THOSE IN ARREARS.

It ought not to be necessary to call to the attention of those who are in arrears that now is a very appropriate time to come forward and make a settlement. At the small price we are offering the WATCHMAN, your home paper, no one should expect us to wait on them at all, but as some have unintentionally or otherwise allowed the time to slip by, we take this method of gently reminding them our terms are cash and prices made just as low as it is possible to furnish the paper. There is not the least offense intended, but should you notice a blue X mark after your name, you will understand that this has reference to you.

PARTIZAN BIAS GONE TO SEED.

Mayor Boyden, of Salisbury, who was re-nominated Tuesday for his fourth term, said in the course of a speech that night to his supporters, referring to his work and especially to the duty of holding mayor's court: "I depise that feature of it. And I want to say that if I ever did wrong in the trial of those cases, it was because I did not know the facts. I am not ashamed that I have dealt leniently with poor, friendless people, and standing here before you, I am not ashamed to say that I have been kind to the negro." All honor to him for following that policy and for uttering that sentiment! The rich and influential can take care of themselves but when the poor and friendless get into court they have nothing to hope for except from the justice and humanity of their judge.—Charlotte Observer.

No man, in the position of the editor of the Observer, can successfully make the plea of an ignoramus. There has been too many facts made public, ready to be backed up with ample evidence for any intelligent man to go so far out of his way to endorse anything this man Boyden might say, at least without some grains of allowance. The above looks very much as though our good neighbor has sat long and hungered for just some such doubtful ray of light to expose his prejudice and fellow feeling for an old chum. This phrase can be just as truthfully arranged something like this: "And I want to say that if I ever did wrong in the trial of these cases, it was because I did not 'care to have' the facts. I am not ashamed that I have dealt 'harshly,' etc.

The above has not been written with the intention or desire to wound the sensibilities of the editor of the Observer, nor for the purpose of offending any one. But seeing things as we do, we feel that it is a solemn duty incumbent upon us to expose anything that intentionally, unintentionally or otherwise, tends to uphold demagoguery and the flaunting of false colors in the face of the public. In this particular, all any fair, unbiased person need do, is to delve into the great mass of ever ready and tangible evidence. After which, if the endorsements are not scarcer, it will be because such a writer will have gone to some distant solitude to repent of past mistakes. As for us, we also heartily endorse the sentiment and respect any one who may truly follow such a policy, but this same appreciation of high sentiment, lofty motives and unalloyed justice, causes unbounded amazement when we see it so recklessly misapplied and unworthily bestowed.

Stolen Express Money Recovered.

St. Paul, Minn., April 18.—The $25,000 stolen at the Union depot Tuesday night, was today recovered by the police. John Gunderson, the suspected robber, who was arrested on Wednesday, told the police where he had hidden the money. One package containing $10,000 was found under a piece of dirt in Jackson street, and two other packages containing $15,000 were found under the platform at the Great Northern shops.

CAUGHT IN MACHINERY.

H. C. Miller, of Statesville, the Victim of a Horrible Fatality.

Statesville, April 20.—A very tragic and distressing death occurred here this morning about 10 o'clock, when H. C. Miller died at the sanatorium from the effects of injuries received a short while before. The accident occurred at the City Roller Mills, which was owned and operated by the dead man and his brother, R. A. Miller.

About 9:15 o'clock the fireman at the mill, who was in the engine room, heard a scream in the main part of the building and when he answered the call for help he saw Mr. Miller entangled in the machinery which was splattering blood right and left. The fireman rushed back to the engine and shut it down, in the meantime calling for help. A number of people were near by. Kerr Miller, a brother of the dead man, was driving along in his buggy. The injured man was taken from the machine, placed in the buggy and hurried to the hospital, but died a few minutes after reaching there. His arms and head were terribly mangled and he never regained consciousness. It is supposed that he was trying to adjust a belt, when his arm became entangled in the machinery.

Mr. Miller was about 28 years old and one of Statesville's most promising business men, and his tragic death has caused untold distress to his close friends. He was married only last spring and his young wife, who was Miss Carrie Shelton, and his mother and father are prostrated with grief. Mr. Miller was a member of four different lodges and his fellow members will have charge of the funeral and burial. The funeral will be conducted from the First Methodist church tomorrow afternoon and the remains will be interred at Oakwood cemetery.—Special to Charlotte Observer.

Was Disguised as a Stoker.

Maples, April 21.—Details were obtained today of the escape from Italy of Enrico Alfano, known as "Erricone," head of the Camorra Secret Society, whose extradition is sought by the Italian authorities. The local police authorities who had long suspected him of being connected with the Camorra, ordered a squad of gendarmes to arrest him. But Alfano, having associates among all classes of the population, was notified of the intention to take him into custody and succeeded in leaving Naples. He went from village to village under varied disguises in efforts to elude capture. At San Leucio, near Caserta, the gendarmes surrounded a house in which Alfano was concealed, but the Camorra chief succeeded in escaping and took a train for Rome. On arriving in that city Alfano consulted a lawyer and remained hidden for a week at the capital. But, lacking the certain protection of the Camorra, which is a Neapolitan organization, Alfano returned here. The gendarmes, however, began closing in on Alfano, who eventually secured a false passport and escaped to the United States disguised as a stoker.

Paris Hotels Don't Want Him.

Major Taylor, the champion American bicycle rider, was forced to leave the hotel where he had registered on account of the color line. American tourists at the hotel are responsible for the negro's being ordered out, declaring that they would leave unless the negro was compelled to move. In an interview, Taylor, who is a member of the negro "400" explained that this treatment is in contrast with the welcome usually accorded him. He declared he would not seek admission in any other hotel but would take a home of his own.—Paris, France, dispatch.

His Dear old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feel strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles by all druggists. 50c.

Flying Fish Struck Sailor.

When the liner Korea was howling along on a smooth sea in the tropics between Yokohama and Honolulu, a flying fish struck Second Officer R. Allman as he stood on the bridge and caused him some little injury.

The fish was one of a large school and had flown to unusual height at the time. Allman was at the moment taking an observation when he felt a blow on his right side. A hasty glance downward disclosed the flying fish, which lay on the bridge stunned from the impact with the officer's body.

Allman was not seriously hurt and he saved the flying fish, which is retained as a memento of his strange experience. The bridge of the Korea, where Allman stood, is about 50 feet above the surface of the sea.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Tunnel Caves In.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 22.—A portion of the Copper Ridge tunnel, on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, 17 miles north of this city, caved in today. The cave in smothered a fire which had been burning since yesterday when a rear-end freight collision occurred in the tunnel. Two brakemen were injured. It is estimated that 1,000 feet of the tunnel is damaged by fire burning the wood lining and supports, and by the cave-in caused by the supports falling. A locomotive, caboose and three coal cars were consumed. The tunnel may be closed to traffic for several weeks.

Aycock for President.

At a banquet in Chattanooga one night last week Editor John Temple Graves suggested in a speech that Mr. Bryan nominate Mr. Roosevelt for a third term. There will be no need to nominate Mr. Roosevelt or any one else if the South will assert her rights and nominate Chas. B. Aycock, of North Carolina, and put his campaign in the hands of Mr. Simmons, of the same state. Mr. Aycock is a bigger and better man than Mr. Roosevelt or any other republican in this republic, without the inconsistency or impulsiveness of the present occupant of the White House. His sterling qualities and silver oratory would win many votes all over this country, and votes are what the Democrats need in a presidential election.—Gaffney, S. C. Ledger.

Filipinos to the Exposition.

San Francisco, April 21.—Among the passengers on the Japanese steamer, America Maru, which arrived last night, were 100 Filipinos enroute to the Jamestown Exposition. Three civilized and three savage tribes are represented. Among the savage Filipinos are two survivors of the Mount Dajo battle and Prince Sansaluna, son and heir of the notorious Datto Ali, of the Moros. Sansaluna has five slave with him. The civilized tribes represented are the Tagala, the Visayan and the Bisolo. The savage members are from the Bagato, the Ilao and the Moro tribes. The Filipinos are in charge of W. A. Sutherland and will leave for the East tomorrow.

Had Three Wives, Wanted Another.

W. G. Underwood, formerly the western sales manager for the Fairbanks-Morse Scale Company, is charged with having led a quadruple existence. In the past fifteen months he is said to have made a collection of three happy homes, three unhappy wives and a bride-to-be. Just as Mr. Underwood was preparing to rent a fourth little happy home for his fourth bride, the three other Mrs. Underwoods got together. Warrants were issued immediately. Other warrants were issued by the Fairbanks-Morse Company, charging Underwood with having collected money on bogus checks.

Dora Underwood claims the proud distinction of being the first Mrs. Underwood. She was married to Underwood in Danville, Ill., December 5th, 1898.

Edna Lapelle Underwood is the second. Last night she exhibited a certificate attesting to her marriage to Underwood in Sioux City two weeks ago. The third wife is alleged to have been married in Sioux Falls.

The bride-to-be is a Chicago woman and her name has been suppressed.—Chicago dispatch.

Barley, Bread and Beer

These three words are derived from the same Anglo Saxon root—brewan. All three are foods. Barley, a grain that makes both bread and beer. Bread, a solid food. Beer, a liquid food.

In making bread, flour and yeast are used; in making beer, barley-malt, hops and yeast are used. The same principle is in each—both are wholesome foods.

In Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer the Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process matures the malt slowly and uniformly, thus transforming every particle of nutriment in the barley into perfect food substances.

To these are added the invigorating properties of the choicest hops, by the Pabst brewing process, which insures absolute purity.

Your system requires a liquid. Why not use one that is both food and drink—

Pabst Blue Ribbon The Beer of Quality

The special value of Pabst Blue Ribbon at meals is that it encourages the fluids of the stomach to render action—thus aiding you to get the fullest nourishment from your food.

You can prove the value of Pabst Blue Ribbon as a food, by ordering a case today for home use.

Chip

CHIP TOBACCO is one of the best and largest plugs of fine-cured goods ever offered the consumer at 10c. It is manufactured by a strictly INDEPENDENT firm, a concern depending solely upon the good will and patronage of the people at large; a patronage only desired upon the strength of the superior quality of their tobaccos. That it has earned this appreciation is amply proved by the tremendous and rapidly increasing demand for CHIP. In fact, wherever their tobaccos come into competition with other makes, whether with the people or before judges of the world's great exhibitions, they are invariably winners. Call for CHIP and save the tags as they are valuable.

A copy of our 1907 premium catalogue, which is one of the largest and most attractive ever gotten out by a tobacco manufacturer, will be mailed to any address in the United States on receipt of only 4c in postage stamps or 8 of the tags we are redeeming.
