

E. J. Fenn

The Wilson Advance.
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY, BY
WOODARD & CONNOR
Wilson, N.C.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.—In Advance:
For one Year, $2.00
5 Months, $1.00

Local Department.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Editor.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

W.M. WOODARD—Paints for sale,
Buckets—Saws—Notice to Farmers and Plasterers,
MANNY, NURNEY & CO.—Dissolution Notice,
W.N. HACKNEY & SON—Notice,
ATKINSON, COOK & CO.—Particular notice,
J.C. HODGES—The stolen notice,
FIRST NATIONAL BANK—Statement.

Local Briefs:

Did you go sleigh-riding?
Onion sets at Peacock & Hargrave's.
A good farm horse for sale; apply to A. W. Rowland.

Mr. F. H. Jarman is happy. He has a new insurance agent at his house.

It is a good season to practice the almost lost art of shutting the door after you.

Another lot of Ladies and children's hand-made shoes at Atkinson, Cobb & Co's.

We regret to know that the Kinston Journal has changed to a "patient outside."

Tuesday night of last week the telegraphs were broken by the intense cold weather.

Buffalo Lithia, Hunyadi Janos, Congress and Apollonaris mineral waters at Rowland's.

Twenty Barrels extra Early Peas just arrived at figures below competition at Rowland's.

Just received a splendid line of Gents' Linen Cloths 10 to 12 and a half cents, Atkinson, Cobb & Co's.

Our young friend E. G. Moore, of Tolson will open a Classical and Mathematical school at Battleboro at an early date.

Mr. M. B. Atkinson has moved to Wilson and will occupy the large and handsome residence built by the late A. B. Palmer on Nash street.

FOR RENT.—The store occupied by L. J. White, next door to Rottnet, Barnes & Co., on moderate terms. Apply to Warren Woodard, Wilson, N. C.

Mrs. M. T. Maye, who has been suffering with a severe cold was confined several days of the past week. We are glad to report that she is able to let out now.

Mr. W. E. Warren has returned to Wilson to live. He will be the book keeper for Atkinson, Cobb & Co. But many friends welcome him back to his old home.

Read the statement of the condition of the First National Bank which appears in this issue. From this statement it will be seen that it is in a healthy condition.

Mr. R. D. Alley left for Kinston this week. They will, in the future, make their home. In their departure Kinston gains and Wilson loses a worthy and respected family.

The new stage being erected on the corner of Hayes and Goldsboro streets by Mr. J. Hines will soon be completed when it will be occupied by Mr. Alex Green a grain and feed store.

We regret to know that Meta, a young child of Mr. T. J. Gardner fell and broke her arm a few days ago. We are glad however to note that she is doing as well as could be expected.

Rawls & Williams have moved their stock of goods in one of M. T. Maye's stores recently occupied by Mr. J. M. McLean. This is a large store and will be more suited to their business.

A negro named Tony Parker, who had inhaled alcoholic refreshments too copiously woke up last Saturday night his clothes and his body being very badly burned. His recovery is thought doubtful.

Mr. Willis Pipkin has opened in the office formerly occupied by Dr. Moore where he will keep constantly on hand a large variety of novels and useful articles which he will sell cheap. Give him a call.

Geo. D. Green & Co. are moving to their new quarters corner of Nash and Tarboro streets where they will keep on hand a large assortment of general merchandise. Their advertisement will appear next week.

Mr. E. O. McGowan, a former resident of this place, has we are glad to state, accepted a position as book keeper for George D. Green & Co., and in consequence has moved with his family to Wilson. We are glad of this addition to our town.

A large supply of Sweet, Salt, Fresh, Maco boy and Rapper, Smalls, just received at Rowland's, at prices below the lowest; also Smoking Chewing Tobacco and Cigars. Largest and best assortment. Trussey ever brought to this market at Rowland's.

Geo. D. Green & Co., have employed a number of efficient clerks to attend to all the wants of a customer. Besides the two efficient members of the firm, Geo. D. Green and Lat. Williams, Howard Burt, Vernon Moss, E. L. Jordan and Charlie Hutchinson are in charge.

A few days ago one of Wilson's most enterprising merchants and a gentleman from the country who had some disagreement concerning a law suit that was pending came near settling their dispute with blows. One link was struck and we are glad to report that all is quiet along the Potowmack at present.

Twelve the night before Christmas, when all through the house, Not a creature was stirring, Not even a mouse.

Except old Tom, who broke in J. T. McCraw's store at 12 o'clock a quantity of fire-crackers.

Mr. H. T. Meadham of Black Creek dropped into see us the other day and, in speaking of the tournament at Black Creek a couple of weeks ago, said that the successful knightes were J. H. Gil and J. W. Gardner who each tied each crowning the queen. These gentlemen were married.

The Wilson Advance.

"LET ALL THE ENDS THOU AIMST AT, BE THY COUNTRY'S, THY GOD'S, AND TRUTH'S."

VOL. 10.

WILSON, N. C., FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1881.

NUMBER 49

Removal.

Since the last issue of the ADVANCE we have moved our office from the corner of Nash and Tarboro streets to the front room over Rowland's Drug Store, where we will be pleased to see our friends.

A Diabolical Act.

Christmas morning, while standing in the door of his "log cabin in the hills," Killis Hines, a negro man living on John A. Lane's farm, about four miles from Wilson, was shot in his breast by a body of negroes, without any cause whatever. His injuries were only slight.

The table was arranged in a beautiful manner and was laden with all things necessary for an elegant supper. Not being a Judge we cannot comment on the dancing, but we can say, however, that enjoyment was unfeigned and that it was a most brilliant high carnival. This Hall which was participated in and enjoyed by a large number of people both old and young.

The tree itself was beautiful and reflected much credit on the ladies who worked so energetically to make everything so brilliant. We believe we mention "honor in whom honor is due," when we make mention of two ladies of the Baptist church to whom the editor and especially indebted for the beautiful tree.

Mrs. H. G. Whitehead and Miss F. Anna Carter, who worked unceasingly for several days towards making the tree the success it was, have just cause for self congratulation.

The presents were numerous and their presentation caused a great deal of merriment. For example a very learned and dignified bachelor member of the Sunday school received a neat and perfectly made doily about five inches in length as his present. Other presents were given in a spirit of fun. One gentleman received a fine broad hand-glass. The other presents were so numerous that it is needless to particularize.

Also on Friday night the Sunday School of the Disciples church gave a Christmas tree at the residence of Mr. R. W. Hines which was quite an enjoyable affair. The tree was beautiful—it could not be otherwise for two of Wilson's most tactful young ladies, Miss Alice Hines and Miss Maude King, arranged it. The presents were of value, every child of the Sunday school receiving a present of worth. The evening was spent pleasantly and profitably, and the tree was a decided success.

On Tuesday night, after much preparation, the Episcopalian Sunday school held their annual Christmas festivity. At 5 o'clock in the evening the whole Sunday school, with many others, assembled in the church preparatory to marching to the hall. The singing was good—the children all singing their sweetest songs.

The procession marched to Mamona Hall where a series of charades enlivened the evening. Every child received a present to gladden their young hearts. We were pleased with the way the present were given. Instead of having the name written on the present and placed on the tree, every present was numbered and the numbers were all written on slips of paper, the children putting their hands in a hat and taking out a number, being entitled to the present which corresponded with their number. By this means the presents get more attention to all the scholars. The evening was spent very pleasantly both by the members of the school and by the visitors present.

Wednesday night the Methodist Sunday School held their annual Christmas festival in Mamona Hall, and, although it had snowed occasionally all day, it was a success in every particular. We do not know that a more pleasant or more successful affair of the kind was ever held in Wilson. This school is large numbering 125 scholars and the attendance Wednesday night at the Hall represented almost the entire school besides a large number of invited guests. The singing was all that could be desired, and many are the praises given to the young ladies and the children who took part in it.

The supper table (the chief object of attraction to ye local) was groaning beneath a load of good things, and we determined to show our skill when supper was announced when, lo, to our disappointment it was reported that our cook was sick, but that only the children could eat at the first table. We suppressed our disappointment and only sighed and wished for the return of the happy days of childhood. The table was beautifully and artistically arranged and was literally full of everything to satisfy the human heart to which we tried to do full justice.

After the large number present had eaten there were three nice, large cakes of which were presented to Mr. Gaines, Pastor of the Methodist Church. One of these cakes was beautiful and its artistic decoration was the subject of much comment. But we must desist. Suffice it to say that all went merry as a marriage bell.

All these Sunday schools are in a prosperous condition and their manner of entertaining the children, each different, was eminently successful. The recesses of the Xmas holidays with these pleasures will be hailed with delight.

Storm Party.

Storm parties are the correct thing. The young people of Wilson are unanimously in favor of them and the old folks, though the older who obtained license are well known in Wilson, all having attended school at the Wilson Collegiate Institute. They are Charles B. Aycock, H. W. Stubbs and Rodolph Dally.

The many friends of these young gentlemen will congratulate them upon the successful completion of their studies and wish them much success in the legal profession.

An Unfinished Report.

The Supreme Court this week granted license to practice law to twenty-six applicants.

One of them—Frank A. Daniels—is a resident of Wilson and has been in attendance upon Dick & Dillard's law school in Greensboro for some time past. Three of the other who obtained license are well known in Wilson, all having attended school at the Wilson Collegiate Institute. They are Charles B. Aycock, H. W. Stubbs and Rodolph Dally.

The many friends of these young gentlemen will congratulate them upon the successful completion of their studies and wish them much success in the legal profession.

New Lawyers.

The Supreme Court this week granted license to practice law to twenty-six applicants.

One of them—Frank A. Daniels—is a resident of Wilson and has been in attendance upon Dick & Dillard's law school in Greensboro for some time past. Three of the other who obtained license are well known in Wilson, all having attended school at the Wilson Collegiate Institute. They are Charles B. Aycock, H. W. Stubbs and Rodolph Dally.

The many friends of these young gentlemen will congratulate them upon the successful completion of their studies and wish them much success in the legal profession.

AN UNFINISHED REPORT.

Having been rumoured that Mr. G. W. Westbrook, our popular nurseryman, was contemplating leaving Wilson and breaking his arm a few days ago. We are glad however to note that she is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Westbrooks' health is good. His wife is well and will sell cheap. Give him a call.

Geo. D. Green & Co. are moving to their new quarters corner of Nash and Tarboro streets where they will keep on hand a large assortment of general merchandise. Their advertisement will appear next week.

Mr. E. O. McGowan, a former resident of this place, has we are glad to state, accepted a position as book keeper for George D. Green & Co., and in consequence has moved with his family to Wilson. We are glad of this addition to our town.

A large supply of Sweet, Salt, Fresh, Maco boy and Rapper, Smalls, just received at Rowland's, at prices below the lowest; also Smoking Chewing Tobacco and Cigars. Largest and best assortment. Trussey ever brought to this market at Rowland's.

Geo. D. Green & Co., have employed a number of efficient clerks to attend to all the wants of a customer. Besides the two efficient members of the firm, Geo. D. Green and Lat. Williams, Howard Burt, Vernon Moss, E. L. Jordan and Charlie Hutchinson are in charge.

A few days ago one of Wilson's most enterprising merchants and a gentleman from the country who had some disagreement concerning a law suit that was pending came near settling their dispute with blows. One link was struck and we are glad to report that all is quiet along the Potowmack at present.

Twelve the night before Christmas, when all through the house, Not a creature was stirring, Not even a mouse.

Except old Tom, who broke in J. T. McCraw's store at 12 o'clock a quantity of fire-crackers.

Mr. H. T. Meadham of Black Creek dropped into see us the other day and, in speaking of the tournament at Black Creek a couple of weeks ago, said that the successful knightes were J. H. Gil and J. W. Gardner who each tied each crowning the queen. These gentlemen were married.

ONION SETS AT PEACOCK & HARGRAVE'S.

THE NEW METHODIST PREACHER.

Rev. J. H. Guinn, who was assigned to Wilson station at the last session of Conference, has occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church both Sundays since the last issue of the ADVANCE and has already made hosts of friends. He is a learned and eloquent preacher and his congregation is much pleased with him, and he is gaining in popularity daily. We predict for him a successful year. The Raleigh Christian Advocate received yesterday says: "In a private note from Rev. J. H. Guinn, pastor of Wilson station, we learn that his people gave him a most cordial greeting. He is among an appreciative people and we predict that pastor and people will be mutually pleased and profited by their association together during the year."

Mr. H. T. Meadham of Black Creek dropped into see us the other day and, in speaking of the tournament at Black Creek a couple of weeks ago, said that the successful knightes were J. H. Gil and J. W. Gardner who each tied each crowning the queen. These gentlemen were married.

ONION SETS AT PEACOCK & HARGRAVE'S.

1880-1881.
An Old and New Year Ball at Mamona Hall last Friday Night.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATIONS.
BY THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Wilson as Commercial Centre.

Notwithstanding the disadvantages under which Wilson has always been compelled to labor, and notwithstanding the discrimination which the railroads have always made against it in freights and rapid progress.

We do not propose to make any statements in regard to "Wilson as a commercial centre" which are unauthenticated by facts, but we feel it is our duty to make some statements in regard to our progressive embryo city which lies in the province of an editor. Wilson has sprung up in a remarkably short time. Twenty five years ago it was not an incorporated town and was known only as a village on the W. & R. R. To-day it has over 20,000 inhabitants and for its size, enterprise, and go-aheadiness is surpassed by no town in the State.

Its merchants are active and control a great portion of the trade of Nash, and a large proportion of the trade of Greene, Pitt, Johnston, Wayne, Edgecombe, Franklin and Wake.

We do not propose to make anything like a history of the trade of Wilson, but we believe it is of interest to our readers to know that Grand Master Jury of the I. O. O. F. etc. etc.

A few days ago Mrs. Barberay Flowers serious illness—Mr. F. M. Aycock hurt—Grand Master Jury of the I. O. O. F. etc. etc.

A few days ago Mrs. Barberay Flowers seriously ill, her dress taken from the stove as she was attending to the preparation of breakfast. She ran out in the yard and threw herself in the snow until Mr. Aycock and other gentlemen extinguished the fire. Mr. Aycock had one of his hands burned in extinguishing the flames and fell from the door and has been confined to his room, from injuries sustained. We are glad to know that neither accident will result seriously.

The show—the beautiful snow—is here. We will be glad when it melts.

Grand Master Jury of the I. O. O. F. is doing good work for that order. I believe he was in Wilson last week.

The delay in the train has caused us some inconvenience. A newly married couple came here a week ago to take the train and had to wait about 8 or 10 hours. But they seemed to enjoy the waiting very much.

We are safe to say that very little cotton is raised in Wilson county finds its outlet outside of the limits of the county.

As a cotton market Wilson has left any town in this section in the past, and deserves a rank among the best cotton markets in the State. Frequently our merchants buy cotton which has been handled from within half a mile of Raleigh, and it is a common occurrence for parties to bring cotton from Franklin county near Louisburg, a long and tedious route to sell it in Wilson because of the known qualities of the Wilson market. Cotton has been active for the past fall and our buyers have offered extraordinary inducements to persons holding cotton. The consequence is that Wilson has handled a large quantity of cotton than any fall heretofore. Mr. W. E. Farmer, our efficient cotton agent, estimates that we have 16,000 bales of cotton this fall, and that Wilson is the largest cotton market in the State.

On Tuesday night, after much preparation, the Episcopalian Sunday school held their annual Christmas festivity. At 5 o'clock in the evening the whole Sunday school, with many others, assembled in the church preparatory to marching to the hall. The singing was good—the children were all that could be desired, and many are the praises given to the young ladies and the children who took part in it.

The procession marched to Mamona Hall where a series of charades enlivened the evening. Every child received a present to gladden their young hearts. We were pleased with the way the present were given. Instead of having the name written on the present and placed on the tree, every present was numbered and the numbers were all written on slips of paper, the children putting their hands in a hat and taking out a number, being entitled to the present which corresponded with their number.

The presents were of value, every child of the Sunday school receiving a present of worth. The evening was spent pleasantly both by the members of the school and by the visitors present.

Taking everything into consideration, the three out of Goldsboro has and its age we think that Wilson can confidently hope to do well.

We learn Dr. T. N. Drake & Bro.