BIG RALLY AND FAREWELL TO SOLDIERS.

Everybody in the County Invited, Big Parade, Good Speeches and Two Bands of Music.

Salisbury is to have a big patriotic rally and farewell for the soldiers who will soon leave for a training camp to prepare to save the country during the war with Germany. The patriotic citizens have arranged for a big parade, plenty of music some excellent and timely addresses, a barbecue, religious service and the presentation of a testament and useful articles to each member of the Salisbury company. This is a work in which every one can and should take part.

The exercises will begin with a parade consisting of the military, two bands all the men of Rowan who have registered are requested to join, the fire department, city officials, and ladies of the Red Cross work room. At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias Monday night they decided to attend in a body and the committee invites all civil fraternal and patriotic bodies to take part in the parade.

The route of the parade begins at the court house thence up Main to Bank, counter march to Innes, thence down West Innes to Jackson thence up South Jackson to the tabernacle where the exercises of the day will take place. And music will be furnished by the bands. Gov W T Bickett, Senator L. S. Overman and others will make talks and Mrs Lyman Cotton will present each soldier with a work bag containing a testament and other articles useful in camp life. After the exercises the members of the local company will be given a barbecue and the day will close with a religious service at the first Presbyterian church, beginning at 8 o'clock, for which a suitable program has been arranged.

The committee of arrangements appointed by Mayor Woodson, consists of A H Snider chairman, W B Stappham, A W Tucker, J D Carroll, J F Miller, W M Ruth Messdames M C Owen J D Norwood E C Gregory and Lyman Cotton.

Come and help give the soldiers a hearty farewell and let them know that they have the good wishes and earnest cooperation of all our people it will be a quite comfort to them in monotonous camp life to follow.

Are you one of Them?

There are a great many people who would be very much benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets for a weak disordered stomach. Are you one of them? Mrs M R Searl, Baldwinville, N Y, relates her experience in the use of these tablets: I had a bad spell with my stomach about six months ago, and was troubled for two or three weeks with gas and severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Our druggist advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. I took a bottle home and the first dose relieved me wonderfully, and I kept on taking them until I was cured. These tablets do not relieve pain but after the pain has been relieved may prevent its recurrence.

A Good Riddance.

President Wilson did the right thing in getting rid of both Gen. Goethals and Chairman Denman whose bickerings about the management of the shipbuilding programme had become a public nuisance. Evidently both were to blame in some measure for the quarrel and the delay in the most important work, and it was apparent as the President decided, that the trouble could not be eliminated so long as either of them remained on the job.

Gen Goethals has bulked large in the public eye as the builder of the Panama Canal. He may not deserve all the credit that is given him for that job, but some men who make a success in one instance fail in another. Soon after Gen. Goethals' appointment as manager of the shipbuilding programme he was winned and dined by members of the steel corporation, and this was followed by his announcement that no wooden ships would be built, but all would be constructed of steel. Then followed the disclosure by Chairman Denman that Goethals had agreed to pay a price for steel nearly double that paid by the navy. This revelation caused a good many people to question Goethals' capacity as a business man and his disregard of the proprieties was evident. Then, too, he appeared to think he should have a free hand and go ahead without consulting the shipping board. Chairman Denman naturally resented this and it was impossible for the work to go on with both men on the job.

Women Give Out.

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Salisbury woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, be glad to heed this Salisbury woman's experience.

Mrs M A Winecoff, 331 E Kerr St, says: "My back ached so much I could hardly drag myself around and mornings I could hardly get out of bed. My kidneys were in bad shape. My nerves were all unstrung and I suffered from headaches and often felt as though I would lose my reason. I tried many medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co. and took them. They relieved me from the first and I continued taking them until my back didn't ache and my kidneys were in bad shape. My nerves were all unstrung and I suffered from headaches and often felt as though I would lose my reason. I tried many medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs Winecoff had. Foster-Milburn Co Mfrs., Buffalo, N Y.

Weather Forecast for August, 1917.

From 3 to 9, fair, clear, rain southwest, pending dry east.

From 9 to 17 fair with slight changeable and mild threatnings, rain northwest. Still dry some east.

From 17 to 25, warm thunder rains with slight storms along.

From 25 to September 1st., rains slight storms, but heavy storms northwest. Some cool and hot.

August shows some wet from 17th to September 1st., and hot all along by scales of moon changes. As you note I give boundaries to expect rains in the above sections. August shows some dry.

Crops may suffer for 15 or 20 days, for rain, young corn especially. Rain is not shown to me until after the 17th, when freshets are expected.

RUM, ROMANISM AND REBELLION

Cardinal Opposes Prohibition, Confers With Hoover, Pleads the Support of Romanists

The Menace.

The Washington D C Times, for Tuesday, June 26th, contained an article three columns wide and 19 inches long, set in large type; extremely large in fact, in which Cardinal Gibbons is quoted as follows:

I do not believe in national prohibition of light wines and beer, and am of the opinion that such a law could not be enforced.

I am opposed, the Cardinal, continued, to any state wide or nation-wide prohibition measure. A law of this kind interferes with the personal liberty and rights of the people and creates hypocrisy on the part of the public.

If the people of any particular country district find conditions such that to have local option would mean the betterment of the community, then they should close the saloons in that district. But when it comes to having prohibition in large cities it is a bad thing. Prohibition in any of the large cities is practically impossible for enforcement however far-reaching the attempts are to carry out the law, notwithstanding reports that the law has been carried out successfully in certain locations.

The uninitiated might believe that this big three column display of the cardinal's mouthings is a feat of journalism due to the editor's fits brought on by brooding over the "miseries of a dry nation as a result of war legislation; but, this same article treated in the same way, appeared in the Washington Post and it also appeared in the Evening Sun of Baltimore and it is hardly likely that these three editors suffered convulsions such as to result in exactly the same kind of publicity being given this matter.

The article referred to bears all the earmarks of either an advertisement or an article given special prominence through fear of a loss of patronage. The object of the editor in printing this statement, however, is of secondary moment. The one vital fact is that Cardinal Gibbons is a friend to rum.

We have often heard the expression "Rome, rum and ruin." We have Rome and rum in the article referred to and if the cardinal and the liquor interests are allowed to run the country and divert the nation's food supply into liquor channels when three fourths of the world is at war and crying for food, we may have and opportunity to deserve ruin.

The cardinal, it would seem is determined to impress upon the public and the government his ability to handle the Catholic church throughout the country and to line them up for wholesale patriotism on the one hand while pledging them as the opponents to legislation which many staunch patriots believe is necessary to the welfare of the country; namely, legislation that will prevent food stuff being consumed in the manufacture of liquors.

We find in these same articles this further remark as to the cardinal:

The cardinal has just concluded a long conference with Herbert C Hoover on the food situation and had promised the government's food administrator his hearty co-operation personally and through the Catholic churches of the country.

THE BILL IN CONFERENCE.

Principal Differences About the Food Measure May Pass this Week.

The food control bill was sent to conference of the House Wednesday with blanket amendments. The conferees held their meeting yesterday but it probably will be at least a week before it is ready.

Blocked in sending the measure to conference Tuesday by the effort of Republican Leader Mann for a separate vote on the amendment creating a congressional war expenditures committee, the Democrats brought in a special rule to force action. Thirty-one Republicans joined in supporting a motion shutting off debate and Mr Mann's opposition collapsed.

The principal conference doubtless will center around the Senate amendments for the war expenditures congressional committee, for a food control board of three members, for a $2 minimum price for wheat and to permit continuance of the use of foodstuffs in the manufacture of light wines and beer.

In view of President Wilson's announced opposition to the war expenditures committee, which he maintains would embarrass him in the conduct of the war, administration leaders are certain that they can eliminate it. The proposal to have three food commissioners instead of one probably will lead to a very stubborn fight, since the President's desire that it be stricken out to give Herbert Hoover a free hand has many opponents in both houses.

Indications are that the Senate prohibition provisions may be greatly strengthened. At least five of seven Senate conferees are said to favor personally a bone-dry country and Chairman Lever has promised the prohibition representatives that he will endeavor to retain the bone dry plan for which the House voted.

Whether the $2-a-bushel minimum price for wheat will remain in the bill is entirely problematical. The House conferees will make a hard fight against it.

Causes of Dependency.

Dependency is often caused by indigestion and constipation and quickly disappears when Chamberlain's Tablets are taken. These Tablets strengthen the digestion and move the bowels.

From the above, when taken in connection with that sweeping pledge made by Rome's priests, etc., of the loyalty of the Roman Catholic church in the present crisis it seems apparent that Rome's agents in this country want the government to understand that Roman Catholics are so many puppets, ready and willing and eager to jump in any direction their overlords desire. More over to emphasize the fact each question must carry its individual pledge of loyalty. On the other hand they have been trying to convince the public ever since The Menace began its campaign against the aggressions of the Roman Catholic hierarchy and its minions, that no Catholic owes obedience to the pope or any of his representatives except in spiritual matters.

If nothing more The Menace and its millions of friends are indebted to the cardinal and his associates for having so eloquently stamped the lie on their assertions that the laity owes them no obedience in matters temporal and for having come out in the open and admitted that on them or through them, or in them is found the key to the actions of Catholicism in America.

Distressing Accident in Albemarle Monday.

Stanley Enterprise.

Blanton the 10-year old son of Elijah Cooper, of Port-er, was killed, Mr Cooper himself, painfully injured, and Grady Cooper, an older son, badly bruised, as the result of a run-away accident on Main street, here on Monday.

Various reports have been given of the runaway but the essential facts seem to be as follows:

Mr Cooper and the two boys were in a buggy and driving down the street from Morrow Bros. & Heath Company's store toward Southern depot, when one of the holding-back straps to the harness came loose. The horse, somewhat frightened by this was entirely unnerfed when the auto truck of Raymond Shankle, grocer, was backed toward the center of the street. The horse then began to run at headlong pace down the street, turning in toward the depot. The buggy wheels struck the station with tremendous impact, throwing Mr Cooper and the boys violently against the station.

The bruised and bleeding trio were quickly picked up and carried to Hall's Pharmacy, where Doctors Hall and Anderson looked after their wounds as best they could.
