A Great Church Gathering Held in Atlanta Last Week.

The Southern Presbyterian Assembly, in session in Atlanta last week, voted not to withdraw from the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. This action was taken by a vote of 138 to 27 after a heated discussion led by Dr. T. M. Lowry, of Memphis, who favored a withdrawal, and Drs. T. S. Clyce, of Sherman, Texas, and Thornton Whaling, of Columbia, S. C., who opposed it.

In the discussion, Dr. Lowry reiterated his charges that the organization composed of thirty churches of various denominations, is endeavoring to influence national politics. Drs. Clyce and Whaling in reply argued that while there are many things relating to the Federal Council of which the Southern Assembly does not approve, withdrawal would be unwise.

Overtures urging the Southern Assembly to withdraw from the Federal Council were contained in the report of the foreign committee.

The United Presbyterian Assembly took what was characterized as the "greatest forward step in the history of the church," when it permitted the organization of the "Missionary and Efficiency Committee."

The Northern Assembly directed Moderator T. J. Stone, of Chicago, to appoint a special committee of five to consider "the enormous violation of the seventh commandment, and to recommend steps to be taken to safeguard the youth of the land."

The United Presbyterian Assembly will hold its next meeting at New Castle, Pa., on May 27, 1914.

Chicago was selected by the Northern Assembly as the meeting place of that body in 1914. The sessions will be held at the new Fourth Presbyterian church, of which Moderator J. Timothy Stone is pastor.

A dramatic scene, occurred in the Southern Assembly session when Dr. W. M. McPheeters, of the Columbia Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., offended by what he termed "steam roller" methods in connection with the assembly's decision not to withdraw from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, left the meeting. When the assembly voted down the minority report and adopted that recommending a continuance of membership, Dr. McPheeters, attempted to voice a vigorous protest. Ruled out of order by the moderator, he announced his intention to leave the sessions and immediately withdrew. Later he reconsidered his action and returned.

WHAT'S THE MATTER.

Churches Complain of a Falling Off in Interest and Membership.

Atlanta, Ga., May 23.—An arraignment of the "tendencies of the time" was contained in the report of the committee on narrative presented today before the Northern Presbyterian Assembly in session here. The report deplored the "distressing loss of membership in many synods of the church."

Nearly 4,000 churches during the past ecclesiastical year failed to secure a new member through confession of faith, according to the report. Other unusual features brought out were that some of the church's most intelligent and influential members spend the Sabbath on the golf links instead of attending Divine worship; that the extent and boldness of the white slave traffic has become appalling, even extending, the report declared, into Sabbath schools and Christian Endeavor societies.

The report stated that a total of 87,000 new members, through confession of faith, were enrolled during the past year by the church. W. H. Houston, of Columbus, O., secretary of the permanent committee on vacancy and supply, declared that the problem of securing pastors was one of the most distressing in every non-Episcopal church. "Whatever else may be said of the Methodist-Episcopal church," he said, "we must admit that it has the most effective system we know anything about of supplying churches with pastors."

At the conclusion of Dr. Houston's address, the assembly decided to appropriate additional finances with which to assist the work of the vacancy and supply committee.

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for their kidneys and bladder, they soon recover. Railway Companies Must be Prepared to Meet Calamity.

New York, May 24.—It required 1,800 men and four weeks' work to make the temporary repairs to put the Norfolk and Western railroad in serviceable condition subsequent to the Ohio floods.

President L. E. Johnson, who has just made a complete analysis of flood damage, authorizes the statement that to complete permanent repairs 300 additional men will be required for four months and 200 men for the next eight months. Estimates call for a final completion of flood repair work by March, 1914.

The total estimated damage to roadbed, bridges, telegraph lines and lost buildings and materials amounted to $526,500, while the loss of revenue due to the floods approximated $500,000, making a total cost to the road of over a million dollars. A further expenditure of about $700,000 will be necessary to prevent a similar loss under like conditions.

The cost of repairing nine and a half miles of double track between Portsmouth and Columbus and one mile of single track in the Cincinnati district will be $152,000. To repair the damage to bridges at Chillicothe, Reese and at Scioto river will cost $185,000. Damage to other property of the Norfolk and Western railway, in the way of buildings, lost material and miscellaneous repairs amounts to $113,000.

Immediately following the floods, the railway officials bent every effort to re-establish the efficiency of the road in both its passenger and freight traffic with the minimum amount of inconvenience to the public and its patrons.

The enormous loss of railroad property caused by the flood has pointed out to railroad interests the world over, the necessity of providing funds to take care of contingencies and emergencies of just this character. As the interstate commerce commission has ruled that expenditures of this nature must be charged to the operation of a railroad, every far sighted railroad president, from the viewpoint of business management, has long felt the necessity of always having on hand a fund to take care of just such unforeseen calamities without embarrassment.

SIMMONS WANTS INFORMATION.

List of Questions which Manufacturers are Asked to Answer.

Washington, May 23.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee, made public tonight a list of 29 questions relating to the tariff proposed by majority members of the committee which will be sent to manufacturers of the country. To avert any clash over this action in the senate, the majority will send with their list the original 16 questions proposed by Senator La Follette, although most of his are incorporated in a statement that if manufacturers or persons who have filed briefs or have made written or oral protests to the finance committee, will send answers before the bill is reported back to the senate, they will be printed.

"But," the statement added, "neither report of the bill to the senate nor final action by the senate on the bill will be delayed for answers." All interrogations must be answered under oath.

The preliminary questions relate to the manufacturers' identity, the commodity produced, the raw materials used in production, whether they are produced here or abroad and if imported, from whence; cost per unit of raw material and cost per unit of similar product in foreign countries.

Upholds California.

Washington, May 23.—Declaring that the unrestricted admission of aliens would ruin the American farmers by throwing cheap labor into the hands of big corporations, as was the case in California, Representative Sisson, of Mississippi, continued his defense of the California anti-alien land law in a speech in the house today.

The speech was the one that President Wilson took occasion to censor last Representative Sisson embarrassed the administration in the present diplomatic negotiations with Japan.

CONFEDERATE WOMAN'S HOME.

To Care For Needy Wives and Widows of Confederate Veterans.

The directors for the proposed North Carolina Home for Needy Wives and Widows of Confederate veterans at a meeting in Raleigh last week, organized by the election of Hon. Ashley Horne as chairman and Mr. J. A. Turner, of Louisburg, as secretary. The board decided to receive proposals from towns in the state endeavoring to secure the location of the home until July 1, a meeting to be called thereafter to consider the proposals received and locate the home.

Several towns have already filed proposals. One offers $3,000 and the choice of two sites; another $2,500 and site; still another, a nine-room house and 12 acres of land. There is a state appropriation of $10,000 for buildings and $5,000 annually for maintenance. Whatever is given by the community that secures the home will be put into the permanent plant.

Directors other than officers chosen are Messrs. J. A. Bryan, Newbern; Haywood Parker, Asheville; W. H. Watkins, Ramseur; W. H. White, Oxford, and Dr. H. T. Bahson, Winston-Salem. The directors propose to erect the home and get it ready for occupancy just as speedily as possible.

Sulphur Best Fumigator.

Flowers and sulphur make one of the most reliable fumigators it is possible to use for the destruction of disease germs and insect pests. Make a practice of sulphurizing every poultry house prior to limewashing it. If sulphur fumes will not destroy insect pests and disease microbes then nothing else on earth will. The sulphur candles now obtainable for fumigating purposes may be used or the powdered sulphur may be placed on red hot cinders, the latter having been put into a shallow iron pan.

But whichever method of sulphurizing is adopted, the building to be dealt with must be rendered proof against the escape of fumes. In the case of open front houses it is a good plan to paste strong brown paper over the openings to render them airtight during the fumigating process. When the sulphur is ignited the door of the building should be closed quickly and fastened tightly.
