

Work as though you would live forever; live as though you would die today.

He who is led to choose God as his portion has the best proof that God has chosen him as his child.

The Chicago Journal says that a woman's jealousy is confessedly the most murderous psychological force known to humanity.

An old Grecian philosopher advises all men to "know themselves." That's advising a good many to form very low and disreputable acquaintances.

Success is a duty in God's service. Whatever a Christian worker is set to do he should do; not be satisfied until he does it.—S. S. Times.

Sheila Waggoner, of Rowan county, settled with the State Treasurer yesterday, paying over to that functionary the snug little sum of $9,556.17. He came in third on the list.

He that gives to all without discretion, will soon stand in need of the assistance of others. Liberality does not consist so much in giving largely as in giving reasonably.

Marshall Bazaine, a rumor of whose death was prevalent in Paris a few days since, is not dead, but on the contrary, has recovered from the indisposition he suffered in consequence of the re-opening of an old wound.

A POSTMASTER ARRESTED.—Col Long agent of the Postoffice Department, recently arrested the late postmaster at Warrington, Florida, whose name is Manning. He is a defaulter to the money order department, and is now in jail.

A lady of great beauty and attractiveness, who was an ardent admirer of old Ireland, once crowned her praises of it at a party by saying: "I think I was meant for an Irish woman." "Cross the channel, madam," remarked Samuel Lover, the novelist, who happened to be present, "Millions will say you were meant for an Irishman."

An unknown man was run over by the cars and killed at D-troit the other day, and his body was buried without identification. His clothing, however, was afterward recognized by two women, both of whom he had married and deserted within a few weeks, and who had since been going about together in search of him.

A Lawyer Shut up.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

"Sir," asked an attorney yesterday who was testifying in a case of assault and battery, "have you been in this court before?"

"Yes, sir," said the witness, "I have been here often."

"Ah, been here often, have you?" said the attorney in a triumphant tone. "Now tell the court what for?"

"Well," replied the witness slowly, "I have been here at least a dozen times to see you, to collect that tailor's bill you owe."

A statement showing the estimated annual production of gold and silver in the United States during the 25 years from 1849 to 1873 has been prepared by the bureau of statistics. The annual average production of gold, according to this statement, has been $50,000,000, and that of silver, for the 15 years from 1859 to 1873, $13,300,000. The production of gold has, with the exception of one year, been annually decreasing since 1856, and the production of silver has, with the exception of one year, been increasing since 1859.

BEWARE.—Some somnambulists have been able to walk on places where, had they been awake, they never would have been able to endure the dizzy height; and I see some Christians, if indeed they be Christians, running awful risks, which I think they would never venture upon unless they had fallen into a deep sleep of carnal security. Speak of a man slumbering at the mast-head; it is nothing to a professor of religion at ease, while cozened by his master, or worldly company his delight. If professors were awake, they would see their danger, avoid sinful amusements and ungodly associations, as men fly from fierce tigers or deadly cobras.—Spurgeon.

Indigestion in Cattle and Horses.

M. Pety, a French veterinary surgeon, draws attention to the liability of horses and cattle suffering from indigestion from the consumption of forage in a humid or musty state. It is from overfeeding this complaint is ordinarily produced, or to the too rapid transition from dry to unlimited green food. Another very common cause is, the putting of animals to work immediately after their feed. The giving of chaff and the refuse of the threshing machine is also another principal source, as well as excessively cold water, and above all, allowing the animal to drink the water of marshes. A little salt or handful of meal is excellent in the drinks.—Old animals ought never to be given too much food at once and it should ever be mixed with a little straw.—When the horse shows symptoms of indigestion, restlessness, suddenly refusing food, resting on one leg, then on another, the head drooping and seeking the left flank, its excrement either hard or liquid, etc., an excitant, as three ounces of kitchen salt or glass of gin in a bottle of water will afford relief; or an infusion of chamomile and sage. In case pain exists two spoonfuls of laudanum will prove excellent. Of course, soap injection, friction and fumigation, are not to be overlooked. Bleeding in case of grain indigestion becomes mor-

Counterfeit Money in the Wake of a Circus.

[From the Memphis Avalanche, October 2.] Nearly every day brings to light some new counterfeit put in circulation in this city immediately after the departure of Howe's circus. They are well executed and calculated to deceive.

We furnish the following list of counterfeiters discovered up to this time, which was furnished us by Mr. A. Thummel, teller of the German National Bank: First National, Lockport, N. Y., $10; Traders, Chicago, $5; Third National, Chicago, $5; First National, Boston, $100; First National, Philadelphia, $10; Ninth National, New York, $2; First National, Canton, Ill., $5; First National, Paxton, Ill., $5; City Bank, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., $10; First National, Red Hook, N. Y., $10; Central, New York city, $100; Central Rome, N. Y., $10.

Some of our merchants inform us that since the advent of the circus in our town a considerable quantity of counterfeit has been placed in circulation.—Winston Sentinel.

THE CRAFTY ARCHITECT.—It is recorded of an architect of the name of Canidius, that having built a watch tower for the king of Egypt, to warn mariners from certain dangerous rocks, he caused his own name to be engraved on a certain stone in the wall, and having covered it with plaster, he inscribed on the outside in golden letters, the name of the king, so that when the tower was done for his glory. He was cunning enough to know that the waves were long would wash away the coat of plaster, and that then his own name would appear, and his memory be handed down to successive generations. How many there are, who, while affecting to seek only the glory of God and his church, are really seeking whatever is calculated to gratify self-love. Could the outer coat, as it were, of these pretences be removed, we should see them, as they really are, desirous not of God's glory, but of their own.—Illustrations of Truth.

Now!—A short word; a shorter thing. Soon uttered; sooner gone. "Now!" A grain of sand on a boundless plain. A tiny ripple on a measureless ocean! Over that ocean we are sailing; but the only part of it we possess is that on which our vessel at this moment floats. From the stern we look backwards and watch the ship's wake in the waters; but how short a distance it reaches, and how soon every trace disappears! We see also some landmarks farther off, and then the horizon closes the view; but beyond that, ocean still rolls far away. Memory contemplates the few years of our individual life; history shows us a dim outline of mountains; science tells us that still farther back out of sight, stretches that vast sea; reason assures us that, like space, it hath no boundary; but all that we possess of it is represented by this small word—now! The past, for action is ours no longer. The future may never become present; it is not ours until it does. The only part of time we can use is this very moment—now!—Christian Instructor.

Working for Eternity.

Zenxis, the famous painter, was observed to be very slow at his work, and to let no piece of his go abroad into the world to be seen of man, till he had turned it over and over, this side and that side, again and again. And being once asked the reason why he was so curious, why so long in drawing his lines, and so slow in the use of his pencil, he made this answer: "I am long in doing what I take in hand, because what I paint, I paint for eternity!" As for our parts, we write, we read, we sing, we pray, we labor; whatsoever we do, whatsoever we think, all is transmitted to eternity, all to be viewed by a most judicious and all-seeing eye, so that no fault can escape; and being viewed and considered they are to be committed either to be eternally punished or eternally rewarded. We must labor therefore to be perfect, so to live to God that we may live with God; so to live on earth, that we may live in heaven; so to live for eternity, that we may live to all eternity.

Education in Saxony.

Saxony is still further raising the educational standard of her citizens by legal enactments. It is no longer sufficient for children to attend school until they are 14 years old—until they are 17 they must continue to receive instruction, in the evenings or on Sundays. The number of lessons ranging weekly from two to six, according to the previous proficiency of the pupil. Default is punished by fine or imprisonment. Pupils who attend private schools recognized by the State are held to be complying with the law. Up to the age of 17 a child's education is superintended by the State; at 19 the child, if a boy, enters the active army. After serving for three years he is relegated first to the reserve, next to the Landwehr, then to the Landsturm, and not until he arrives at the mature age of 42 can he call himself a free man.

A COMMON AND CRUEL MISTAKE.—Solomon's proverb, "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," applies especially to women and young people. When they want anything, they want it immediately. The value and sweetness are taken out of many a gift for them, by the heedless and needless delay of its bestowal. A wife wants to go somewhere, or she wants some article of dress or household furniture, and her husband must just as well gratify her at once as to put her off day after day; but he does not, and her deferred hope make her heart sick, so that when the desired favor comes, it does her no good. Parents often treat their children the same way, to an extent that is cruel. They do not mean to be cruel, but the result is the same. All the sweetness and satisfaction is thus often taken out of things which, if promptly and cheerfully bestowed, would confer joy and happiness upon a household.—HARRISON.
