Done at the city of Washington this 14th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and [L.s.] of the independence of the United States the ninety-seventh. U. S. GRANT.

The Mexican Congress has decreed a separation of Church and State; that Congress cannot make laws establishing or prohibiting any religion; that matrimony is to be a civil contract; and that religious institutions cannot possess property. In additiou, the Jesuits have been ordered to leave Mexico at the first opportunity. These laws indicate that the power of priestcraft is broken in that country; but ecclesiastical usurpation has ever been tenacious of life.

A carefully collected report of the maratime losses caused by the gale of the 24th of August last, has been made by the Washington Signal Office. From it we learn that four hundred and thirty-five small fishing schooners were lost in the neighborhood of the St. Lawrence Gulf and the Atlantic shores of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. The total number of vessels lost amounts to one thousand one hundred and twentytwo, and at least five hundred persons drowned.

The report also shows that about nine hundred buildings were destroyed or injured by this storm, and a hundred persons killed on land.

Specie Payments.

Smart theorists are deluging the news papers with plans to make the late money panic subservient to the resumption of a specie currency, and thus, in their parlance, to snatch a victory from what appeared at one time a great disaster. The schemes are almost as numerous as the projectors. In all that we have noticed, a failure to prevent the shrinkage in values, which everybody knows must ensue from an immediate return to specie payments, makes them undesirable. They all seem to be based on the resumption of the Treasury to pay out gold for greenbacks. This was the plan of Mr Greeley and of Mr. McCulloch.

The gradual fall in the price of gold betokens that soon greensbacks will be at par. While a fluctuating currency is not desirable, some in the South see with dismay the prospect of a metallic medium ; for their hopes of working out of debt are in obtaining high prices for their produce. Most of our people, however, whose liabilities were greater than their means, have passed through the courts of bankruptcy, and the number of those who will be injured by the resumption of specie payments is inconsiderable.

The Raleigh News learns that Tom Evans, the North Carolina correspond ent of the Richmond Enquirer, has in contemplation the starting at an early day a weekly paper in this State to be called Ecans' Independent. He will work and print the paper himself. If he can rent the press and type his intention is to print such a paper, independent of any help save his own muscle.
