FAITH.

April 10.—Venus understands that Mrs. Dr. A. B. Goodman of Lenoir, N. C., has gone to a hospital in Charlotte to be treated by a specialist. Her many friends in and around Faith wish for her a speedy recovery.

Six infants were baptised at the Reformed church by Rev. Walker last Friday night, three were grandchildren of J. A. Peeler, two were grandchildren of L. M. Peeler and one grandchild of Alex. Jackson.

Venus took dinner Easter Sunday, for the first time, with Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Holshouser and Adam Lyerly and his loving bride, Ila. They are good cooks and we got a fine dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ray and sister, Thelma, formerly of Granite Quarry but now of High Point, are in Granite Quarry visiting friends.

Mrs. Rose Wiley, of Rockwell, spent Sunday with her parents at Granite Quarry.

Willie Klutz, son of Mrs. D. M. Klutz, spent Easter with home folks at Granite Quarry. He left Monday for his school work at Lenoir College, Hickory.

Mrs. Carl Walter, little son and daughter, of Mt. Airy, were visiting relatives at Granite Quarry during Easter.

Young lady at Mr. and Mrs. John Hodge's Easter Sunday night at Granite Quarry.

Young lady at Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lyerly Easter Sunday night at Granite Quarry.

Venus took dinner for the first time with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bame Easter Monday and got a fine dinner. In one more week eighty little chicks will come out of his incubator in their cellar. Dr. John H. Peeler of Faith met his brother, Rev. J. A. Peeler in Salisbury with his automobile. He comes down to attend the sale at the home of his father Alfred Peeler who died a few weeks ago.

Dr. J. H. and Rev. J. A. Peeler are brothers of Mrs. Bame; they came in and took dinner Easter Monday with their sister.

Mr. P. A. Peeler died here Sunday night. He was one of the leading merchants of our town and one of our best citizens. Kidney trouble was the cause of his death.

Mike D. Gant, son of Frank Gant, is here cutting granite at Granite Quarry at the big Pink quarry. He is from Winston-Salem.

On the train from Rockwell to Granite Quarry we met John McCall, wife and little daughter, Minto, on their way to Salisbury. They had been visiting.

On the train we met Thomas Peeler, of near Crescent, on his way to school at Roanoke College, Carl Lyerly going to Hickory, B. F. Wagoner, who spent Easter at Rockwell, going home to Spencer.

Harry Wyatt is boring a deep well at Rockwell this week.

Dr. H. H. Newman and wife, of Salisbury were at Faith in their automobile. They had with them E. G. Neiss Warner, of Pittsburg, Pa., who came to look at our fine granite on the granite belt that he had heard so much about. He says that Pittsburg is the workshop of the world and that the people are the most patriotic in the world.

Mrs. T. L. Bame of Barber, N. C., who has been spending two weeks here with her parents and people, left today for her home.

Young paving block maker at Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Williams' Easter Sunday, April 8th.

J. L. Shuping, superintendent of the county work home, is in Faith today.

April 14.—W. T. Howell passed through Faith today with a milch cow that had twin calves by her side that he sold to Walter Page at Richfield.

M. A. Holdshouser passed through Faith today from the express office, where he got his fine Gernsey bull calf that he bought from a New Jersey cattle raiser. It is of the finest stock to be had.

We saw T. J. Brown, the baker, filling his bake oven the other day. He is one of the best bakers in this part of the country and there are lots of people in Faith eating his bread every day.

A. M. Frick on the U. S. S. Florida, sent Venus a bunch of fine post cards for his post card collection.

J. T. Wyatt got an order today for a large millstone to go to Alabama.

At W. M. Urbansky's, the pawn broker in Salisbury, we saw some old-time things just like we have. He has a coin of 1723 and a five-cent postage stamp paper money, a five dollar Confederate bill made in Lexington, N. C., and a Harper's Ferry musket dated 1838. Who can beat that? He also has a lot of cap and ball pistols, old timers.

Venus took dinner at the home of William Foil recently and a history of the family that will be interesting reading in seventy-five years from now.

W. S. Earnhardt, who is remodeling J. T. Wyatt's big storehouse has his son, John Rinehardt's oldest boy and John Shoe helping him. They commenced Thursday, April 12th, and will finish next week. A fine spring is in three steps of the building and is the best kind of water. Some think it is mineral water. If so it will be a fortune for J. T.

One of the largest crowds of people ever assembled here attended the funeral services of P. A. Peeler Tuesday. The Reformed church was crowded and a large crowd outside. Faith has lost one of its very best citizens, and one of its leading merchants.

Venus will buy all the old Dutch books he can get, and all the old-time things of every description. If any one has any old-time bibles with names of people, their birth and death, and will give them to us we will make interesting reading for their descendants.

Venus wants to will his collection to some saving girl, who will take good care of them and keep them together. Where can we find one.

John M. Wyatt is going to sell his handsome house and lot for three thousand dollars, or less near the Leland Granite Co.'s cutting shed south of Salisbury.

Venus expects to go to Badin before long and take his kodak and see what is going on down there.
