School in Which the Girls of the State are to be Trained-The Excellent Faculty That has Been Selected.

At the meeting of the Directors of the State Normal and Industrial School, which adjourned Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, the following selections were made to fill chairs in the faculty of that Institution:

Miss Gertrude W. Mendenhall, B. 5., for the chair of Mathematics. Miss Dixie Lee Bryant, B. S., Natiral Sciences.

Miss Viola Boddie, L. I., Latin and French.

Miss Miriam Bitting, M. D., Phys. cal Training. Miss Bessie Worthington, Vocal

Miss Edith A. McIntyre, Domesic Economy.

Miss Millie Fort, Industrial Art. This action of the Board has se cured a strong faculty. All those elected are Southern born women, except Miss McIntyre, who is a native of New York State, Misses Mendenhall, Boddie, and Worthington are North Carolina women. Miss Mendenhall is a Guilford county woman, the daughter of Dr. Nereus Mendenhall. She was educated at Guilford College in this State and at Wellesly College Massachusetts, from which she has her degree. She has taught six years in this State since her graduation from Wellesly-three years at Peace Institute and three at Guilford College.

Miss Bryant, after filling successfully positions in Southern Seminaries, took a regular course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and a year ago graduated with high rank from that Institution receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science. She now fills the science chair in the State Normal College of New Hampshire.

Miss Boddie is a native of Nash county and is now teaching in the Asheville Graded School. She is a graduate of the Nashville Normal College with the degree of Licentiate of Instruction. She had successful experience as a teacher before she went to Nashville and has the highest endorsement from those have employed her as a teacher since her graduation.

Dr. Miriam Bitting lives in Philadelphia but is a native of Richmond, Va. She is the daughter of Rev. Dr. C. C. Bitting, of the American Baptist Publication Board, who is well know in this State. She has had two years experience in Hospital practice and is now practicing in Philadelphia. She has peculiarly strong testimonials from the faculty of the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia, from which she grad uated, and from prominent practicing physicians. Her work in the Institution will be as instructor in Physiology and Hygiene and as general overseer of the health of the students.

Miss Fort is a graduate with honor, from the Mississippi Industrial Institute and College and has had additional training in New York. She is now a member of the faculty of Ken-

Miss Worthington belongs to a well known North Carolina family and is a graduate of the Chowan Baptist Female Institute. She is a fine musician and will come with special training in vocal culture received in this State and in New York City.

Miss McIntyre, who will have charge of the Department of Domestic Science, comes from the New York College for the Training of Teachers, country. She has done work in that

The Board assigned to President Charles D. McIver the chair of the Science, Art and History of Teaching, and Professor Edwin A. Alderman has the chair of History and English Literature.

The Board postponed action in regard to the chair of Stenography their next meeting, about the first of July. At that meeting there will, also, be selected a lady to take charge the boarding department.
