COAGRESS

This body, having adjourned for the holidays, has reassembled and the members dike a giant refreshed with wine" have entered upon the discharge of their public duties with commendable zeal. The currency question and Indian affairs bid fair to occupy a conaiderable portion of their attention. Political manonvering and President making, will, of course, come in for a considerable share. Investigating committees seem to be the order of the day, and we notice that the Ute Indian troubles in Colorado are to be investigated at the instance of General Scales of this State. This is perhaps well enough, but Congress has of fate tears appointed so many investigating committees that we think the people are getting thred of them and are fast coming to the conclusion, that generally "the game is not worth the pow-

WAR CLOUD.

The latest news from Europe, indi cates a very uneatisfactory condition of the relations between Russia, Germany and Austria. The large increase of the Russian army on its western frontier, the strengthening of its fortifications and the general activity in Military circles, has created considerable alarm not only on the continent of Europe, but also in Eng land and in this country. So nicely balanced are the growing powers. that a general Europeau war might be the result of the slightest disturbance of present relations. Such an event is greatly to be deprecated, not only upon human considerations, but upon those of self nterest also. The prosperity of have been declared by the Governor the South is mainly dependent upon her cotton, tobacco and naval stores, for all of which these nations are our best customers.

GEN. GRANT IN FLORIDA.

The reception of Gen. Grant at Florida on the 6th just., appears to have been quite cordial, not to say enthusiastic. He spoke his little speech which some of his audience at least, must have felt contrasted strangely with his sets while President. But the General has seen a great deal of the world since then, and is said to have gone all around it. This may have enlarged his ideas, chastned his ambition and purified his patriotism. All along his Southers tour he has been kindly received, and treated with every mark of civility and respect. The Southern people true to thier chivalous character have tendered him the hospitality ef their towns and cities. No where has he been pelted with rotten eggs port of the South, if indeed, he has any third term aspirations.

century. Natorally enough the additions made from time to time are not n harmony with the original rules or with each other, so that in very many eases intelligent men take contrary views of what, in particular cases, the and harmon zes them. Simplicity and harmony will now be secured whether or not all the changes now contemplated are made. But there is another incongruous growth of the past which needs the same treatment, and which is of vastly more importance than the rules which govern the forms of legislation. From the beginning of the Government, at the creation of each new Department, in every exigency of public affairs which her ansier new offices have been provided for-some needed and some not needed. Frequently those necessary at one time have become unnecessary afterwards. But there is no instance, in the civil service, so far as I know, where a tise

What is wanted is a committee-one as intelligent as that on rules-to inonire into the subject thoroughly, and with learn preport at anything. Speaker Randall understands the need. Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or syrups, make of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dan-gerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. • Use AVER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and acknowledged curative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice.
