Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, Better Than Three Doctors.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. Today he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—Mrs. B. J. Johnston, Linton, Miss. For sale by James Plummer, Salisbury, and Spencer Pharmacy, Spencer, N. C.

A chicken hatched last week at the home of Lee Clark, in Bethany township, boasted four wings and four legs. Extra legs on chickens is not uncommon, but a double portion of wings and legs is a curiosity worth while.—Statesville Landmark.

Congressman Called Down Then Knocked Down.

The Telegraphers' Union held a meeting in Chicago a few days ago and among those on the stage was Congressman McDermott. He is a member of the union and in the course of the meeting he was called upon for a speech. When he arose to respond objection was made by some one present that the Congressman was not in good standing as he has failed to pay his dues. The objection was sustained and the Congressman had to take his seat.

As he did so, he made an insulting remark to the man who had called him down and the man proceeded to knock him down as well. The Congressman was in the wrong in letting his temper get away with him. It was proper that a man who had failed to pay his dues and was therefore disqualified from participating in the proceedings should have been halted, and that in this instance the man was a Congressman was all the more to the credit of the man who publicly called attention to his imperfection.—Charlotte Chronicle.

It was proper to call the Congressman to task, for he was doubtless in the meeting for the sole purpose of gaining the support of the members of the union.—Statesville Landmark.

We heartily concur in the above and are glad to see such sentiment and conduct endorsed. We have little five-cent politicians about here who are guilty of similar offenses and deserve similar treatment.

Burglars have been operating in several houses in the graded school district during the past week and people living over there are preparing to blow night prowlers to kingdom come when they next appear. Several houses have been rifled.—Lexington Dispatch.

A Safe Prophecy.

Georgia is the first of the Southern States to vote prohibition. We venture the prediction that North Carolina will be second.—Concord Times.

A Guilty Father Dies.

Thomas Giddings, the old man who tried to kill his oldest daughter Tuesday and afterwards drank carbolic acid, died at the hospital early Friday morning, thus robbing the court of a sensational case.

Last night Giddings made a statement to the officers in which he confesses that he had improper relations with his daughter and that he attempted to shoot her because she would not promise not to swear against him. He said the pistol would not fire and this is why his daughter's life was spared. The girl denies that he ever accomplished his purpose.

Those who have stomach trouble, no matter how slight, should give every possible help to the digestive organs, so that the food may be digested with the least effort. This may be done by taking something that contains natural digestive properties—something like Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Kodol is a preparation of vegetable acids and contains the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It digests what you eat. Sold by James Plummer and all druggists.

What Did It.

The threat to call the Legislature in extra session was "the straw that broke the camel's back." When Gov. Glenn declined to treat with the ambassador from the Department of Justice last Thursday, and notified the railroad people gathered in force under Judge Pitchard's protecting wing in Asheville that the road must first agree to obey the law before he would talk about a compromise, the answer of the railroad was, "We'll fight." "Then," says the Governor, "I'll call the Legislature in extra session." Possibly the railroad manager had no idea that he would resort to that dire extremity, but the moment they saw his move a great fear seized them and their knees smote together. A Legislature in session in the present state of the public mind! It is bad enough, with so many members of the body and politicians generally trying to make political capital by doing something to the railroads, to have to run the gauntlet of a regular session. So when the railroad people saw the Governor was in earnest about calling the Legislature, they made haste to get to Raleigh and to say as quick as they could get their breath that they would put the 24-cent rate into effect if the Governor would only give them time to get the tickets printed.

Fact is, if the Governor had insisted, the railroad people would probably have made the fare a cent a mile, law or no law, and would in addition have agreed to haul everybody free certain days in the week, rather than take chances on an extra session of the Legislature; but the Governor was generous and didn't want to press them to the wall.

If Gov. Glenn had made that threat a month ago the railroads would have yielded without firing a gun and all the trouble, fuss and expense might have been saved. But then there would not have been so much opportunity to make political capital.—Statesville Landmark.

Nor would the railroads have learned that they had gone as far as would be tolerated.
