Dangers of Draft

Drafts feel best when we are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuritis, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuritis or Neuralgic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis, too. Price 25c. at your druggist.

The old fiddlers' convention which was held on Monday night in the old court house and participated in by many of the county's best fiddlers, proved a big success. There were twelve violinists who played their own selections, also two mandolin contestants, several guitars and one banjoist. The prize for the best fiddler was a tie between A. R. Klutz and A. S. Hudson.

Mrs. Jabez Galloway died at the home of her son-in-law, Rev. J. K. Cort, Santee, Ga., Thursday, the funeral being held there Friday and her remains were brought here Saturday for interment, which took place at noon, Rev. Byron Clark officiating. Mrs. Galloway was a native of Canada and lived a son, Mr. Galloway living in Toronto, Canada, a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Cort, and a husband, Rev. Cort and Mr. Galloway accompanied the remains here.

Tigers and Rhinoceros in Nebaska.

Could the traveler in Nebraska restore the landscape of late Tertiary time, he would find himself surrounded by scenes greatly different from those of the present.

The swampy lowlands were covered with vegetation similar to that now growing in moist climates farther south. Camels and llamas were abundant, and during the Pliocene epoch great ground sloths and glyptodonts, whose relatives now live in South America inhabited western Nebraska. Mastodons with tusks on both upper and lower jaw, much like those of the Miocene epoch, still persisted. Short legged rhinoceros remained abundant, and there was a great variety of wolf-like carnivora. Saber-toothed tiger, and true cats, some of them considerably larger than the modern tigers, were also abundant. Three toed horses were still numerous, but the modern genus Equus was not among them. One of the most curious animals of the time in Kansas and Nebraska was a gopher-like rodent that had two large horns in its nose. It enormous claws indicated good burrowing powers and its horns also may have been used in digging. (Ovaries and Gnathopoda, Bulletin 612 U. S. Geological Survey.

Rev W. H. Hopkins, of Atlanta, Ga., superintendent of the Congregational churches of the south, visited Salisbury recently and had a conference with Rev W. B. Dutera. His visit was for the purpose of urging immediate steps toward securing a site for the erection of a church here and assurance was given that the mission board would give substantial aid in the work.
