

THE WILSON ADVANCE.

WILSON, N. C. Jan. 24, 1889.

Brother Blount of the Mirror de- parts an address at Murfreesboro next month.

There will be services in the Dis- ciple Church on every 1st and 3rd Sunday in each month.

Wilson county Superior Court convenes on the 4th day of Febru- ary—Monday week, Judge Armfield presides.

During the past season one Win- ston merchant shipped 300,000 pounds of dried blackberries.— There were others who probably did as well.

The brick store two doors above the ADVANCE office is being fitted up for Dr. C. E. Moore, who will take possession immediately after its renovation.

The funeral services over the re- mains of Mr. George H. Griffin will take place at the residence of Mrs. M. C. Daniels, to-day at 2:45 P. M. Friends are invited to be present.

The ADVANCE notes with pleasure that Paul Branch was elected a ball manager for the commencement ball at "Chapel Hill." We always love to see "our boys" given posi- tions of distinction.

Mr. C. E. Exum, of Wilson, has taken a position with Messrs. Yonkers and Co. in that place. Mr. Exum is a clever young man and we extend to him a hearty welcome to our town.—Dunn Courier.

Mr. H. S. Nunn, of the New Bern Journal, has been appointed Collec- tor of Customs in the Pamlico dis- trict. It is rare that a plum like this drops into the mouth of a young man and we trust the ap- pointment may be confirmed by the Senate.

Mr. C. S. Arnall, Manager of the Southern Department of the Valley Mutual Life Association of Va., called to see us yesterday.— He paid the amount of Dr. A. G. Brooks' policies in full, as will be seen by a letter published in to- day's paper.

Dr. Charles E. Moore performed an operation on a poor boy, last week that reflects credit on his skill. He took a stone from the bladder of the boy that measured three quarters of an inch in diam- eter and one inch in length. The length, oval shape. The boy is now well.

The ADVANCE has secured a cor- respondent at Nashville. His first letter appears in this week's paper. We hope to give our peo- ple the news from all this section of the State, and we hope and be- lieve our readers will appreciate our efforts to give our good news- paper. See our Nashville letter.

The pastors of the respective churches in the town and others who are interested, have requested to meet at the study of Rev. D. H. Tuttle next Tuesday morning at ten o'clock to consider the feasibility of securing the services of Evangelist R. S. Parke for a series of minor meet. gs.

Dr. G. W. Levell of the Spring- hope section has formed a copart- nership with Dr. S. B. Dev of Rocky Mount, for the purpose of con- ducting their flourishing busi- ness and the practice of their profes- sion. We wish to congratulate them on their professions and wishes to their professions and wishes to the good will of those who have patronized them in the past.

The firm of Hines & Battle of Rocky Mount dissolved copartnership at the beginning of the year the business now conducted by Messrs J. W. Hines and J. C. Hales, under the firm name of J. W. Hines & Co. The two energetic, practical, and reliable business men we here wish them an increase of the generous patronage given the old firm.

The editor of the Clinton Can- asian has had some experience lately and has profited by it. He says: "The man who does not take his home paper to the man who writes the maddest, when he thinks he should put his name in the paper, and we don't. But when we put his name in he is sure to send around and ask us to give him several copies."

We are informed that the ship- ment of tobacco from Fremont this season will amount to between 150,000 and 200,000 pounds, this is second year the farmers of this section have tried the crop. Averaging the price received at twenty cents per pound (which we suppose is fair) and the total gross is about $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 dollars which has been turned loose in that section for our crop.

Our subscribers at Toisnot, Rocky Mount, Battleground, Whit- akers, Enfield, and at other pos- itions in this section, may expect a call from our Mr. C. E. Moore the next few days. He wants the amount you owe us. We need money and must have it. Don't put him off, but settle promptly. We appreciate the favor of your patronage in the past and respect- fully solicit a renewal for the present year.

We do not claim that subscribing to a newspaper is a "flesh and bone" thing, but we do say that there is much truth in the answer given to the ques- tion: "What is home without a newspaper?" as follows: "It is a place where old folks are settled into the window seat, where the children like pigs, the housewife an aboriginal savage, and the hus- band with a panorama of the Dismal Swamp painted on his shirt blouse to tobacco juice."

A handsome invitation has been received by the ADVANCE, with the compliments of the marshalle, to be present at the fifty-fourth an- nual exercises of the Elizabethan and Philanthropic Literary Societies of Wake Forest College, on Friday February 15th. The exercises will consist of a public debate at 2 p. m. on the merits of the present system of free schools in the North Carolina, and at 7 p. m. and a social gathering in the literary halls.

The following sensible and wise words are from the pen of a man who is well prepared to speak on the subject; Bro Bonitz of the Wil- mington Messenger: "When the business men of a town fail to advertise they diminish the im- portance and trade of the place and permit more enterprising localities to take it from them. Although done for their individual interest, advertisers should be looked upon by the citizens as pub- lic benefactors, and they should be encouraged accordingly."

Young man when you go to work at anything stick to it. Success comes to the one who sticks. Look around you at the successful busi- ness men and you can readily observe that their success is directly attributable to their sticking to their business. A young man once consulted an old successful busi- ness man and the answer was: "On that is a matter of little consequence. Take any line of business you like; but stick to it." And therein lies the secret of success.

Wilson Cotton Mills.

The following Board of Directors were elected for the Wilson Cotton Mills at the annual stockholders meeting held this month:

A. Branch, president; Geo. D. Green, Wiley Daniel, Warren Woodard, C. Barnes, Alex. Greene and J. A. Tynes.

"Let her Go Gallagher!"

Rocky Mount is booming with a quiet determination that means something. We understand that the business of the bank is just twice what the projects imagined it would be from the very start. Mr. Hackney will soon commence the erection of a three-story brick block of stores. As an evidence of the tone of business we stated that they are already rented. The Iron Works, have recently been enlarged in order to meet demands of their increasing business. The latest addition in the mill and knitting factory which we expect to see in operation at an early day. Veil- y, the dawn of the day of enterprise is breaking in Eastern North Caro- lina.

Prof Goodwin.

A recent issue of the Raleigh News and Observer contains the following in reference to a man the name of Wilson known as Goodwin. The Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, of our city, recently received a telegram offering him a position at a handsome salary, in the h- t department in the Missouri in- stitution for the Deaf. But he had his native State too much at heart to leave.

We are glad Prof Goodwin did not accept the offer for the State can ill afford to spare the new fresh blood of her young men that is so much needed by her. Her up to the full need of development.

THE VALLEY MUTUAL

Promptly Pays Dr. Brooks' Policy.

WILSON, N. C. Jan. 23, 1889.

Manager of the Southern Depart- ment Valley Mutual Life Associa- tion of Va., Raleigh, N. C.

DEAR SIR:—The receipt of two checks covering the full amount, Four Thousand Dollars, of the two policies on the life of the late Dr. A. G. Brooks, of Black Creek, Wil- son county, N. C., is a great grati- fication to me because the amount is paid before due, and also because one of the policies at the time of his death, although all require- ments on his part had been com- plied with, had not been delivered to him. The faithful observance of its contracts has always been one of the strong points in favor of the Valley Mutual and this payment only shows its continuance.

You are truly,

A. L. TAYLOR, Ex. of A. G. Brooks, dec'd.

"Christ Before Pilate."

From the Wilmington Messenger of the 17th inst. we take the follow- ing complimentary notice of one of Wilson's most talented ladies:

There hangs in one of the show windows of M. M. Katz's dry goods establishment in Market Street, an oil painting with the above title, from the brush of Mrs. W. H. G. Scott, of Wilson. The size of canvas is perhaps 24x30 inches, and it is as richly colored, delicate- ly sketched, and the figures in the group as clearly outlined as an artist of highest reputation. An especially noticeable and praiseworthy feature of the work is the happily conceived and clearly thought out facial expression of the large group, each face bears a strongly marked expressiveness—all of them in keeping with the Scriptural account of that momentous event in the life of Christ. Pilate, seated upon his judgment throne, is painted in a strong face, indicative of his firm purpose to render just verdict in a case that had aroused his sym- pathies and touched the finer chords of his humanity and what a fore- boding, submissive, erect manly bearing, quietly accepting accu- sations and jibes of his accusers, stands the Savior, a Divine figure in a group of maddened and mis- guided men.

The picture is for sale, the price asked being $100, at which sum it is clearly a work of art, and is executed and an excellent testimonial of the skill of the hand that painted it, and the artistic grasp of his mind that conceived it.

ADVISOR NEWS

What the people of that town are doing, saying and thinking.

EDITOR ADVANCE:— At this time the clouds are gathering, which indicate rain or snow. Yesterday very little fire was needed, so different from the patches of snow as we see per- sistent in our newspapers.

The Railroad authorities have hands here, who are busy at work throwing up another bed for track in the Southern portion of the town. It is reported that the warehouse is laid between a main track and another warehouse. It is a fine piece of work and much to the convenience of the merchants in getting their goods from the warehouse.

There was preaching on last Sunday in all the churches, and at Methodist and Episcopal churches at night. Mr. J. H. Howell, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church here and preached third Sunday in the month. Mr. Howell occupied the pulpit on last Sabbath and gave short, earnest sermons both in the morning and at night.

Mr. Jno. W. Bailey and sister,

Mrs. Lily, spent a few days this week in Raleigh. They returned Friday. Mr. Sambo Adams and Miss Jackson were married at the resi- dence of Mr. Amos Jackson Sunday morning. My best wishes attend them.

Mrs. Theo Winstead will open her school on Monday. Prof. Barnes' school opened with a very good attendance.

We learn that R. S. Wells has purchased houses and lots of Jordan Winstead in the eastern part of the town and hear that he intends erecting dwelling houses on the vacant lots. Jas. W. Taylor has purchased the J. D. Williams property and moved to it, and Mr. Jordan has bought the house and lot recently occupied by Jas. W. Taylor.

Wishing you and your readers a pleasant, profitable week, I am hap- pily,

Toisnot, N. C., Jan. 19, 1889.

NASHVILLE NOTES.

The News From Nash County Re- ported by Our Regular Correspond- ent.

The town of Nashville is now on a boom and is in quite a flourishing condition. Every dwelling house in the place is occupied, and there is still a great demand for them. There are several very pretty dwelling houses on railroad street nearly completed, which were rented out before work was begun on them.

Mr. W. B. Batchelor's two fine brick houses on the street are ready for occupation next week. They certainly improve the appear- ance of that part of our town.

About 3,000 bales of cotton have been shipped from this place this season and the supply is not ex- hausted yet as it continues to come into market every day. Our mer- chants who handle cotton are de- velopment. They pay the highest market price and as a consequence the cotton is brought to them.

Nash county farmers made a success of raising tobacco last year, not only in quantity but quality and price, we have conversed with several of them and find them well pleased with last year's crop and determined to do likewise this year. We see no reason for Nash county producing tobacco inferior to that raised in the so-called tobacco belt. The Nash county Farmers Alliance are taking steps to build a large tobacco warehouse at this place. They propose to form a stock company, the shares to be worth $25, no one person to be allowed to own over eight shares. B. H. Sorsby, the business agent of the Alliance, will open the sub- scription books in a few days. Any person whether a member of the Alliance or not, will be allowed to purchase shares. We think this is a step in the right direction, and we are satisfied that the citizens of our community will join with the Alliance in making Nashville an excellent tobacco market as well as the centre of its growth.

Rev. D. B. Brnton preached two excellent sermons at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening.

We are glad to see our genial sheriff A. H. Hicks able to be at his office attending to his duties again. He was taken quite sick while on a visit to his country home and confined to his bed several days.

W. A. Campbell Esq., one of the prominent lawyers of Mann-Arrington gold mine carried to New York last week 17 pounds of gold which the mine yielded in December. We hear that Messrs Campbell & Lyon have purchased Mr. Will. Woodard's farm near Nashville and will soon commence mining for gold on that place. These gentle- men, besides having a large amount of money invested in enterprises for uncovering Nash county's rich mineral deposits, are running a newspaper "The Enterprise" and an excellent printed, bright, newsy paper it is too, for the purpose of telling to the world something about Nash county her fertile soil, fine wood-land and rich mineral deposits. We wish them abundant success in their enterprises. Such men are great addition to any community.

The ladies of the Methodist church of this place have organized a Parsonage aid society for the purpose of raising money to furnish the Parsonage when built. The ladies of the town will have a feast Thursday night to raise some money for the Parsonage. The church owns a nice lot here but has no Parsonage, and Mr. Brnton has been appointed to leave his family in Statesville for lack of a place to live at. We wish the ladies success and hope soon to see the Parsonage completed. "BEN." Nashville, N. C. January, 22, 1889.

PTT COURT.

Judge Armfield Presided and Gave Satisfaction by His Fair and Im- partial Rulings.

I returned to-night from a trip through the country to Greenville and from thence to Snow Hill and Hookerton. There was a larger crowd in attendance on Tuesday of Court at Greenville than I have seen for the past five years. It was a subject of remark and the older heads say it is a sign of a good crop year—that it has never been known to fail. May it not fail this year, for a bountiful harvest is necessary to relieve the overbur- dened people. When a good crop is made there is no complaint about tariff, taxes, internal revenue or anything else.

Judge Armfield is a very legal looking gentleman and sits upon the bench with all the dignity of one experienced in the business. His iron gray hair and slightly bald pate, massive head and rounded figure indicate the professional man. He has a kindly manner of speak- ing and it seems that the look from his earnest eyes and the tone of his mellow, persuasive voice melts away all the embarrassment and restraint usually experienced by witnesses, so they go along with their testimony without trouble. I was especially impressed with one case in which a little colored boy was one of the witnesses. The boy was sworn and put on the stand, but the Judge stopped the Solicitor at his first question and said: "Johnnie, did you ever hear of Jesus Christ?" "Yes, sir." "And about God?" "Again an affirmative answer." "Well, what becomes of had little boys, who tell stories, when they die?" "continued the Judge. "De bad man 'gits 'em," answered the boy. "Well, you have sworn to tell the truth and the whole truth and you must do it, or he will get you" and the Judge made it so plain that even this ignorant black boy knew exactly what he was to do. The kindness, patience and manner in which Judge Armfield did this was very impressive.

The railroad is the subject of con- sideration still. It will probably be Sept. 1st before the cars get to Greenville, however, and then on to Kingston, and Jacksonville, in Onslow county.

It was my pleasure to attend a meeting of the A. & I. O. W., an order organized and maintained by the young men, Wednesday night. The meetings are all secret and to say they are amusing does not ex- ceed half. I witnessed the initiation of a new member. I would advise all the boys to join it.

Thursday night I shared the hospi- tality of Dr. E. H. Hornaday, of Willow Green, Greene county. It was indeed a pleasure to be with this cultured gentleman and his re- fined and amiable wife and child- ren. Dr. Hornaday is a thorough Christian gentleman whose heart is overflowing with the "milk of hu- man kindness." He is widely known for his skill in his profession, no less than for his broad conserva- tive ideas upon the questions of public interest.

Friday morning we drove over to Hookerton and from thence to Snow Hill. One of the enterprises of Hookerton is the Clipper, a weekly paper owned and published by Mr. S. L. Jones. He is a young man who is earnestly applying him- self and deserves the hearty sup- port of his country.

Nothing of interest in Snow Hill. The night was so pleasantly spent at the elegant home of Mr. W. H. Dail that it seems like a short sweet dream. Very reluctantly I took my departure Saturday morn- ing, inwardly praying that some gracious chance may soon waft me into the companionship of such charming people again.

I am deeply grateful to those of the ADVANCE subscribers who set- tled their subscriptions. Many of them renewed for a year in ad- vance, which was an act heartily appreciated. For the many kind and complimentary expressions the editor is under obligations to labor most earnestly and zealously to give you a good publication and I am sure your patronage is heartily appreciated.
