

THE NOMINATIONS!

The following is the result of the municipal convention, which met just before we go to press to-night:

- FOR MAYOR, T. C. LINN. FOR COMMISSIONERS: North Ward—D. M. Miller, Chas. Atwell. South Ward—D. R. Julian, N. B. McCanness. East Ward—A. Parker, John Moyle. West Ward—J. W. Mauney, H. T. Trantham.

Mr. S. E. Linton, of Charlotte, is in the city. Don't fail to see Mrs. Jarley Friday night.

Mr. W. W. Reid has been at Albemarle this week.

Mr. Walter Murphy is reading law with Captain Price.

Mr. Marshal Beall, of Murphy, was here this week.

Mr. Theo. Klutz went to Albemarle Monday morning.

Carpenters are doing some repairing on the Baptist church.

Mrs. R. M. Payne, of Winston, is visiting Mrs. C. R. Barker.

Mr. J. W. Mauney is down helping to run Stanley court this week.

Klutz & Rendleman are offering 20 pounds of white sugar for $1.00.

Col. A. B. Andrews passed through on his way to Albemarle Sunday night.

Mrs. Fannie Hairston and daughters, Misses Agnes and Ruth, are at Dr. Caldwell's.

The pastor, Rev. N. S. Jones, will commence a series of meetings at the Baptist church next Sunday.

The improved brick making machinery for the Salisbury Company has arrived. It is first class in every respect.

Winston is to have another daily paper. Mr. A. Phenix, late of the Manufacturer Record is to edit it.

Messrs. H. & L. Wright will soon open a fine stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods on North Main street.

Geo. W. Wright has rented the Clodfelter store room and will move his stock of furniture, organs and pianos into it in a very short while.

The spinning machinery was put in motion at the Knitting Mills Tuesday and will supply all of the yarn used by the mills in the future.

Mr. Carl Baerbaum is prostrated with an attack of typhoid fever at Mr. John Carson's, in the upper part of the county, where he had gone on a visit.

Mr. J. T. Lindsay, lately with Messrs. Littman & Litchenstein, of this place, will leave for Winston next Monday, where he has accepted a position in a dry goods house.

A slight accident occurred on the Yadin road Tuesday, caused by the breaking of a bolt of one of the trucks under a flat car, thereby derailing two cars. No passengers hurt.

Mrs. Jarley will exhibit her figures at Meroney's Hall, Friday night, April 10, under the auspices of the King's Daughters, and St. Cecilia Society. Everybody is expected to attend.

Traffic in real estate gives promise of unusual activity in Salisbury this spring. Considerable business on this line has been going on already notwithstanding the unfavorable weather.

It has been authoritatively announced that the last service in the old Presbyterian church will be held on Sunday, the 19th inst., after which the tearing away will be begun and the new church built.

The Raleigh News-Observer, which sometimes forgets the truth in political matters, Tuesday made the astonishing and uncalled for statement that Senator Vance did not promise to support the Sub-Treasury Scheme.

Iredell county Alliance will meet at Mooresville to-morrow. Hon. A. Leazer who is now lecturer for the 7th Congressional district, and Bro. R. P. Hunter, who holds the same position in the 6th district, will deliver addresses.

If you want a good reaper or mower this season, see Clevely & McCulloch before buying. They are agents for the Deering. This machine is guaranteed in every respect, and will be sold for less money than any other first class machine on the market.

The Craig property, located just beyond the Western railroad on North Main street, consisting of 84 acres, has been purchased by three gentlemen, who will lay off the same in lots and proceed to dispose of them. Thus, one thing and another is happening every day here, which indicates a new spirit among our citizens.

Wood has been in great demand for the past few days, and none on the market. The farmers are too busy to haul wood and as there is no wood yard here from whence to supply the demand, a great deal of suffering was no doubt the result. A coal and wood yard is a necessity in towns of the population of Salisbury, and we hope to see one established before the advent of another winter.

Mr. Fife to Come. Mr. Bill Fife, the celebrated evangelist, is to be here on the 25th of this month. It is through the efforts of Mr. J. H. Foust and other members of the Y. M. C. A., that his services were secured. A joint meeting was held at the Methodist church last Sunday night and several pastors and laymen pledged their aid to make the meeting a great one.

Meeting of Stockholders. A part of the stockholders of the Piedmont Alliance Fair Association met in Salisbury last Saturday. Owing to the condition of the roads a quorum was not present. The chairman authorized Capt. J. A. Fisher to make arrangements for the completion of the track. We understand that the premium list will be ready for distribution soon. The next meeting will be held on the first Saturday in July.

Quick Work. Last week a mother advertised for her son in the WATCHMAN. The paper was printed, went to Charlotte, and before the ink was dry the young man was found. Still there are people who think it don't pay to use the columns of a paper that way. By the way the WATCHMAN has a select list of advertisers. We could fill it with trashy advertisements, but will not. We can recommend all our home advertisers and trust that our readers will profit by their enterprise.

Reduced Rates. The R. & D. R. Co. will sell tickets to Greensboro, N. C., to parties attending the annual meeting of the North Carolina Lumbermen and Woodworkers' Association at the following reduced rates: From Charlotte, $4.80; Salisbury, $2.75; Winston-Salem, $1.95; Durham, $2.95; Raleigh, $1.35; Selma, $5.40; Goldsboro, $6.10; Henderson, $5.00. Rates from intermediate points in some proportion. Tickets on sale April 13, 14 and 15, good returning until and including April 17, 1891.

We are Progressing. Now and then the great papers report their progress. The WATCHMAN is outstripping all its competitors. The wages paid to its employees every week amounts to less than a thousand dollars. If the paper it is printed on was cut in strips an inch wide it would reach from the fountain at the intersection of Main and Linn streets to McCubbins wharf. Our fighting editor has struck for a higher salary since he learned that the concern is paying ten per cent. monthly. He wants to be a partner or quit. The above is a feeble imitation of the New York World's way of stating things.

The Choral Union Concert. The concert given by the Choral Union Tuesday evening was up to the usual standard, which means that it was a success so far as the selections and rendition of the music were concerned. But the attendance was a reflection upon the intelligent music-loving citizens of Salisbury. It was a small house so to speak, but those who were present were delighted with the character of music and the superior manner in which it was rendered. The programme, as published in our last, was carried out. The soloists excelled themselves and the choruses were sung with the spirit of artists. This institution should be encouraged and liberally patronized on the occasion of concerts by the people of Salisbury. We hope to see the hall crowded hereafter.

Working them Rich. The editor of the Statesville Landmark is very generous. A few weeks ago he mentioned that Col. Byron, or some Englishman, had received $10 per word for a certain poem. Dr. Caldwell stated that the Bard of Coddle Creek wrote better poetry for the Landmark and only charged $5 a word. Since that Messrs. J. K. Morrison, & Co., the popular dealers in groceries and confectionaries at Statesville, have "fallen into poetry." The writer caught Mr. Morrison counting money last week and he counted right on and wouldn't talk a bit. The quantity of money seemed unlimited. We guess Dr. Caldwell had just paid him for some poetry. Messrs. Reinsner & Bro., of Salisbury, have fallen into poetry, too, as will be seen in their ad on the outside of this issue. The WATCHMAN only pays them $4 per word and it is the best in the lot.

The Third Soiree. The third soiree of the Neave School of Music was repeated on last Thursday night. The bad weather kept but few of the scholars away, and the audience was just comfortably large. The orchestral numbers were, as usual, acceptably presented, enriched with every diversity of tone-coloring. Masters N. Taylor and E. Coit played violins in solo and orchestral numbers, of every variety of first class music, in a very charming, masterly manner. Master L. Gaskill, after only seven weeks training, made a very seemly debut as a cornet soloist, and his fine playing, when over, was rewarded with a spontaneous burst of warm applause. The accompanists—Misses A. Neave, M. Julian, E. Gowan, K. Walton and M. Wiley—all proved their special culture in the highest and best of piano-forte work, especially the latter one, whose cool nerves and spirited precision formed a pleasant surprise and promise. The little Misses Pauline Berahardt and Marlen Heilig played a piano duet with a serenity and brightness that assure their future. The four piano solos of Misses E. McKenzie, E. Vanderford, R. Mauney and L. Foust were played very delectably and evinced entire exemption from nervousness; Miss Foust played S. B. Mills finest Tarantelle from memory, with such ease that her animating and expression wholly engrossed general attention. Misses L. Bernhardt, A. Jones, C. Moch, and M. C. Lanier did very accurate and effective work, with others, in the orchestral selections. Instead of the 'International Fantasie,' Misses Walton, Neave and Julian, decided to play as a trio, 'The Alpine Storm,' an imitative composition by Kunkel. Prior to its rendition, Mr. Neave said to the audience, that "Music can neither describe nor imitate. Musical ideas are wholly supplied from inward sentiment, while the depictions of painting are imitative, for they come entirely from outward observation. Language describes, reasons and appeals to the intellect; while music can only stir up the finer emotions and thus appeal to feeling. Therefore, before listening to mimetic music, it is best to hear the composer's own conception of his tone-narration, in definite language." This being attached to the music, Miss L. Foust obligingly consented to recite it; and, without any preparation, she did so in a very intelligible style, which added much zest and interest to the vivid performance of it by the three ladies above named.

Proceedings of County Commissioners. The Commissioners met here Monday. Present: W. L. Klutz, Chairman; L. W. Coleman, I. F. Patterson, Cornelius Kester and J. A. Stewart. H. N. Woodson turned over several sums of money derived from various sources.

W. W. Krider, tax collector, reported that he had collected $29,000 of taxes for 1890. He has paid the county treasurer $11,000 of the school fund, $9,000 on the county fund and deposited in the Davis & Wiley Bank $9,000 to the credit of the State. The board ordered that Mr. Krider be allowed until the first Monday in May to collect the balance of taxes.

Alsbrook, $2 for two months; Perline Howard, $3; Chas. Fesperman, $3; Isabela Ervin, $3; Lena Correll, $3; Eli Beau and Daniel Maxwell were allowed to go to the poor house.

Lou Tatum and Wm. Boyd applied for help, but were refused because they were not legally entitled to the county fund.

The following accounts were presented and ordered paid: Victor Wallace, 60 cents; T. F. Young, $2.86; C. F. Baker & Co., 50 cents; R. J. Holmes, $1.40; Dr. R. Julian & Co., $3.10; Klutz & Rendleman, $10.67; T. F. Klutz & Co., $3.60; L. C. Bernhardt, $2.70; R. M. Davis, $7.80; A. M. Brown, 75 cents; A. M. Brown $45.00 for services as keeper of the poor house for quarter ending March 31, 1891. Dr. J. J. Summerell, $16.00 for services as county Superintendent of Health for month of March.

A. M. Brown keeper of the poor house reported the average number of paupers as 16-7 whites and 9 negroes. He also presented an itemized account for keeping said paupers of $40.30.

Dr. Summerell made his monthly report which was ordered to be filed.

The following jurors were drawn for the May term of Rowan Court: Calvin J. Cress, W. R. Warner, E. Miller, Obadiah Eller, F. E. Shober, Jas. M. Patterson, Martin Hoffman, C. W. Johnston, Smith J. Graham, M. C. McCubbins, Richard A. Heilig, Nathan Morgan, W. A. File, R. J. Shaver, John Buchanan, John W. Frick, Jno. L. Cowan, W. A. Barber, J. A. Douglass, Geo. F. Powless, Jno. D. Albemarle. THE TRAIN HAS REACHED ALBEMARLE AND EVERYBODY FEELS GOOD. ELKINS SEES A REAL TRAIN. The first train ran into Albemarle, the capital of Stanley county, last Saturday. The people all fell upon each other necks and wept. Naturally the people all wanted to see the train. The road will be finished to Norwood soon, in a month perhaps. Court is in session this week. There is no important case on the docket. Stanley people have been quite orderly. Judge Judge Graves can keep the jury away from the depot perhaps the court will adjourn to-day. The writer helped them to run court, run the depot and swap horses Tuesday.

The health of the county is good. They want some Italians to come to Albemarle and start a monkey show, so they can kill them and start a graveyard. The town is without one so far.

Stanley county has been shut out from the world all the time, but the railroad, will give them a boom. Already saw mills and other things are being started. Albemarle is looking up. The Baptists and Episcopalians are trying to raise money to build churches for their respective congregations. Quite a sum has been secured by the Baptists, and the Episcopalians have had two festivals this week and have secured enough for a nice beginning. The ladies have charge and, of course, they will not give up until they get two nice churches.

The people of Albemarle and Stanley county swear by the WATCHMAN, and swear at it sometimes, too.

It came to our knowledge while at Albemarle that John R. Elkins, editor of the Observer, had been paying considerable attention to the train on the new road. Several citizens claim that he gets up sooner and stays up later than usual since the advent of the curiosity. We also heard that he spells "Stanley" without an "e."

We thought best to hold a meeting and select a jury enquirendo de bitibus, so to speak. So we got a jury of six men and proceeded. Several citizens testified.

Mr. Klutz, a prominent merchant, stated that he had known Mr. Elkins a number of years. He had noticed him going to the depot a great deal, but attached little importance to the matter.

Mr. J. W. Bostian, proprietor of the Hotel de Bostian, after being duly sworn, said: "I have known Mr. Elkins, editor of the Observer, for more than three years. He puts in a great deal of time at the depot. I notice that he gets up these mornings a great deal earlier than he did before the train began arriving."

Mr. Cox, senior member of the firm of C. D. Cox & Co., was next called to the stand. He said: "I have known Mr. Elkins intimately for a year or more. I know him to be honest and industrious. Have seen him going toward the depot quite frequently lately. I understand that he spends a good deal of time looking at the train."

After hearing all the testimony and carefully weighing the facts and it not appearing that Mr. Elkins had neglected his family, we decided to dismiss the case provided he would promise to spend Stanley correctly hereafter. This he did without a murmur.

Work to Be Done. This is going to be a busy year in Salisbury. Street work will soon begin. Two or three churches are to be built, besides perhaps dozens of other buildings. Two cotton factories, brick works, ice factory and other things. All this will require labor. After everything is put in operation many people will be employed. It is estimated that the tobacco, cotton and other factories will employ nearly 1,000 people, many of them skilled workmen. The trade of the town is growing in every direction. Our merchants are making new friends and customers fast. Don't tell it so it will get out, but it is a fact that Salisbury has more solid boom on foot than any other city in North Carolina.

New Advertisements. Mr. Jas. B. Mason, Chapel Hill, N. C., will attend to your direct tax collections. Messrs. Boyne & Badger, of Charlotte, one of the most reliable jewelry firms in the country, make a specialty of diamonds. See the advertisement of the great Davis Racket Store, Charlotte, N. C. They do an immense business. See the excellent letter of the M. S. Brown clothing house. This house means business, is thoroughly reliable and will sell goods in their line cheap. Bids are wanted for the Vance Cotton Mills by L. H. Foust. Contractors, attention! Mr. J. Allen Brown, represents the Georgia Home Insurance Company. See ad.

Open Letter. Salisbury, N. C., April 6, 1891. MR. EDITOR: Dear Sir: To satisfy the minds of a number of my friends and customers who think that I intend to move my business to Danville, I will explain my position through you, the best and most efficient way. My business here will be continued as formerly, and under better auspices than ever. The closing out sale had reduced my stock and enabled me to replenish with all the newest and latest novelties in the market. The advantage I had in buying two stocks (one for Salisbury and one for Danville) enabled me to save for them a good percent, which was given me by buying such a quantity. My friends will readily realize that fact when they come in to examine the special lines of Underwear, new styled Shirts, nobby Hats, Shoes, and the most complete line of neckwear I have ever had. My Clothing is certainly well selected, and there is no reason why any one should buy elsewhere. I have the stock, and the men to sell it, too. My special order department is a success this season also. Those who do not care to buy a ready made suit or are hard to fit need have no fears to patronize me, for if any garment made for them does not fit they need not take it. All fits guaranteed. You may also say to the ladies that I have made a specialty of my Boys' Clothing, and want to see every one of them. While I may not have everything in my immediate stock to fit, can get anything they want in a few days. I also have an elegant line of Trunks, Valises, Travelling Bags, Umbrellas, etc., for them. My former success and friendship is a good advertisement, but to do justice to all and that no one shall be disappointed or make any mistakes, I want you to put this in bold type, and let all be reminded that my stock is complete, and especially that the Clothing is bought to the best advantage of the trade. In addition to my former force—Messrs. T. B. Brown, Wm. B. Smoot and M. S. Colly—my former salesman, Mr. Jas. D. Heilig, is now with me and will be glad to see all his friends again. Respectfully, M. S. BROWN.

Racket Store! CHARLOTTE, N. C. 4000 yds white goods at 3c. 4000 yds Victoria Lawn at 5c. 4000 yds white goods at 8c. 4000 yds white goods at 10c. Our New York House cut the price on 85 cases of those away down to the half way line and asked us to do likewise and force those out at about half price. Now we have about 200 pieces of regular goods worth from 12 1/2 to 40 cents and if we get cost for these we shall be content. We don't slaughter goods quite so great as this white goods slaughter often for the reason we can't afford to. We have done our best by doing but can't buy as cheap as these often, but when we do why all things bend to fit the bargain and go out at lightning speed. This is the greatest offering of White Goods ever made in Charlotte, embracing altogether 25,000 yards. Summer is almost here and this great offering is timely for all the better grades of goods our stock is complete. Full line of organdies in all the grades from 5 to 30. Samples sent on application. Next week we offer full lines of the great of Ball and Kabo Corsets of which we made recent large purchase. We are proposing to make a great run on these celebrated goods. See our special Corset Advertisement. The wonderful increase in sales in our Clothing Department shows how this magnificent stock is appreciated at the cost of handling. Our clothing stock of $25,000 is too much any way. We find if we do unload cost we can fill all the space with other goods we are not showing. Douglass shoes at Douglass' prices to the trade, and they are good sellers at that. These shoes are in all styles and all numbers, made for this spring's trade and for his ladies' $2.50 shoe we get $2.00, and his men's $3.00 we get $2.50. Now we call this mercantile success. We make our profit and sell as low as our neighbors can buy. W. J. & E. M. DAVIS.

U. S. DIRECT TAX. Paid on Land in 1886-87 Refunded. James B. Mason, attorney-at-law, Chapel Hill, N. C., will collect this tax for 5 cents on the Dollar. Send your receipts to him. If lost write the facts. He can give the best citizens of Chapel Hill as references. 23:3m
