Jones, McCubbins & Co. come before the public in this paper with announcement of new Goods. See it.

THE POST OFFICE, on Thanksgiving day, will observe the usual Sunday hours open from 7 to 9 a. m., and from 12 to 2 p. m.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL Superintendents of Rowan County are earnestly requested to send in their Annual Reports...

DANGEROUS.—The attention of Mr. J. F. Robinson, bridge commissioner, is called to the condition of the bridge over Grant's Creek...

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The young men of the town accomplished arrangements for a holiday's rest on Thanksgiving...

WATERMELON ON ICE.—On the 19th instant we were sent a large slice of watermelon raised by Mr. A. L. Johnson...

The recent meeting of the Synod of North Carolina, at Wilmington, has been spoken of by our delegate, Mr. Knox, as one of the most pleasant and interesting he has ever known.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The clerks in the various stores in Salisbury have been pleased to inform the people of the county and surrounding country...

Contributions for building monuments to "our noble dead" are said to come tardily. Now is the time. Nearly every community in the State has monuments...

BEAUTIFUL BUILDING LOTS.—There are a number of beautiful building lots advertised for sale in this paper. Persons wishing such property here should visit the grounds offered for sale by Mr. S. R. Harrison and Mr. R. R. Crawford...

THE NEGRO PROBLEM—How to Settle It. MOCKSVILLE, DAVID CO. N. C., Nov. 14th, 1883.

The abolition problem was settled by the late war. The negro was set free and enfranchised. But the negro is yet a disturbing cause in the land, and from present appearances is likely so to continue.

THE SOUTHERN TELEGRAPH COMPANY'S line has been completed to this city and is working with Richmond, Baltimore and intermediate places.

and of justice demands colonization. The safety and perpetuity of the negro race demands it. Nothing but ill health for the past decade has prevented us from giving this great subject the prominence it so well merits.

Much argued gush is just now being emitted by newspapers, interspersed with a little solid practical sense, in advocacy of facilitating immigration and capital into North Carolina and the South generally.

It is a step in the right direction, but Mr. Bruener, let me tell you in all candor and friendship, that these spasmodic efforts to induce immigration and capital into the ex-slave States can hardly have permanency...

OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, Feb. 9, 1881. H. H. Helper, Esq., Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th inst., asking for the amount of the revenue collected on raw cotton from the time the tax was first imposed to time when it was repealed.

It will not be denied, I presume, that the law imposing the tax on raw cotton was unconstitutional, and that therefore the collection of said tax was illegal.

Mr. Editor: At a public meeting of the citizens of Rowan, Irredell and Cabarrus counties, held at McLean's Mills in Rowan, on Saturday the 17th Nov., inst., Jos. F. McLean was called to the chair, and S. D. Morrison requested to act as secretary.

Resolved, 1st. That we are opposed to all mob law whatever; and that it tends to demoralization and to the subversion of all constitutional law, and teaches a disrespect for the same.

Resolved, 2d. That we are also opposed to shielding the violators of the criminal laws of North Carolina in any way whatever.

Resolved, 3d. That a copy of these Resolutions be handed to the Judges and Solicitors with a request that they may use their best endeavor to bring all violators of the criminal code to a speedy trial.

Resolved, 4th. That the Salisbury and Statesville papers requested to publish these proceedings. J. F. McLEARN, Chairman. S. D. MORRISON, Sec.

DAVIDSON, L.L., Nov. 20.—Early yesterday morning some unknown parties inserted dynamite cartridges under the Dew Drop inn managed by Lee Ayres.

Raleigh News-Obs.—Small parties of Pennsylvania men come through nearly every day now. They all seem to like the appearance of things. Some more so than others.

Opening of the Big Mound. Prof. Norris, the ethnologist, who has been examining the mounds in this section for several months, the other day opened the big mound on Colonel B. H. Smith's farm, six or eight miles below here.

On each of the chief's wrists were six copper bracelets, while a looking glass of mica lay at his shoulder, and his gorget of copper resided on his breast.

Each of the men buried there had been enclosed in a bark coffin. We are informed that Prof. Norris will, at an early date, deliver a lecture in this city, upon the subject of mounds, at which time he will exhibit many of the relics which he has found.

Longevity in the South. Another huge volume of the tenth census of the United States has come to hand. We have awaited the appearance of this particular volume, curious to learn how the population of the country is distributed with regard to old age.

The following is a list of the States, with the District of Columbia, showing their rank with regard to longevity: 1. Louisiana; 2. Mississippi; 3. Alabama; 4. South Carolina; 5. Florida; 6. Georgia; 7. North Carolina; 8. Virginia; 9. Tennessee; 10. Texas; 11. Arkansas; 12. Kentucky; 13. District of Columbia; 14. Maryland; 15. California; 16. Delaware; 17. Nevada; 18. Colorado; 19. West Virginia; 20. Missouri; 21. Vermont; 22. New Hampshire; 23. Ohio; 24. Rhode Island; 25. Indiana; 26. New York; 27. Michigan; 28. Pennsylvania; 29. Massachusetts; 30. Wisconsin; 31. New Jersey; 32. Minnesota; 33. Illinois; 34. Oregon; 35. Kansas; 36. Maine; 37. Connecticut; 38. Iowa; 39. Nebraska.

To illustrate how this list is made, take for instance the States of N. York and Alabama: there are proportionally to the population nine times more of the age of one hundred years in Alabama than in New York, and fifteen times more than in Maine.

A Relic of the Lost Cause. We have in this office a blood stained piece of silk, faded and full of bullet holes, which once formed a part of the cross upon the flag of company E which was taken from this county by Capt. Jno. F. Hill. The flag was presented to the company by the ladies of Richmond Va., in 1861.

Some years ago we met an agent of a manufacturing establishment from New England whose business was to hunt up and buy young white hickory which was cut into strips of the desired size and shipped to Connecticut to be used in the manufacture of bows for archery clubs.

carried it several months, when he fell dead upon his beloved colors at Spottsylvania C. H., and the dark spots upon the remnant we have, are blood stains from the heart of this lion hearted boy. His body was tenderly lifted from the flag by Corporal Wood who captured it when he too, fell dead. Capt. Halsey of Rutherford, then seized the colors, and in five minutes was a corpse. Mr. A. C. Hartzog of this county picked up the flag and bore it until he surrendered it at Appomattox.

Gigantic Nuptials. The Irish Giant and German Giantess are Spliced in the Presence of a Large Audience.

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 20.—Patrick William O'Brien, Irish giant, and Christina D. Duns, German giantess, were married in this city to-day. The ceremony was performed in the German Evangelical church, on Smithfield street, by Rev. Fred Ruff and was witnessed by an immense number of people, including Mayor Lyon and the council of Pittsburgh.

The bride wore a wreath of orange blossoms and veil that covered a superb dress of white satin. After the services the bridal party drove to the museum where they were engaged and gave a public reception. This evening a special reception will be given at the Hamilton Hotel.

Moving a Brick House. The building fraternity of Cincinnati have been congratulating themselves upon the successful performance of a job that fully half of them viewed as impossible.

Small Industries. From the Charlotte Observer. Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston, in reply to a question as to the cause of the prosperity of the New England States, said: "You want to know the secret of New England's prosperity? Well, it is not in her large factories. They are well enough but they are not the cause of our wealth nor the basis of our prosperity."

What seem to be small industries are sometimes really great industries. It is a fact not generally known that many of these small industries draw a very large portion of their material from North Carolina.

A Peculiar System of Marriage. Life in the Siberian mines, says the Pall Mall Gazette, is not such an altogether unmitigated curse as popular imagination pictures it. From some of the greatest evils which men elsewhere have to suffer, the convicts in Eastern Siberia are happily delivered.

the factory which he represented employing several hundred hands in the making of these bows which were shipped all over the world. Why could not these bows be made here as well as there?

God Bless our Bonny Land. The South, it is true, is struggling manfully against the tide of adversity which has been directed against her.

Massachusetts "Decency." The anti-Butler papers in Massachusetts are congratulating themselves that the defeat of Butler for Governor was a triumph of the "decent people" of that State.
