

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH! IT'S MERCURY AND SALIVATES

Straighten Up! Don't Lose a Day's Work! Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels With "Dodson's Liver Tone."

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. Take a dose of the vile, dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.
Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.
Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—Adv.

Fads And Fancies Of Fashion

Unusual and Pretty Afternoon Frock.

The last word in afternoon frocks makes it plain that drapery is a thing to be much desired when it is artfully managed. Straight lines if you want them, but skirts may be draped to break length of line and to widen the figure at the hips or anywhere between them and the knees. The draped skirt is emphatically becoming to the slender figure, and some stout women maintain that widened lines in the skirt make the waist look slender.
Purple taffeta is the medium employed for the fetching afternoon gown shown in the accompanying picture. It has an underbodice, sleeves and collar of georgette crepe, matching the silk in color and employs silk tassels as a finish on the collar. These last might be of beads. The skirt is laid in a panel at the back and front by deep side plaits and the interval between the panels is plaited to the hips. Here a short length of silk is folded and draped as pictured.

The silk bodice is made in the "slip-over" fashion and joined to the skirt with a piping of silk. The waistline is a little higher in the back than in the front and this improves the lines of the figure for either slender or heavy figures. The bodice is decorated with very narrow folds of silk, set on in triangles at the back and front, and the collar merits special attention because it is new and popular and harmonizes so well with the shape and decoration of the bodice. The crepe is cut in long triangular pieces at the back and front and finished at the edges with a narrow hem. A pendant tassel is set on with a crochet button to each point.
The plain sleeves are set into deep, turn-back cuffs of silk, and the bodice has a shallow "V" opening at the front of the neck. This model, pretty and unusual as it is, is simple in design and easy to execute. The master hand in designing is required to achieve such fine results of such easy methods.

Neckwear That Fashion Approves.

There are so many pretty and clever neck fixings, that fashion approves, for putting the finishing touch to all sorts of dresses and coats. The choice lies all the way between the most inconspicuous of ties, to collars and capes that are an important part of the make-up of waists and coats. One wonders sometimes whether the dress is made for the collar or the collar for the dress.
One of the most popular developments of present styles appear in double collars and double capes. Occasionally both upper and under collar are of the same material, but oftener one is of a sheer goods over a collar of heavier fabric, both cut in the same shape. The addition of a thin white collar is relied upon by designers to assure the becomingness of many a dress and is essential to the complete expression of their ideas. But the manufacture of collars and other neckwear has become an important business in itself, and dress designers often make their models with reference to the prevalent styles in neckwear. A variety of collars may embellish one gown and add new interest to it all the time.

A very pretty and very simple organdie collar is shown in the picture, with plain ruffles used for its decoration. It is cut with narrow fronts, opening in a "V" and cape widened at the back. A frill is used for finishing it. Collars of this kind, made at home, are beautifully finished with narrow tatted edging made in light blue or pink. Fine crochet edgings are used in the same way, but in spite of the vogue for color, the all white collar knows no equal in favor.
In ties, narrow velvet ribbon, with ends finished with little bead balls, or small tassels of silk or beads, or both, are as effective in looks and ends as any other neck finish. Just at the moment jabots hold first place in the attention of shoppers and they are the most dainty and becoming of all the varied neckwear on display.

PAIN? NOT A BIT!
LIFT YOUR CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF
No humbug! Apply few drops then just lift them away with fingers.

This new drug is an ether compound discovered by a Cincinnati chemist. It is called freezone, and can now be obtained in tiny bottles as here shown at very little cost from any drug store. Just ask for freezone. Apply a drop or two directly upon a tender corn or callus and instantly the soreness disappears. Shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it off, root and all, with the fingers.
Not a twinge of pain, soreness or irritation; not even the slightest smarting, either when applying freezone or afterwards.
This drug doesn't eat up the corn or callus, but shrivels them so they loosen and come right out. It is no humbug! It works like a charm. For a few cents you can get rid of every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of your feet. It never disappoints and never burns, bites or inflames. If your druggist hasn't any freezone yet, tell him to get a little bottle for you from his wholesale house.—adv.

Getting Old Too Fast?

Late in life the body shows signs of wear and often the kidneys weaken first. The back is lame, bent and achy, and the kidney action distressing. This makes people feel older than they are. Don't wait for dropsy, gravel, hardening of the arteries or Bright's disease. Use a mild kidney stimulant. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands of elderly folks recommend them.

THOUGHT IT "REGULAR TALK" WAS DETERMINED TO ENLIST

Little Kindergarten Attendant is Very Much Surprised When Told That She Can Speak English.

Proof positive that each one of us is for himself the center of the universe, that what "our folks" do is the proper thing, and all else mere eccentricity, is seldom lacking, but it comes out most engagingly in childhood.

"She can speak French most beautifully!" concluded Elsie's big sister, Sare, after having described at length to the family at the supper table the charms and accomplishments of a new friend, a girl who had lived several years abroad and had come recently to Sara's school.

"I know a girl," put in Elsie at this point, with an air of importance, "and she used to live in England. She's in my kindergarten, and she can speak English, I guess."

"Well what of that?" demanded Sara. "Son can you speak English."
"No, I can't; I don't know how! Why, of course I can't speak English," Elsie appealed from the laughing faces now toward her, "can I, mother?"

"Certainly you can speak English, child; it's what we all speak; we're speaking it now."

"What? Is it English we're talking right this minute? Is it truly, mother?"
"Of course, my dear. What language did you suppose it was that we 'talk'?"

"Why, mother, I didn't suppose it was English, or any other language. I thought it was just regular talk, of course."

Relieved Her Feelings.
One warm summer afternoon little Helen was on the porch with her mother. She became quite restless; up and down and around she would walk and finally, with a big sigh, she seated herself in her little rocking chair and said: "Oh, darn the goodness gracious."
Her mother said: "Why, Helen, what made you say that?"
"Oh, I just had to say or do something."

APPLICANT, WHEN FOUND TOO OLD FOR REGULAR SERVICE IN NAVY, DECLARES HE WILL GO AS A PEARL DIVER.

Many humorous incidents have marked the rush for recruits which have been made at the army, navy and marine corps enlisting stations during the last few days, says the Indianapolis News. One day at the navy station in the federal building a big, rawboned fellow applied for enlistment as an apprentice seaman.

On examination, the officers at the station found that he was just a little over age for this class of service. He then offered to "ship" as a cook. He was asked whether he had any recommendations for that sort of work.

"I haven't got any recommendations," he said. "But if you order some ham and eggs I will show you what I can do along that line."

That didn't seem to satisfy the officers and the man appeared to be up against it.
"Well, I won't ship as a fireman," he said, "that sort of work is too tough for me. If you won't have me as a cook I guess I will have to enlist as pearl diver."

Eminently Qualified.
A tiny boy wearing smoked spectacles sat on the curb and watched other boys playing ball in the street. He made an excitable audience, jumping up, moving his arms and calling out as if he really had something to do with the game. And sometimes—just sometimes—a boy would think to wave back. He was rather a pathetic little chap, but he didn't know it, for when a man paused to ask him if he was having a good time he piped out with happy importance:
"Yes, sir; I'm the umpire."
"That's a fine position. How did they come to give it to you?"
"Because I can't see straight."
The man said it was a most excellent reason, but he doubtless knew that the boys had a finer one.—Washington Star.
