MANUFACTURERS MOVING VERY CAUTIOUSLY.

WHAT TOM SCOTT DID IN EUROPE.

DECISION IN THE TAINTER CASE.

THREATENED DISTRESS OF THE LABORING CLASSES.

New York, Oct. 29.—Noon.—Proceedings have been commenced in bankruptcy against Dodge & Co., prominent in last summer's lumber combination, which placed $6,000,000 paper on market.

Carlton, the missing Secretary of the Union Trust Company, has been indicted for forgery.

The piano, billiard and cigar manufacturers and other producers of luxuries, are conducting business with great caution. The large factories are being run on half time and with half the usual force, while the smaller establishments have, in the main, closed altogether.

This course was made necessary by the financial disturbances. It throws out of work a large number of men and women. Arrangements are expected to be made whereby most of the factories will be able to keep their hands at work, part of the time, at least, thus preventing a great deal of suffering.

John T. Irving, who admitted in San Francisco that he was criminally concerned in the murder of Benjamin Nathan, in this city, two years ago, is to be tried for burglary.

Thomas Scott, who has returned from Europe, confirms the report of his having effected a loan of $10,000,000 for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He likewise effected arrangements so that the work will not be suspended on the Texas & Pacific Railroad, although he was unable to close, successfully, negotiations for the sale of the bonds.

New York, October 29.—Night.—Judge Benedict decides in the Tainter case as follows: The evidence by the defense that Tainter acted by the advice of the president and directors of the bank is inadmissible. Tainter is the defaulting cashier of the Atlantic Bank.

The question of a new Missionary Bishop has been referred to the House of Bishops, to report at the next meeting.

A letter from Coloco says that before winter sets in, thousands of persons will be driven to the verge of starvation.

Governor Dix offers $3,000 reward for the conviction of the murderers of Charles G. Kelsey.

Immediately on the receipt of the communication by M. de Vasil he issued an order placing the General on the retired list.

PROVIDENCE, October 29.—Night.—The committee of Providence Banks in their general examination of affairs in business houses, examined the accounts of A. & W. Sprague, showing their assets to be, at a very low estimate, over $14,000,000, their liabilities being only $7,200,000. The firm meeting all demands as usual.

SATURDAY, Oct. 29.—Night.—A special to the Morning News, from Baltimore, says that the situation cannot be reported more favorable. All the cases heretofore reported dangerous, will prove fatal. Five new cases were reported to-day. Ex-Senator Breton, a very prominent citizen, died to-day of the fever. If the death rate increases there will be some difficulty in buying the dead.

ATLANTA, Oct. 29.—Night.—The Maroons of this city have sent $400 to Memphis and Shreveport. A bale of cotton, which sold for $500 for the Memphis sufferers, has been redonated and shipped to Baltimore, where it will again be sold for the same object.

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 29.—Night.—There was only one death in the past forty-eight hours, which was an old case. No new cases have been reported to-day. There was ice and frost here this morning.

A special to the Raleigh News, dated at Hillsboro, on the 29th, says: The suit of the State vs. Hon. W. W. Holden, was dismissed, on motion of defendant's counsel, on the plea that the offense alleged came within the provisions of the amnesty act of 1872.

Mr. Turner protested against the decision of the Judge, but his decree was irrevocable and thus the matter rested.

The Raleigh News says: Sam Harris, a very worthy negro man, living about four miles from Halifax, crossed the Roanoke river early Monday morning, going over into Northampton county to hunt turkeys, and in ascending a steep bank near the river, used his gun as a walking stick. The gun being below and behind the unfortunate man, from some cause, fired off, the entire load entering his body, killing him instantly.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: We understand that Messrs. Frappes, Jones & Co., of this city, are about to open one of the finest breweries ever opened in the country, at Durham, Orange county. The stone of this quarry took the first premium at the late State Fair. Look out for "brown stone front" in Raleigh. We learn that the work of opening this fine quarry has been entrusted to Mr. Patrick McGowan, of this city.

The world is beginning to find out, but very slowly, that our State is very rich in minerals. An intelligent writer in the Lincoln Progress says: Our newspapers so frequently contain articles of some new mineral discovery. Not only gold but silver, copper, lead, iron ore in the greatest abundance, plumbago, or black lead, and as commonly called corundum, diamonds, barites, or heavy spar, mica, generally known as singulare, manganese, limestone, soapstone, agate, amethyst, marble, &c., have been found. No doubt, future explorations will bring to light other important discoveries.

The Raleigh News says: Lead mines were discovered in Wake county years ago, and only a few weeks since, we published the fact that a Philadelphia firm had commenced mining operations seven miles east of the city, and upon their testimony, gave it as our opinion that they would be worked to an immense profit.

Yesterday we were shown a specimen of lead, taken from a ledge or strata from a hillside on Walnut Creek, three miles west of the city, which is said to be of very superior quality. The supply from this vein in the opinion of our informant, is inexhaustible. We have the specimen on exhibition at our office, open for the inspection of all interested.

Death of a North Carolinian.

The Columbia (Ga.) Sun says: Major Stephen E. Miller died of consumption, at his home in this city, last afternoon, at the age of some sixty-five years. He was a North Carolinian by birth, and was educated for the bar. He was at one time assistant editor of the New Orleans Delta, long since extinct. He was also editor of the Monitor published in Tusculosa, Alabama, and also of the Millidgeville Recorder, and perhaps other papers. Before, during and since the war he has contributed many articles to the press, including a number to this paper. He resided a long period in Twiggs county, in this State, where he was married. His manuscript reminiscences of that county, its distinguished men and the early days of Mason, are interesting. They have never been published. He has published a volume which has a wide circulation; "The Bench and Bar of Georgia," and edited the "Reminiscences of Distinguished men in Alabama." The last was written by Col. Wm. Garrett. He had long been a consistent Methodist, and during his residence in Columbus was connected with St. Paul's Church. His wife is the matron of the Columbus Orphan Asylum.

The money taker being unavoidably absent was temporarily replaced at the exhibition (London) of the bearded man and other natural phenomena by a pretty, bright-eyed girl of sixteen. "How," says the reporter, "the bearded lady is your mother," observed a well, as he paid his money. "No, sir," said the extemporé money taker, "natively, 'she's my father."

STATE NEWS.

The Rutherfordton Record says: More than forty thousand pounds of cotton have already been baled with one screw in this county, all of which, we learn, was raised within a radius of five miles.

The Robesonian says: One day last week a compositor in our office, of three months' experience, set a column of matter in which the proof reader was unable to detect a single typographical error. How in that for?

The Magnolia Monitor says: A very interesting series of religious meetings have been in progress at the Baptist church in Clinton, Sampson county during the past week, and we learn that quite a number have been converted and admitted to membership in the church.

The Rutherfordton Record says: We learn that a row occurred at Barnaville, one day this week, in which several persons were seriously wounded. We understand some of the parties were drunk, and that the fighting was done with firearms. The origin of the trouble we did not learn.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: We are pleased to learn that John Bragg, Esq., one of the most accomplished telegraph operators Raleigh has ever known, and who left a few days ago to take charge of an office in Atlanta, has been recalled and will on the 30th, resume his duties at our Raleigh office.

The Laurinburg Scotchman says: At Asphelp Presbyterian Church on Saturday the 18th inst the church pastor, Rev. A. McQueen, commenced a meeting that proved of unusual interest, and continued for several days, ending with the most satisfactory result; by adding sixty-five souls to the roll of the church.

The Wilton News says: A little negro boy, Sam Parnell, living on the plantation of Mr. M. Parnell, about eight miles from Weldon, was crushed to death in the running gear of a cotton gin on Friday last. It seems he was venturing around the machinery while it was in motion. The boy was only thirteen years old.
