A Woman's Question.

BY ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING. Do you know you have asked for the cost

Ever made by the hand above-A woman's heart and a woman's life, E. And a woman's wonderful love?

Do you know you have asked for the priceless thing As a child might ask for a toy? Demanding what others have died to win,

With the reckless dash of a boy? You have written my lesson of duty out, Man-like, you have questioned me-Now stand at the bar of my woman's soul

Until I shall question thee.

Your socks and your shirts shall be whole; I require your heart to be true as God's

And pure as heaven your soul.

beef: I require a far better thing, A seamstress you're wanting for stockings and shirts-

I look for a man and a king.

A king for a beautiful realm called home And a man that maker, God, Shall look upon as he did the first, And say: "It is very good."

I am fair and young, but the rose will fade Will you love me then, 'mid the falling

As you did 'mid the bloom of May?

Is your heart an ocean, so strong and dec I may laureh my all on its tide? .. A loving woman finds beaven or hell, On the day she is made a bride

I require all things that are grand and true All things that a man should be; If you give this all I would stake my life To be all you demand of me,

You can hire with Hatle to pay; But a woman's heart and a woman's life Are not to be won that way.

PROHIBITION.

What They Say of It.

IN our opinion it can best be served by proper restrictions, well enforced 1st. Increase the present license tax to double, or even more, its present limit. (2.) Let license be issued only at the Way meetings of the board of county commissioners, and require all licenses to be taken out them, and paid for in advance for one year. This will do away with the three months' crossroads grogshops that do so much harm during the cotton season, (3.) Require applicants for license to be permanent citizens in the community where they they must bring good recommendations. (4) Require each applicant to fi'e a justified bond of $1,000 that he will not violate the laws regulating the liquor trafic. For instance, the minor liquor law and the Sunday liquor law. If he parsists in selling liquor to a minor let the parents or guardian of the boy have cause for action against that bond. The Legislature might further enact that he shall not sell liquor to an habitual drunkard, or to a man who neglects his family, and make the bond liable for damages. (5.) Give I quor license for cause. These re strictions, and others we might sug gest, if enforced, would work wholesome results. - Goldsboro Messenger.

THE great question of the hour is not only shall we prohibit, but he we can we prohibit? One great argument rsed by the opponents of prohibition is that you can't frame a law that will prohibit—that can be executed. We submit the following for consideration which with some little changes by ourselves, was suggested in the Wesern Methodist by Hon. J. M. Ciayton. If we are in earnest and mean to dehe thing right, let the law be made clear and rigid:

1. Let the importation, manufacture sale, or other disposal to the public of all alcohol or alcoholic liquors be prohibited by law, except for medicinal, scientific or mechanical purposes only and as herein provided.

2. Where the people of a township. municipality or waid of a city by a majority of the adult residents of the same shall recommend a trustworthy person, of good moral character, to keep on hand for sale alcohol or alcoholic liquors for such purposes as specified above, he shall be appointed agent for such sale by the County Com-

4. Let said agent be required to keep a register open to the inspection of the public, in which shall be recordtained, and for what purpose in th. case of each 'individual the party signing his or her own name or mark.

5. Let said agent be required to present said register to the Commis sioners for examination at each regular meeting, and make oath that said register contains all his sales or other disposal to the public of all alcohol

6. Let said agent be empowered to administer an oath to each and every person so obtaining, which outh shall be printed or written at the top of nors, &s. > WHAT shall we do with the monster evil of the liquor trafic? "Regulate it by a system of license," is the usual reply of our Statesmen. But time and experience have proven the license lan a total failure. The bible plan of lealing with sin is absolute prohibition-To untwist a whirlwind, or regulate a flash of fightning, is as practicable almost as to suppress the crimes of the iquor trafic by a system of legalized icense. There is only one way of lealing with every form of evil, and hat is by the radical mode of extirpation-root it out of the land. This is God's plan. How does the bible treat sin? By a system of legalized license? No. But by positive prohibition .-Thou shalt not kill." That is God's way of suppressing the great crime of murder. Does the liquor business murder men? Yes, more than redhanded war, "Thou shalt not steal." That is the law of God against the sin of thieving. It is totally prohibitory, Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor?" "Thou shall not commit adultery." This is the way the bible deals with crimes. It is positive, to al probibition.

Now, as the liquor trafic produces more horrible crimes, spreads more deadly evils over the land, is the colossal evils of evils, it ought to be suppressed by total legal prohibition. In s mere child's play for the Legislature to pass such laws against the trafic as merely prohibit its sale on Sunday, or to minors. No; what the people demand is entire probablion. Do you suppose that any crime could be suppressed by such laws as our legislators pass against the liquor business? Let us see how it would read : Be if enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, That no per son shall steal, or murder, on Sanday; no person shall steal from a minor, or within two miles of a Methodist camp ground. How perfectly ridicalous the thing appears in this light. Why, if it is wrong to steal at all, it is wrong to steal any where or from any bedy .-And if it is wrong to sell l'quor on Sanday, or to a minor, or within two miles of a church, it is wrong to do it any where or to any body. Let the Legislature pass a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and make provisions for its proper enforcement, then this upas tree of death will be cut up by the roots .- Christian Advocate.

THE BEST REMEDY

Diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In disenses of the pul-AYER'S and reliable remedy is invaluable. AYER's CHERRY PECTORAL IS such a remedy, and no its the confidence of he public. It is a setthe medicinal principles and curative virthes of tire tinest drugs, chemically , united, of he greatest possible ity of results. It strikes at the foundation of all fathermary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of savage or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In Bronchitis, influenza, Ciergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of Aven's CHERRY PRO-Tonah are magical, and multitudes are asnually preserved from serious filness by its timely and falthful use. It sirould be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping - cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful. Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or syrang, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can altered only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective frontibent; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply scated or incurable. • Use AYER'S CHEERY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and a knowledged cutative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proven its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass.
