

THE WILSON ADVANCE

SEPHUS and C. C. DANIELS, Editors and Proprietors.

THE ADVANCE endeavors to be an honest, faithful and impartial chronicler of the news, devoting special attention to the negro...

A NORTHERN VIEW.

Mr. Chauncey M. Depew, a gifted New Yorker, has recently taken a trip through the South...

"The negro is better treated in the South than here. There is no prejudice against him as an industrial factor, but the Southerners can not give up their idea that he has not the capabilities of an American citizen."

Entered in the Post Office at Wilson, N. C., as second class mail matter.

WILSON, N. C., December 5, 1889.

There is opposition to the re-election of Senator Ingalls. As last even some people in Kansas object to being represented by this little bundle of venom and hate in the United States Senate.

SENATOR spoke a truth that is very gratifying to the people of North Carolina in his speech at Fayetteville. He said that the advancement that our State has made was the result of the work of our own people.

In the not far distant future the kingdoms of the earth with all their pageantry and splendor will crumble to the ground. In the place of these old landmarks of slavery and oppression for kingdoms are formed upon the false idea that men are born to slavishly do the bidding of other men.

The Charlotte Chronicle had a good article some time since on the contest for office and the efforts made to arouse the public to dislike men who came out boldly and honestly and asked for an office.

There is only one remedy, and that is to devise a better system of public education, and appropriate a sufficient amount of money to secure good schools, good teachers and longer terms. We can do this without setting ourselves up as beggars, whining for aid from the United States Government.

It is very pleasant to know that there are favored sections in North Carolina where the crops are good and the people are not distressed. In the all cotton districts there is a great scarcity of money crops and a doleful outlook.

The Sanford Express favors the opening of the State University to the girls and young women of North Carolina; and the State Chronicle says it is only a question of time when it will be done.

Listen to the Winston Sentinel: Col. J. A. Bittling has a cat at his residence on 5th street that is a curiosity. It was born with one leg shorter than the other.

It is amusing to watch the capers which some of the North Carolina Republicans cut as they try to slip up on the Alliance to pull salt on its tail.

HOME CHAT.

North Carolina Thought From Our Exchange.

TOADYISM A CURSE. Toadyism is the curse of this country, and we regret to say it is not free from it.

What will Gov. Fowle do next? Fellow-citizens, he's a snorter. Give him plenty of rope.—Goldsboro Mercury.

DELIGHTFUL SWITZERLAND. The cats have been banished from Switzerland. What a delightful country that must be to pass one's nights in—Wilmington Star.

WHERE IS MY SON OLIVER. What has become of our Dear Brother Oliver Dockery, since the revolution—or as the North State says, the "Republican" movement. Has Brother Dock got to Rio?—Concord Standard.

GO FORWARD YOURSELF. We trust that hereafter the solid men will go to the front, give direction to primaries, control conventions and restore the politics of the country to its long lost dignity.—New Bern Journal.

UNJUST TO THE WOMEN. North Carolina has a university for the education of her sons, but has never appropriated a dollar for the education of her daughters, except in the public schools. Is this fair?—Monroe Register.

NOT SO GREAT FAITH. The fellow who looks at the signs of the times and pretends to see anything hopeful in them for the republican party has a faith which would have made him celebrated, even in Israel.—Raidville Review.

"SEEK AND YE SHALL FIND." Gov. Hill might just as well shake that bee out of his bonnet, for as sure as Cleveland lives he will be the next President of the United States.

ANOTHER OX GORED. Learning from the Republicans, it is now announced that the Democratic legislature of Ohio will at once proceed to redistrict the State for Congressmen.

IT IS FORTUNATE FOR THE BRAZILIANS that they have Hon. Oliver H. Dockery, of North Carolina, with them at the juncture. He can show them how a republic ought to be run.

BETTER COUNTRY SCHOOLS. There is only one remedy, and that is to devise a better system of public education, and appropriate a sufficient amount of money to secure good schools, good teachers and longer terms.

HE'LL RUN IT FOR THEM. It is fortunate for the Brazilians that they have Hon. Oliver H. Dockery, of North Carolina, with them at the juncture.

PLAIN TOM'S LETTER. He Gives the News From His Section. CASTALIA, N. C. Dec. 3, '89.

EDITOR ADVANCE:—The farmers in this section have about finished housing their crops, which are the shortest ever made.

Some Pleasant to Know that there are favored sections in North Carolina where the crops are good and the people are not distressed.
