BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

They are a vegetable tonic purgative, absolutely harmless under all circumstances. They never injure the weakest female or the youngest child. One box is a medicine chest sufficient for a whole family. Suppose you have diarrhoea; nature is making a great effort to get rid of some irritating matter in the stomach or bowels. A dose of Brandreth's Pills removes the matter and the disease is cured. In constipation one good dose of Brandreth's Pills, followed by one pill every night for a week or two, make the human machinery run as regular as clock work. In bad colds, where the pores of the skin are closed and the insensible perspiration thrown upon the blood, poisoning the fountains of life and filling the nose, the throat and the lungs with choking mucus; seven Brandreth's Pills taken at night on an empty stomach, will restore the perspiration, break up the cold and purge away all the watery secretions that should have passed off by the skin. Diphtheria, a family disease and a most dangerous one, is almost immediately cured by one or two doses of Brandreth's Pills, aided by a garge of lime water. Rheumatism, which comes from too much acidity or too much alkalinity of the system, requires nothing but Brandreth's Pills and a few good sweeps to make a perfect cure.

It is marvelous how they purify the blood. After two doses, the effect is seen in brightness of the eyes and clearness of the skin. All pimples and eruptions vanish like magic under the influence of this purifying purgative. We cannot stop the march of time with any medicine; but Brandreth's Pills will remove the excessive lime from the system and prevent grey hair. They improve the sight and tone up the human body, so that the old man's eyes will be undimmed and his natural force unabated even after seventy years.

The German Carp and its Introduction into the United States.

In a paper read before the American Association, Mr. C. W. Smiley, of Washington, D. C., said he had some years ago imported from Germany thirty or forty pairs of this fish. They were placed in breeding ponds in Washington, and have increased manifold, the number spawned this year being 400,000. The carp is naturally a warm water fish, and in the waters of the Southern States grows with astonishing rapidity, and to great size. They will also do well in the cold water of the North, even in Minnesota. Nearly every State and county in the United States has a fish commission, and they are all propagating carp. It has also been taken up as a private speculation, and carp are sold for breeding purposes as high as $5 per pair.

The carp roots about in the mud for aliment, and much resembles poultry in its manner of getting food. Carp aged three years are often found to weigh twelve to fifteen pounds, and a gain in weight of four pounds has been observed in a carp in one year. The carp is sluggish; while trout, bass, and other lively fish brisk about, and do not fatten so fast as the carp.

Experiments have shown that female carp spawn at the age of one year in southern waters, at two years in colder waters, and in the extreme northern waters of the United States at three years. Other fish, turtles, muskrats, snakes, and even birds, eat young carp. A bird shot in Washington recently had in its stomach the heads of seventy-nine young carp. The United States Fish Commissioner recently sent out requests for information about carp experiments with in this country; most of the replies placing the carp on an equality with trout, bass, and shad as a food fish, while a few classed them with pike, and a very few said they had a muddy taste. The carp is the best pond fish yet known, and in a very small pond will thrive well, so that families may easily have their own fish garden if they have enough water to make a permanent pond.

The carp is a very hardy fish for shipment, requiring little water to keep alive in. The United States Fish Commissioner is giving away carp, sending them by express to any port, the receiver paying express charges. The fish will thrive on table refuse and almost anything edible. Carp can be kept in water in a tub in the cellar, the water requiring to be kept fresh. Care should be taken to keep poisonous substances out of carp ponds, and too much food should not be thrown in. In cooking carp, thorough cleansing is needed; and frying should be done in hot pan and hot grease.

As to the economics of this subject, Mr. Smiley, said that fish culture was more and more becoming a part of the farmer's occupation, and thought that, not very long in the future, most of the farmers of the country would have little fish ponds in their door yards, both as a method of obtaining food and as an ornament to the homestead.—Scientific American.

I most cordially give my testimony as to the great value of Brandreth's Pills, verified by eighteen years' experience in my mother's (the late Mrs. Dr. Geo. M. Browne) family and myself. They were at first taken as a "forlorn hope" for the cure of a very severe case of Neuralgia of several years' standing, the patient being completely prostrated by disease and the excessive use of opium, taken to deaden the pain by advice of her physician. The effects were almost magical; in one month she was able to hop up and walk around freely, and the disease has not returned. My mother was also cured of an attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism by the same means. About six years ago I was taken with what appeared to be a bad cold, but in a short time symptoms of confluent Small Pox were developed, causing me much alarm. I determined to try Brandreth's Pills as a remedy, and their efficacy was soon apparent. I was well much sooner than was expected, and without receiving a single mark or trouble of any kind. It is in my firm belief, judging from the severity of the case, that had I gone through the regular routine prescribed by physicians, I should have died. I know of many other instances of the value of Brandreth's Pills in disease and sickness, which I will be happy to give to any one who will apply to me.

I have used Brandreth's Pills for over thirty years. I am a great sufferer from Rheumatism. Whenever I feel it I take one or two doses, which give me immediate relief. I take them for constipation, with which I am also troubled, and they always give me relief. I could not get along without your pills in my house.
