

Public or Party Service?

New York World.
Most of the comments of Republican members of Congress on the President's message are pitifully flippant or partisan. Unless by some process this attitude can be changed to a semblance at least of sanity and responsibility, the prospect of wise legislation must be regarded as poor indeed.

Common remarks by gentlemen charged with the solution of momentous problems are that "the President has stolen our thunder" and "the president has passed the buck." Whether the Republican response to the message is angry, bigoted or merely foolish, it is pitched in this key and by that fact reveals first of all a spirit of obstruction.

Hardly a question raised by the President has any relation to party. The restoration of the country to a peace basis calls as imperatively for unity and patriotism as did our declaration of war, and unless men of all parties approach the subject unselfishly, with no rivalry, except for the common good, there can be no doubt that we have some trying experience ahead of us.

The so-called difficulties of reconstruction will all become negligible if there is a purpose to meet them fairly and squarely on national rather than party grounds. In some respects condition are exceptionally favorable to economic and social adjustments which before the war seemed to be impossible of execution. The President has not stolen any body's thunder, has not put anybody in a hole and has not passed the buck. He has summoned Congress to the highest public service, and the people await its performance.

Suggestion for a Camping Trip.

Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home. As a rule it cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while aboard on the cars or steam ships and at such time and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you.

Negro Students Hear Fine Address by Dr. Abernathy.

Friday evening was the second night of the commencement exercises at Livingstone college it being the anniversary of the Young Men's Christian association.

The remarks by Senior Student Geo. H Scott, of Petersburg, Va, were of the kind to build up the association. The program showed that he had rendered splendid service to the church through the Y M C A of Livingstone college.

Two student features of the program worthy of note were the solos rendered by Seniors W W Turner of Greensboro and George A Taylor of Florida.

The gem of the evening was the annual address by Dr J E Abernathy pastor of the First Methodist church south, of Salisbury. He took a rose and proved that God is love or consuming fire. In discussing personal liberty he used the rules of English grammar and arithmetic to show that liberties can be enjoyed only through obedience to established rules, referring to obedience to the Christian Faith.
