Matters of Interest Reported by Our Corps of Correspondents.

WHITSETT.

The Whitsett band spent Monday and Monday night at Liberty where they furnished music for the Liberty commencement. They had a fine trip they report.

Rev. Robert E. Redding preached Sunday morning on the text: "Come unto me all ye who are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." On Sunday afternoon Rev. W. S. Hales preached from the text: "No man can serve two masters."

Her many friends were glad to see Miss Mary M. Foust out again the first of the week, she has not been well for some weeks.

Saturday last the baseball team played a very fine game in Winston-Salem against the strongest team in the state, the Twin-City league. The league won five to three, but it was an unusually fine game, and the Whitsett team was given credit for playing them the hardest game they have yet had this year. A crowd of six hundred saw the game.

Hornor school cancelled the games for Tuesday and Wednesday that they had promised for the home grounds. The season for the first nine closes this week. They have played in all ten match games, and have had other teams to cancel four of the fourteen that were on the schedule. These ten have all been good games, and the boys have made an unusual record against some of the strongest teams in the state.

Every body is now busy making preparation for commencement which comes May 17, 18 and 19 this year. All the speakers have been elected, and a most interesting time is promised. It is the twenty-fifth year of the school under the present management, which adds considerable interest to the event.

The boys went up in automobiles last Wednesday afternoon for the game with the Greensboro league team, leaving Whitsett at 1 o'clock, and returning about 8. They enjoyed the game very much, and the ride as well.

ELON COLLEGE.

Last Thursday evening the faculty heard the members of the graduating class of this year deliver orations and present essays and from the entire class selected six who will speak on commencement day, June 4. The other members of the class will have large part in the class day exercises, which occur on the evening of May 31.

The following were the representatives chosen:

- Miss Virgie Beale, Windsor, Va., subject, "The Living Structure."
- Miss Pearl Tuck, Virgilina, Va., subject, "He Can Who Thinks He Can."
- Mr. D. T. Surratt, Jackson Hill, N. C., subject, "Scholarship a Training For Service."
- Miss Pearl Fogleman, Burlington, N. C., subject, "The Badge of Inferiority."
- Miss Viola Frazier, Elkton, Va., subject, "The Ministry of Adversity."
- Mr. A. L. Hook, Wincheser, Va., subject, "Hidden Powers."
- Dr. W. S. Long, of Chapel Hill, first president and founder of Elon College, last Thursday morning began a course of lectures to ministerial students on "Systematic Theology." These lectures represent many years of research and are the ripe product of a life of ministerial labor and study. They will be printed in book form immediately after they are delivered here.

Nothing Doing.

No large looking glasses at Lesser's star store; no fancy paper and no fancy prices; we don't sell on time, therefore we don't ask those big, long profits. We must turn our goods over and over, and small profits does the work. You'll appreciate our low prices more the more you try to match them elsewhere. If it is shoes, clothing, hats, dress goods, you'll find that you can save money by trading at Lesser's star store. adv.

An unexpected development in the state rate cases, which have been pending before the Supreme court for more than a year, occurred a few days ago when the department of justice obtained the permission of the court to file a brief as a "friend of the court." The contention of the government in the brief was that the interstate commerce commission is supreme over state rate making bodies and may annul state regulations in the disguise of state rates when interstate commerce is affected substantially thereby.

Miss Ruth White, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verge White, passed away last Friday, after a lingering illness of several weeks. The deceased was the only daughter of the family. A shadow of deepest sorrow has fallen over a home. There is an oppressive silence, where but a little while ago Ruth's merry laughter and cherry disposition were the sunshine and joy of fond parents' hearts. She was remarkably bright, and thoughtful beyond her years. Always of a sunny disposition she never failed to greet her friends with a bright smile and a pleasant word, and her untimely death brings sorrow to the hearts of many friends, for all loved Ruth. The deceased was a student at Jamestown high school, but was forced to give up her studies by the sickness that cut short her beautiful young life. Interment was at Deep River cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. George Wood.
