SALISBURY, N. C., JUNE 22, 1909

SALISBURY MOURNS.

Death Lays Its Cold Hand Upon one of Salisbury's Greatest and Most Loved Citizens.

Rev. F. J. Murdoch, D. D., died in Charleston, S. C., early this morning, and the news of his death which greeted citizens as they left their homes and came down town, was received with astonishment and profound sorrow. It was probably not generally known that Dr. Murdoch has been in rather feeble health for some time, having been troubled with an heart affection. In the latter part of last week he, with Mrs. Murdoch, went to Charleston, he being called there on some matter of business connected with the estate of his lately deceased brother. He was taken ill before arriving at his destination, and when he reached Charleston he was conveyed to a hospital where he received prompt medical attention and careful nursing. His condition for awhile on Saturday and Saturday night was such as to cause much alarm to his family and his friends here. Frequent communication was held with Charleston by telephone and just before noon Sunday, Dr. Murdoch was able to go to the telephone in his room and talk to his daughter, Mrs.
Chas. Bell, at his home here. It was the impression last evening among citizens generally that his condition was quite favorable, and the expressions were universal that he would soon be able to return home. But this was not to be, as the spirit of the loved and esteemed man took its flight about 1:00 this morning.

The deceased was born in Buncombe county, N. C., in 1845 and was in his 64th year. He was ordained as deacon in the Episcopal church in 1868. In 1880 he was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Atkinson. He came to Salisbury in 1870 as Rector of St.
Luke's church and on next Sunday would have celebrated the 39th anniversary of his assuming the rectorship of St. Luke's church.

In a brief notice of this sort, prepared just as the paper is going to press, full justice cannot be done to the character, worth and ability of the deceased, and that must be left for a later issue.
It is sufficient to say at this time, that in point of ability Dr. Murdoch had few equals and no superiors in the theological field.
In addition to this he was a man of marked business ability, and his loss, in this particular alone, is a distinct personal one to all of his many associates.

At the time of going to press arrangements for the funeral are not complete. The remains will doubtless reach here to-night when final arrangements will be made by the family. It is understood, however, that the funeral will be held to-morrow evening at 5 o'clock, and the interment will be in Chestnut Hill cemetery.
The tenderest sympathy of the entire community goes out spontaneously to the stricken family.

The telephone is a great thing to any community until you need it right bad, then use it if you can. But, after all, it stops a so much visiting. The house wife now visits over the wire.

No one sick, nobody visiting, no deaths and no marriages to report at this writing. Everybody is at work and wanting help.

Salisbury Is Best.

The case of J. R. Doby, who has just returned from Winston-Salem, is but another instance which goes to show that Salisbury is "it." The other day when Pleasant Wise, an old Confederate veteran, returned from the big re-union at Nashville, he gave expression to his views by saying that he never was gladder to get back to the North State in his life. He said crops here were better, soil more fertile, the air more free, the sunshine brighter and in all a better place for man, at least so far as he is concerned.

Some More Fine Oats.

Another sample of fine oats was received at this office Saturday. This lot measured 70 inches from the ground to the top, had good strong stalks and large heavy kernels and is known as the Canard. These oats were raised by A. J. Mahaley, one of the county's best farmers, a resident of the Union Church neighborhood, near P. A. Hartmans'. Mr. Mahaley has about two acres in this particular field.

But if you can't, do be sensible, and keep away from those rich, oily, all clear Havana cigars. Smoke a light, domestic blend that gives you the flavor of the Havana leaf without its after-effects. We recommend a
