the State Except for the New Law.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5 .- It now pears as though Ohio may have inded to have gone for Grover Cleve I The State statistician in Columbus last night completed the election count upon individual Presidential lectors. It shows that Vickers, the epublican elector for the Eleventh listrict, is defeated by Seward, whose name appears first on the list of Dearocratic electors. Seward received 494,115 votes, and Vickers 402,309 It is thought the reason why Seward btained so many more votes than his Democratic fellow elector lies in the Australian ballot in use in "Ohio. To vote a straight Democratic ticket under this plan, formerly, it was nee essary only to place a cross opposite he name "Democratic ticket," at the head of the list of candidates.

This year, the law was amended to direct that the crosses for straigh tickets must be placed in circles printed for that purpose at the tops of the ballots. It was feared at first
