

CHRISTIANA.

Everything seems to be working nicely here and we have a very prosperous Sunday school. Harvest is over, oats is good, the wheat a half crop and cotton looks promising.

The people are practicing economy in various ways and I think, if the coca cola dopes were entirely cut out and candy much reduced it would be better for our country and a strong saving in the line of sugar.

Rev R L Brown and wife have returned from visits to their children and grandchildren at Faith, Salisbury and China Grove, and they claim to have received much of the very best and kindest treatment all round; and they sure feel good on their return home. Unkindness from children to their old parents must be a very sad thing.

Glory to Durham!

The Durham alderman should go up head. They have been levying a tax for a sinking fund to retire bond issues and have kept the money sacred for that purpose, it seems. "There is today in the sinking fund for the retirement of various bond issues," says a Durham news story, "over $151,000 more than will be needed to retire all of the non-serial bonds sold by the city. Durham has a sinking fund of about half a million dollars, and a net bonded debt of about $600,000."

Durham, therefore, has accumulated nearly enough money to pay off its bonded indebtedness. It is doubtful if another town or county in the State has done so well. Bond issues are freely voted and if provision is made for a sinking fund to pay off the bonds, it is very often the case that either the tax is not levied or if levied is used for some other purpose. The bonds fall due and other bonds are issued to take their place, while the taxpayers go on bearing the interest burden—exactly like the individual who renews the note every time it falls due and never makes any effort to accumulate something to pay it off.

No bonds should be voted unless the act providing for their issue contains a provision for a sinking fund to retire them. The levying of the tax for the sinking fund should not be made mandatory but it should be made a crime to use it for any other purpose than to pay off the bond issue for which it is levied. —Statesville Landmark.

Circus Train Wrecked and Burned and More Than 60 Perish.

As the result of the wreck of a circus train six miles west of Gary, Ind., early Saturday morning, at least 62 persons were killed and it is believed the death list may go to 80, as the wreck caught fire and was burned and the exact number of dead has not been determined. The injured are listed to 179.

A train carrying the Wallace-Hagenbeck circus, composed of four sleepers, five stock cars, 15 flat cars and a caboose, pulled part way into a switch and stalled there on account of a hot-box. The flagman went back on the main track and set fuses as a warning of danger, it is said. The circus train was in this position when a troop train of empty cars struck the circus train in the rear, plowed into the sleepers, reducing them to a pile of tangled steel and timber. Fire broke out in the circus train almost immediately, and when rescuers reached the scene the entire wreckage was in flames.
