'He that by the plow would thrive, Binself must either hold or drive."

An improvement in crates for car rying fruits, eggs, and other perisha-ble articles, has been patented by Mr. George E. Bender, of Everett, Pa. The object of the invention is to provide a crate that is perfectly ventilated, and at the same time is arranged to exelude the cold and protect the contents was intensely grewsome. against injury from the outside.

Thousands of men and women have rained the coating of mucous membrane of the stomach by taking Scidlitz Powders, Soda water, Blue Pills and other injurious and poismons mixtures to settle the stomach which is very imprudent and dangerous. Often when such preparations come in contact with the inflamed membrane of the stomach causes nausea, sourness and flatulency which generally ends in indigestion and dyspepsia. Such remedies do not give tone or strength to the weak and disordered digestive organs, nor quiet or build up the nervous system which is absolutely neces sary.
