Last Monday a negro man became involved in a difficulty with Tom Mowery, of Salisbury, at or near Albemarle, and Mowery ended the fight by breaking in the negro's skull with a rock. Wednesday the negro died, and two officers from Albemarle went to Salisbury, where Mowery keeps a livery stable, to arrest him. They secured their prisoner and carried him to Albemarle for a preliminary trial. While the trial was in progress a friend of Mowery's rode a horse, up to the court house door and dismounted, when Mowery rushed out, though the officers are on his track.

To the Citizens of Salisbury:

In justice to myself and family I submit this communication to the citizens of the town. I am a citizen and tax payer, with a family to support and educate. My only chance to make a support is by teaching. In the first place, my being superseded in the Graded School, is not attributable to any charge made against me as teacher. I take this method to appropries to the mystle that. method to announce to the public that I have discharged my duty as teacher in the Salisbury Graded School faithfully and satisfactorily. I refer to Principal, Dr. Wilburn, Messrs, T. F. Kluttz. S. H. Wiley, Wm. Smithdeal and Robt. Knox, who were onnected with the school.

I wish to show the origin of the Salisbury Graded School. It is due to me to state the aid I rendered. In the first place Mrs. Owen, daughter Emma and myself, opened a public school in the old dilapidated town school house. After hard canvassing, perse verance and laborious teaching, we succeeded in enrolling 115 pupils, an ample number to obtain aid from the Peabody fund. Here the ball began to roll that culminated in the erection of that elegant Graded School Building.

By special request of prominent citizens I wrote the Superintendent of Public Instruction for aid from the Peabody fund. He answered promptly and encouragingly. The consumation of this laudable enterprise was deterred a short time on account of the national financial crisis. About this time our classes were examined by a special committee, consisting of Rev. J. Rumple and Mr. J. J. Bruner; the esult decided satisfactory.

Our zealous School committee, Mayor and Town commissioners, resumed this laudable enterprise with renewed vigor. They started the present Graded School, and employed me as one of the teachers and canvasser, instructing me never to stop the canvass till 100 pupils were enrolled, the requisite number to enable the town to draw aid from the Peadody fund. We opened with 3 or 4 pu-pits; when the old building burnt we had enrolled about 125. At this crisis the town received $350, aid from Peabody fund, which kept the ball roll During the 2 years I have been connected with the school I have exerted every effort in my power both as teacher and canvesser to make the school a success. It is a glorious success, and needs no more canvassing. I have led the children of Rowan throthe wilderness for 30 years, but am not to enter the promised building. An over ruling Providence conthuing to space my life I hope to be able to resume my favorite calling at some future day. I tender the citizens my cordial thanks for past patronage.

Very Respectfully.
