

THE WILSON ADVANCE

A WEEKLY DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE MATERIAL, EDUCATIONAL, POLITICAL AND AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS OF EASTERN NORTH CAROLINA.

Published Every Friday Morning. Joseph Daniels, Editor and Proprietor. H. J. HARRY, General Agent. Thursday Morning, January 15.

The Cash System.

The first of the New Year, when creditors are expected to settle their unpaid accounts and when debtors are pressing on all sides for their money, and when farmers are making arrangements for supplies for another year, is peculiarly the appropriate time to discuss the advantages which the cash system enjoys over the prevalent "pay you next fall" practice.

No country or people have prospered under the credit system, and many sections and many people have been unable to make progress because this system has stood in the way. The evils of the credit system are patent. In our section—the cotton producing counties—everyone is familiar with the bad effects of this system which has so long hung as a black cloud over our progress and prosperity.

The ADVANCE once knew a poor man, as honest as any man, who to make a crop was compelled to give a mortgage. His crop was a failure. He could not pay the mortgage. The merchant to whom he was indebted could not afford to give him further indulgence, and the mortgage was foreclosed.

The credit system as in vogue in Eastern North Carolina benefits no one. Now and then a merchant gets rich, but in the majority of cases, his losses are nearly as great as his gains.

1st. By having to pay more for his goods than if he paid cash for them.

2nd. By his own extravagance in buying. In nine cases out of ten a man will buy more if he runs an account than if he pays cash for what he buys.

The talk sometimes indulged in that merchants defraud their customers is a gratuitous and unjust insult to our business men. That some men do take advantage of the necessities of their customers cannot be denied; but it is also true that some farmers are dishonest and take advantage of the merchant when occasion offers.

Without rigid economy, a diversification of products, and a determination to be freed from the yoke of debt, there is no hope for our farmers. The advice of the ADVANCE to the farmer, who earnestly desires to free himself from debt is: Raise your home supplies; raise some cotton; and give tobacco a trial.

The ADVANCE has before pointed out the fact that owing to the lax registration laws in North Carolina capitalists have been deterred from investing money in our State or from loaning money on real estate secured by mortgage. The defect in our laws will probably be remedied as Senator Connor has introduced a bill in the Senate requiring the registration of deeds. This is the kind of reform needed and Mr. Connor has made a move in the right direction.

The editor of the Port Tobacco Times called the editor of the Independent "a bound." The Independent editor responded by calling his brother "a drunk." A challenge for a duel followed, but retractions and explanations were made and no duel took place.

A Reduction Of The Tax On Marriage.

The ADVANCE was the first paper in North Carolina to demand the reduction of the tax on the marriage license. Unaided and single-handed for many months, we labored to educate the public mind up to the necessity of removing all barriers against marriages. We now think we see a rift in the cloud and the silver lining is clearly visible.

Section 1st. That there shall be no State or county tax imposed upon marriage license and all laws imposing the same are hereby repealed.

Section 2nd. That the Register of Deeds shall receive seventy-five cents for issuing a marriage license and shall receive no other fee for that service.

Section 3rd. This act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

On the same day in the House Mr. Jas. H. Pou, of Johnston, introduced a similar bill. He introduced it to pay for wedding bliss. Mr. Hill and Mr. Pou should "pool their issues" and not injure the bill by differing on 25 cents.

Mr. Pou writes us, "there seems to be no doubt as to its passage in the House. The Senate is all I fear." Mr. Hill writes: "I find quite a tendency in the Legislature to ridicule the reduction of the cost of the marriage license, though I think when an issue is reached the bill will go through O.K."

John E. Woodard Esq., member of the Finance Committee, to whom the bill has been referred, writes, "I will look after your interests in your special pet of cheap license. I will do what I can to bring about the reduction, so as to enable you to get married within the next three months." Senator Connor writes: "Having in mind that you desire to marry I have not forgotten the marriage license reduction. A bill has been introduced in both the Senate and the House to reduce the cost of marriage license and I assure you I will give the measure my hearty support."

The ADVANCE will keep its readers posted as to the fate of this important measure.

In common with a great many people the ADVANCE would rejoice if the Raleigh newspapers would publish reports of the Legislature which could be understood. In publishing the proceedings of the Senate last Friday the papers stated: "Mr. Means introduced a bill to restore certain persons to citizenship."

A more vague statement could not be written. Is Gov. Holden one of the number of "certain citizens" whom Mr. Means desires to restore to citizenship? Or are they ex-convicts from Cabarrus? Or who are they? The ADVANCE calls upon the Raleigh dailies—usually so accurate—to improve upon their legislative reports.

In the Senate a few days ago Mr. Buxton, of Forsyth, introduced a bill to authorize the Sheriff of Forsyth to collect arrears of taxes. The ADVANCE submits that the Legislature cannot do a more sensible thing than to enact a law that all such local legislation as this proposed by Mr. Buxton be given to the County Commissioners to pass upon.

The collection of taxes in Forsyth affects not one second of residents in that county, and the ADVANCE thinks it a waste of time to require Senators and Representatives to consider such local legislation. And, besides, what does the Senator from Wilson know about the taxes of Forsyth? And what do the people of Wilson care?

Hon. A. K. McClure, editor of that excellent independent daily, the Philadelphia Times, is taking a Southern trip. He was in Raleigh last week and delivered an able address in the Hall of the House of Representatives by special invitation. He is one of the foremost men in the nation, and his paper is surpassed by none. Mr. McClure is the editor, who when a delegation of legislators asked him if he would accept the Senatorship from Pennsylvania, replied that no editor who was worthy of his high calling could accept a place in the Senate. He considered it a greater honor to be a good editor than to have a seat in the Senate.

The ADVANCE takes pleasure in presenting to its readers today the most interesting and important part of Gov. Jarvis' last message. It is an able State paper and ought to be read by every voter. The Governor's suggestions are, in the main, wise and the Legislature will do well to consider them carefully. They are the suggestions of the man who is more familiar with the resources, advantages and needs of the State than any other citizen and ought to have great weight with our law-makers.

The editor of the Port Tobacco Times called the editor of the Independent "a bound." The Independent editor responded by calling his brother "a drunk." A challenge for a duel followed, but retractions and explanations were made and no duel took place.

THE LEGISLATURE.

WHAT OUR LAWMAKERS ARE DOING AND SAYING.

Last week the ADVANCE noted the lecture of E. T. Boykin Esq., as President pro tem of the Senate and Col. Thos. M. Holt as Speaker of the House of Representatives. This work was completed on Thursday, together with the election of the various clerks. On Friday the Legislators settled down to work as the following synopsis of the proceedings taken from both the Raleigh dailies will show:

SENATE.

Friday, Jan. 9th. At 11 o'clock Speaker Boykin fell the gavel and the solemn solons became quiet. Rev. Dr. Atkinson made the opening prayer. The President presented to the Senate a voluminous batch of documents, which he received through the mail, relating to the contested election in the 3rd Senatorial District, which was referred to the committee on propositions and grievances. The Secretary of State was instructed to furnish each Senator with a copy of the Code, on motion of Senator Connor.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS. Then followed the introduction of a number of bills. E. J. Hill Esq., of Duplin, introduced a bill to reduce the tax on marriage. The bill in its entirety will be found in another column. Mr. Troy wanted criminal courts in certain counties; Mr. Guider desired to prevent the importation and sale of pistols and other deadly weapons; Mr. Winston thought it advisable to abolish certain fees of Justices and to extend the payment of them from jury duty to the payment of poll tax; Col. Paul B. Means offered a resolution to prevent confusion and waste near the close of the session. Mr. Troy desired action taken to improve the swamp lands of the State; Mr. Troy also wanted a bill to protect life and property on the rail-roads; Mr. Winston came to the front with a bill to amend and clarify useless resolutions to construct or improve roads; Mr. Connor voted for the immediate repeal of the Internal Revenue; Mr. Rountree from Lenoir and Greene did the same thing in introducing a bill to provide for an increase in the Governor's salary; Mr. Troy came to the front again—making a pretty good record for the first day—by introducing a bill to prohibit the employment of convict labor on public works in this State. Other resolutions and bills looking to private legislation were placed upon the calendar.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE. When received transmitting joint resolutions relating to a revision of the judicial system of the State proposing to amend by increasing the number of Justices to nine so as to have one for each judicial district. After the message had been considered the Senate elected J. M. Brown, Enrolling Clerk, after which it adjourned.

HOUSE.

Friday, Jan. 9th. The prayerless House had hardly been called to order by Speaker Holt before it was evident that the day was intended to have some fun with the bill introduced by Mr. Pou, of Johnston, to reduce the tax on marriage license. So as soon as it was in order, Mr. Glenn, of Rockingham, offered an amendment to the effect that any such amendment to the commonwealth who shall willingly espouse a maiden of more than 45 years be allowed to do so free of charge. Declared out of order. Mr. Worthington, of Martin, offered an amendment that every man who has paid $3 have a rebate of $1. The bill was placed on the calendar, and lost. It was then referred to the committee of finance. Again it was called upon on motion of Mr. Marchison, of Cumberland, and a number of amendments were offered—that it apply only to Johnston county; that it shall not apply to any member of the present Legislature; Mr. Fox explained that the reason why he introduced the bill that marriage should be encouraged, and until he came to Raleigh he had not met a man who was opposed to marriage. Mr. Robinson, of Martin, Col. Stanford, Mr. Marchison, and again the bill was referred to the committee on finance, and the couple in Johnston who are waiting for cheaper bliss are yet waiting. Mr. Marchison, Mr. Glenn, Mr. Worthington and Mr. Green, however, are strongly determined that they shall marry cheap.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS. Mr. Bland thought the clause prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquor in Burgaw (this is the first Anti-Prohibition Legislature) should be amended. Mr. Glenn's bill provided that no cost shall be collected in tobacco counties before April 1st. Mr. Pritchard agreed with Senator Guider that pistols and other deadly weapons ought not to be sold; Mr. King, of Onslow, desired the appointment of a joint committee on fish and fisheries, and he proposed that it be made up of gentlemen who are acquainted with the fish industry.

SENATE.

Saturday, Jan. 10th. The President announced the following standing committees, viz: Salaries and fees—Bason, Sherrill, Graham, Connor, Pool, Rountree and Chadbourne. D. D. and B. Institution—Thompson, Mason, Twitty, Troy, Sherrill, Kennedy, and Chadbourne. Insurance—Winston, Todd, Perry, Scott, Alexander, Horne, and White. Corporations—Cowan, Todd, Troy, Guider, Lewis, Scott, and Swain. Privileges and Elections—Gatling, Todd, Graham, Horne, Parker, Holman, and Taylor. Insane Asylums—King, Thompson, Wiseman, Simmons, Hackett, Everett, and White. Finance—Alexander, Dotson, Leak, Graham, Horne, Rountree, and Chadbourne. Penal Institutions—Means, Sherrill, Simmons, Williams, Parker, Twitty, and Swain.

Propositions and Grievances—Robins, Todd, Parker, Dotson, Leak, Winston, and Thomas. Banks and Currency—Leak, Connor, Dotson, Cooper, Brown, Horne, and Franklin. BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS. Mr. Guider was the first to take the floor. He desired a bill to be passed to make it unlawful for any person to practice medicine in this State without a license; Mr. Connor wanted section 1245 of the Code repealed and the registration of deeds required; Mr. Connor also introduced an act to regulate the sale of property under mortgage and deeds of trust; Mr. Means thought Judges ought to be required to allow juries to take written instructions with them on their retirement; Mr. Gatling, resolution authorizing the President of the Senate to appoint as many members of the Senate as he may deem advisable on the committee on the judiciary—adopted.

HOUSE. Saturday, January 10. Mr. Robinson of Sampson presented a petition asking for the prohibition of the sale of liquor in 3 miles of Cabarrus church, and Mr. Miller of Cabarrus wanted a resolution passed to raise a committee to investigate the need of more room for the Supreme Court. And then the bills poured in. Mr. Venters of Pitt introduced one to provide a more uniform system of taxing logs; Mr. Holmgood desired to require the Superior Court Judges to open court at 11 o'clock on the first day of the session; Mr. Watson, of Hyde, wanted to change the name of Lake Landingham to Watauga; Mr. Westling struck the key note of public opinion by introducing a bill to reduce the costs in legal proceedings; and Mr. Nelson came forward with an act to prohibit killing of live stock in the range when the owner shall be unknown. The propositions to change certain sections of the Code were many. After the introduction of the bills the Speaker announced the following COMMITTEES. Committee on Judiciary—Worthington (chairman), Busbee, Overman, Jones, of Buncombe, Waring, Stanford, Adams, Woodard, Pearsall, Bell, Pearson, Burton, Phillips, Hath, Barringer, Bland, Turner, Watauga, Jones, of Alexander, Felton, Gullay, Womack, Bulla. Committee on Corporations—Busbee, Jones, of Buncombe, Miller, Phillips, Exum, Need, Galloway, Felton, Brown, Keel, Whittington, Holman, Brim, Call, Wall. Joint Committee on Judicial Reform—Womack, (chairman), Busbee, Worthington, Jones, of Buncombe, Woodard, Adams, Overman, Lazar, Sutton. Committee on Finance—Tate, (chairman), Stanford, Cowell, Bennett, Wakefield, Exum, Dunlap, Ardrey, Adams, Long, Marchison, Lovell, Galloway, Dixon, Pearsall, Stanford, Stewart, Bland, Bellamy, Brim, Chappell. Committee on Insane Asylum—Stanford, (chairman), Taylor, Grainger, Aycock, Shepperd, Mr. Neil, McClelland, Caviness, Johnson, Robinson, of Sampson, J. M. Robertson, Williamson, C. Whittington, Grant, P. White, Crawford. Committee on Privileges and Elections—Williams, of Granville, (chairman), Waring, Winbo, Woodard, Cronse, Allen, Clifton, Bulla, Eaton. Committee on Engrossed Bills—Turner, (chairman), Greene, of Durham, Alston, Robinson, of Sampson, Hatch, Whitted. Committee on Enrolled Bills—Leazer, (chairman), Cowell, Winborne, Riggs, Pinnix. Committee on Military Affairs—Jones, of Buncombe, (chairman), Worthington, Glenn, Adams, Marchison, Beaman, Crawford, Hussey.

Propositions and Grievances.

By his own request Mr. Chadbourne was excused from serving on the committee on insane asylum.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

Transmitting resolution to raise a committee of conference to revise the judicial system of the State, asking concurrence of the Senate, which was agreed to; and the President designated as the Senate branch of the committee Messrs. Buxton and Mason.

HOUSE.

Monday, Jan. 12th. The following bills were introduced: By Mr. Alston, to define the duties of overseer of public roads; by Mr. Jones, of Alexander, to fix the standard weight of a bushel of corn, and a bushel of peas; by Mr. McAfee, for the relief of disabled Confederate soldiers; all who have lost an arm or leg to be paid $50 annually; by Mr. Lockley, to prohibit cities, towns and villages, from levying and collecting or attempting to collect poll tax; by Mr. Martin, to amend 2580 of the Code, so that teachers of the first grade shall receive $40, of second grade $30, and of third grade $20; by Mr. Womack, to increase the number of Superior Court Judges and Judicial Districts to 13; by Mr. Womack, to re-enact and amend chapter 98 laws of 79, as amended by act ratified Jan. 16, 83, to compromise, commute, and settle the claims of the State against the relief of certain soldiers of the late war between the States; by Mr. Pou, to amend section 1005 of the Code relating to the carrying of concealed weapons; by Mr. Bland, for the relief of W. W. Shaw; by Mr. Jones, of Buncombe, to provide for the support of the public school for a period of five months per annum.

The chair announced the following committee on judicial reform: King (chairman), Felton, Worthington, Chadwick, Patrick, Riggs, Gale. Mr. Busbee moved that all bills proposing to change the Code be printed.

The chair announced that Mr. Holman had been added to the committee on finance; Mr. Gullay, on enrolled bills; Mr. Cowell, on insane asylums. A message from the Senate announced that that body had refused to concur in House resolution to raise a committee on judicial reform, and requested that a joint committee of conference be appointed. The House concurred in the suggestion, and Messrs. Worthington and Overman were appointed on the committee.

Needed Legislation.

To THE ADVANCE.—In days before the war when a farmer had, by hard work, earned and gained a holiday, it was his custom to take his fishing pole and tin can of worms and go to the nearest stream and catch enough fish for supper and breakfast. There was no pleasure he prized more highly than the sport of catching the fish, and there was no food so appetizing.

But times have changed. No more can the honest, hard-working farmer take time to go to the stream and catch a "mess" of good fish. The only people who get the fish now are those who use seines and hand-nets, and make fishing a business. "These things ought not so to be," we ought to look back to the old landmarks. The Legislature can pass a law which will benefit the farming people more than to enact that no person shall use a seine or hand-net in any creek or pond in North Carolina. We don't want any local bill for this purpose. We want a law which will benefit the farming people more than to enact that no person shall use a seine or hand-net in any creek or pond in North Carolina.

Will not Frank Aycock or John Woodard or Senator Connor introduce a bill to give us relief? A WAYNE COUNTY FARMER.

Woman!

"Dance your little legs, here you are, in every respect a woman!" So appeared Mother Eve, and so many since her fair descent from Eden have been made to dance in the same way. The most common sense care and proper treatment. An enormous number of female complaints are directly caused by disturbance or suppression of the Menstrual Function. In such cases that sterling and unflinching remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, will effect relief and cure. It is from the roots of the most distinguished physicians. It is composed of strictly official ingredients, whose medicinal efficacy has never been surpassed. It is the most powerful and certain of strength, certainty of effect, and purity of ingredients. Its beauty of appearance and reliability of results are its chief recommendations. It is in favor of its genuineness. It never fails when fairly tried.

BEAUTY PRESERVED!

YOUTH RENEWED! This will certify that two members of my family, my daughter and my wife, after having suffered for many years from the effects of the loss of their hair, and after having been treated by the most eminent local doctors, were at length completely cured by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Its effect in restoring the hair, its effect in restoring the complexion, and its effect in restoring the general health, are all well known to the friends of the "Woman's Best Friend."
