from Nature's Book," was the theme of the discourse. The speaker held the attention of the audience for 35 minutes as he told of the use of plants, leaves and flowers. The speaker showed how the flower develops and fades; also how man develops and fades. Continuing, the speaker said: "If God has made the little leaf not without a purpose, how much more puriteness of God. Yet it often happens that man sees no sphere wherein he may glorify his Maker."

The Sunday school was largely attended and was made more interesting by the presence and inspiration of Sunday School Missionary, G. R. Marsh, who looked in upon us.

The following persons will attend Synod at Charlotte, this week: Rev. H. C. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. McNair and Mrs. E. B. Meares.

Three organized classes, Earnest Workers, Up and Doing and J. R. Nocho, presented the Sunday school with a set of chimes. The Sunday school is delighted with the work of these classes.

The Women's Missionary Society held a most interesting meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Etta Biggers on Lindsay Street. After the meeting refreshments were served.

The New England Supper given by the Women's Missionary Society on last Wednesday night was quite a success. Everything being donated by the ladies a neat little sum was realized.

On last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. S. Sevier on Dudley Street the Christian Endeavor held a very interesting meeting, after which hot chocolate, cake and sandwiches were delightfully served by the hostess.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BESSIE R. SANDERS.

By Miss E. V. Gunn.

It was a sad day indeed when the Scotia girls of Danville, Va., and the friends of Mrs. Bessie Rattley Sanders learned of her death at her home in New Bern, N. C., September 29th. Mrs. Sanders was a graduate of Scotia Women's College. After finishing the higher course there she taught one term at Albion Academy, Franklinton, N. C. She then taught in the Industrial High School, Danville, Va., until she married Rev. O. E. Sanders, of New Bern.

Her body was brought to her childhood home at Danville, Va., Friday, October 2nd. Funeral services were held at the Holbrook Street Presbyterian church Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. Dr. W. E. Carr, her pastor, Dr. J. A. Younger, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, and Dr. W. T. Hall, pastor of High Street Baptist church, officiated.

Rev. Carr took his text from 116th Psalm and 150th verse: "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." Those who knew Mrs. Sanders best felt that no other text would have suited the occasion so well.

Psalms 117 was read by Dr. J. A. Younger. A beautiful prayer was offered by Dr. Hall. Expressions of sympathy and the obituary were read by Dr. Carr, after which "Saved by Grace" was softly sung by Miss E. V. Gunn.

The flower bearers were Mesdames Daisy Clark, Hattie Henry, Mary Holland, Misses E. Reynolds and L. M. and E. V. Gunn.

The pallbearers were Profs. Hairston, Franklin, Messrs. Falling, White, Beavers and Galloway.

Friends from Toledo, Ohio, Harrisburg, Pa., Lexington, N. C., Roanoke, Va., New Bern, N. C., and Danville, Va., expressed their sympathy and respect by sending beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs. Sanders leaves a husband, a baby son, sister, brother, aunts and a host of friends.

the money in a savings bank. One year from that date the interest was due him, and it amounted to more than several days' pay on the farm and for which interest he didn't have to work a lick. So he drew all of his money from the bank and went into the turkey business. After that his money-making was just a matter of multiplication, and from his turkey business he learned a lesson that shaped his entire career.

If you work for money and save it, money will work for you. If you work for money and save it, you will be able to hire men to work for you, and able to collect part of what they make for your own personal holdings.

Take my advice and go in business now, even if it be a peanut stand, and some day you will be a power for the good of your race, for money is power. Then the race will find its rightful place along with other people of the world.

SHINNECOCK CHURCH NOTES, SOUTHAMPTON, LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Pastor.

Mrs. A. T. Carpenter is visiting the Carpenters in New York City, and is to remain there till after the 22nd when her husband returns from the Synod of New York.

Mr. Wickham S. Hunter, of Ironsides School, Bordentown, N. J., has spent some time visiting his sister, Miss Lois Hunter, in Southampton.

Misses Clara, Ernestine, Effie, Harvey, Bertha Smith, Charlotte Smith, Misses Raymond Cuffee, and Frederick Smith have returned to various institutions to pursue their studies.

Our church is doing well spiritually and financially. It has raised and forwarded to the Boards most all of the amount required of it.

A white lady by the name of Mrs. Pauline M. Sabin has just had our church painted at her expense.

In honor of his sister, who is now dead, Mr. James C. Parrish of Southampton has purchased and placed in the Shinnecock parsonage a library for the reading people of the congregation. He sent over a fine book case and books to start with. Books are coming in every few days.

Ten days ago Mrs. Ida P. Fordham, a white lady, said the white friends wished to give me a car and for me to go and select the car I would like and report to them. The thing sounded so good that I ran home to tell Mrs. Carpenter before I could go to price a car. The next day I selected a nice four-doored Chevrolet sedan. Immediately the white ladies and gentlemen had me to take the car home. Today Mrs. Carpenter and I are just happy over the friendly gift, and wish we could find words to express our joy. We are now running the car.

CENTRAL DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION OF YADKIN PRESBYTERY.

By Mrs. J. H. Clement.

On August 6-9 the Central District Sunday School Convention convened at Edward Webb church, Mt. Airy, of which Rev. J. H. Clement is the pastor.

Mrs. Laura Holland, the President, being absent, the Convention was called to order by Mr. C. W. Robinson. After a brief period of devotions and a lively song service we were favored with a most excellent address of welcome by Hon. F. W. Carter (white) of the city. Attorney Carter is an elder of the Presbyterian church and one of the most prominent Christian men of the city. He said many pleasing things. The most gratifying thing to him was to know he had been Superintendent of the Sunday school for 35 years.

Prof. F. D. Davis also gave a very cordial welcome on behalf of the Sunday schools of the city.

Dr. J. A. Bonner will never be forgotten in Mt. Airy. The wonderful response he made to the addresses will be long remembered by all who heard him. He made a lasting impression on the Hon. Mr. Carter and the congregation. Many have spoken of him since.

Our first evening's program put life into us all and we were in splendid condition to begin our business sessions.

Friday morning at 9 o'clock Superintendent B. C. Ellerson was at his post of duty and led the praise service. At 9:30 Mr. C. W. Robinson presided. The first business was the enrollment of officers, superintendents and delegates. Thirteen schools were represented.

A demonstration of the Daily Vacation Bible School was conducted by Rev. W. G. Anderson, of Lexington.

Friday afternoon reports from the schools were given. Miss Cora Price, of Grace church, Winston-Salem, read a splendid paper, subject, "The Real Teacher."

We had quite a large delegation showing an increase. We hope to have twice as many another year. We urge that our Sunday schools send their young people, together with the Superintendents and pastors.

Friday evening at 8:45 there was a popular meeting. An interesting program was carried out.

Saturday morning Superintendent S. S. Ross, of High Point, led the praise service, after which Miss Pandola Davis, of Lexington, favored us with a recitation. Then came general discussions. Mr. G. R. Marsh, our field missionary, made a splendid talk. He spoke of the different Daily Vacation Bible Schools on the field and insisted that each school organize one. We feel that each Superintendent and delegate will manifest interest in this phase of the work.

At 12:30 our business sessions were ended and the delegates were free to view the beautiful mountain section which all seemed to enjoy. We were indeed glad to hear the many expressions made by the entire

Why expect "Big Money" from your business when you don't invest any money in it? It would be as foolish to expect a rich harvest of wheat when you sow oats. An investment of a small sum in an attractive Sign will pay big dividends. Think it over and let us hear from you.

convention. All had good homes and seemingly fared sumptuously.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Clement are always glad to make it pleasant for the friends who come on their field.

Our annual concert Saturday night was one of the best the convention has witnessed. Mrs. E. G. Mears, of Greensboro, conducted the program.

The Missionary Society of the church served the delegation to ice cream.

At 9:45 Sunday morning our Model Sunday School was largely attended.

At 11 o'clock Rev. H. C. Miller, pastor of St. James church, Greensboro, preached the annual sermon to a large audience. His text was Mark 7:4, theme, "The Glory of Little Things." Rev. Miller is a wonderful speaker and we believe a God-sent man. His sermon was very much enjoyed by all.

At the close of the sermon Mrs. E. B. Mears sang a beautiful selection.

At 3 P. M. Rev. J. L. White, of Groveland Mission, Durham, broke to us the bread of life. Rev. White's sermon will be long remembered. He preached from Exodus 3:10, theme, "A Call to Service."

Dr. J. A. Bonner preached a strong sermon Sunday night to a crowded house. He made such an impression on the congregation the first evening until the pastor of our sister A. M. E. church closed their church doors after a short service and brought his congregation to worship with us.

We had a very successful meeting of the convention and thank God for the Christian spirit that exists among us. We feel that we will bring in better reports next year than ever before.

The officers for the year are as follows: President, Mr. C. W. Robinson, High Point; Vice-President, Mrs. E. Wade, Graham; Recording Secretary, Miss M. E. Rogers, Graham; Treasurer and Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Clement.

After listening to the resolutions of thanks read by Mrs. Wade, we felt that our toil for the comfort of the delegation had not been in vain.

FAITH CHURCH NOTES, ABERDEEN

October 4th marked the closing of our revival for the season which began September 27, 1925.

Our pastor, Rev. P. W. Toney, labored very hard, and put forth every effort with the good people of Faith church to make the meeting a success. He did not have any assistant. He was physically tired, but spiritually he was in no way tired. The last night he preached as never before. By the help of God and our faithful pastor we are glad to state that our meetings were interesting throughout the services, and some stated emphatically that it was the best they have witnessed for years at Faith church.

The initial song for each night was "Revive Us Again," in which every one joined with the spirit. The first sermon, which was based upon a verse from the Acts, theme, "Obedience to the Heavenly Vision," was well delivered. All were asked to maintain this thought throughout the revival.

As a result of these meetings twelve persons professed their faith in Christ, ten of which connected with this church and the whole congregation was revived.

On Sunday morning our regular Communion was administered. Everyone entered heartily into the service. Elder N. L. Plowden and wife, of Sumter, S. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Foster were the out-of-town visitors.
